

Happé par la lumière du midi et ne voulant plus subir les contraintes d'aucune théorie, Matisse arrive le 16 mai 1905, pour passer l'été, dans le petit port catalan de Collioure. Là, racontera-t-il plus tard, «travaillant devant un paysage exaltant, je ne songeais qu'à faire chanter mes couleurs, sans tenir compte de toutes les règles et les interdictions». Le jeune Derain le rejoint au début de juillet. Une solide amitié se noue entre les deux hommes, engendrant une collaboration picturale d'une rare fécondité. À la fin de l'été, les deux artistes ont énormément produit. De ces quelques semaines d'intense activité naissent d'éclatants chefs-d'œuvre dont la violence et l'aspect parfois inachevé vont dérouter le public parisien. C'est le début du fauvisme, qui marquera le xx siècle.

L'exposition «Matisse-Derain : Collioure 1905, un été fauve» rassemble les œuvres faites à Collioure, et parfois terminées à Paris. Les problèmes de la couleur pure sont primordiaux dans la construction du tableau et la libération des artistes face au sujet. Les œuvres réalisées par Matisse et Derain à Collioure sont réunies et confrontées pour la première fois aux paysages encore intacts aujourd'hui, créant ainsi un événement à la fois plastique et culturel. Un travail de recherche approfondi a été effectué pour l'attribution des œuvres à Collioure. Par ailleurs, leur confrontation avec les photographies de l'époque démontre l'importance du sujet et du site de Collioure.

Vertigo of Color Dita Amory,Ann Dumas,2023-10-11 During the summer of 1905 Henri Matisse and Andr Derain went on holiday in Collioure a modest French fishing village fifteen miles from the Spanish border This groundbreaking book examines how two artists entranced by the shifting light and stunning imagery of the eastern Mediterranean laid the groundwork for the movement known as Fauvism from the French fauve or wild beast Featuring more than 70 paintings watercolors and drawings produced by Matisse and Derain during their stay the book also brings to life their personal and artistic revelations with 21 of their letters published here for the first time in English Vivid and engaging texts detail their daring experiments with color form structure and perspective the scandal their paintings caused when they were exhibited several months later and how despite the jeering remarks from critics these works changed the course of French painting Emphasizing as never before the legacy of that summer this publication shows how the two artists radical investigations galvanized their contemporaries and how this strain of modernism created almost by accident resonates even into the present day

The Black Art Renaissance Joshua I.

Cohen, 2020-07-21 Reading African art's impact on modernism as an international phenomenon The Black Art Renaissance tracks a series of twentieth century engagements with canonical African sculpture by European African American and sub Saharan African artists and theorists Notwithstanding its occurrence during the benighted colonial period the Paris avant garde discovery of African sculpture known then as art nègre or black art eventually came to affect nascent Afro modernisms whose artists and critics commandeered visual and rhetorical uses of the same sculptural canon and the same term Within this trajectory black art evolved as a framework for asserting control over appropriative practices introduced by Europeans and it helped forge alliances by redefining concepts of humanism race and civilization From the Fauves and Picasso to the Harlem Renaissance and from the work of South African artist Ernest Mancoba to the imagery of Negritude and the cole de Dakar African sculpture's influence proved transcontinental in scope and significance Through this extensively researched study Joshua I Cohen argues that art history's alleged centers and margins must be conceived as interconnected and mutually informing The Black Art Renaissance reveals just how much modern art has owed to African art on a global scale Picasso's Demoiselles Suzanne Preston Blier, 2019-12-13. In Picasso's Demoiselles, eminent art historian Suzanne Preston Blier uncovers the previously unknown history of Pablo Picasso's Les Femmes d'Alger (O.J. version O), one of the twentieth century's most important, celebrated and studied paintings. Drawing on her expertise in African art and newly discovered sources, Blier reads the painting not as a simple bordello scene but as Picasso's interpretation of the diversity of representations of women from around the world that he encountered in photographs and sculptures. These representations are central to understanding the painting's creation and help identify the demoiselles as global figures: mothers, grandmothers, lovers and sisters, as well as part of the colonial world Picasso inhabited. Simply put, Blier fundamentally transforms what we know about this revolutionary and iconic work.

Cross and neo-impressionism Henri Edmond Cross, 2011. The exhibition offers a chance to discover first of the finest works of Cross, 34 paintings, but which has never been demonstrated its influence on Matisse, who in turn will open new fields in the color. Unlike Signac, he rejoices that Matisse is one of the painters who will deepen the laws of optical mixing, not to surrender to them but to break away. If Cross was instrumental in helping Matisse explore the contribution of neo-impressionism, in turn prompted Matisse, Cross to open up to other issues, including that of the line and dare the color tones in bold. This exhibition follows on the Matisse-Derain Collioure 1905. A fawn, the Matisse Museum in 2005, 2006 was organized with the Museum of Ceret.

Matisse-Derain Dominique Szymusiak, Joséphine Matamoros, 2005. Collioure, 1905: un petit port catalan, des rues étroites, aux maisons serrées, aux toits de tuiles rouges, une vie locale haute en couleurs, rythmée par la cadence régulière des barques de pêche et le balancement des voiles sur la mer. Et autour, la nature: le vert des vignes qui tapissent les flancs des coteaux, les pins, les oliviers et les genêts. Et dans ce décor, deux artistes venus de Paris: l'un a 36 ans, l'autre 25. Pour y peindre son aise, Matisse a loué sur le quai une chambre avec vue sur la mer. André Derain l'a rejoint. Sous cette lumière blonde qui supprime les ombres, ils vont oser peindre sans la contrainte de la couleur, celle de la perspective ou du dessin, pour mieux faire chanter les paysages de Collioure. Exaltant les couleurs pures, ils laborent une nouvelle façon de peindre qui bientôt prendra le nom de fauvisme. Une véritable preuve du feu pour les deux peintres. L'été 1905 marque ainsi le début de l'art du XXe siècle.
