New Maps For Old Explorations In Science And Religion:

New Maps for Old Mary Gerhart, Allan Melvin Russell, 2016-10-06 This collection of eleven essays written jointly by the authors argues that science and religion should be seen as mutually enriching worldviews with no need of reconciliation The essays are organised in three parts which deal with the definition and development of the concept of metaphoric process and its implications for illuminating what it means to understand something the exploration of the so called bidisciplinary dialogue and the differences and similarities between studying science and religion respectively Putting God on the Map Erin Kidd, Jakob Karl Rinderknecht, 2018-09-15 Since the middle of the last century the emergence and development of fields as diverse as artificial intelligence evolutionary science cognitive linguistics and neuroscience have led to a greater understanding of the ways in which humans think One of the major discoveries involves what researchers refer to as conceptual mapping According to theories of conceptual mapping human thought is profoundly shaped by the ability to make connections Simply put human thinking is metaphorical all the way down This insight has revolutionized the way in which scientists and philosophers think about the mind body problem the formation and function of language and even the development of scientific progress itself Until recently however this research has gone largely unnoticed within Christian theology But this revolution in understanding human cognition calls for broader and richer engagement with theology and religious studies How does this new insight into human meaning making bear on our understanding of religious meaning making And how might Christian theology interpret and respond to this new understanding of the development of human thought This edited volume offers an introduction to conceptual mapping that is accessible to those with no previous knowledge of the field and demonstrates the substantial resources this interdisciplinary research has for thinking about a variety of theological questions The book begins with a chapter introducing the reader to the basics of conceptual mapping The remaining chapters apply these insights to a variety of theological topics including anthropology sacramental theology biblical studies ecumenical theology and ethics Interactive World, Interactive God Carol Rausch Albright, John R. Albright, Mladen Turk, 2017-11-06 Since the dawn of science ideas about the relation between science and religion have always depended on what else is going on in a society During the twentieth century daily life changed dramatically Technology revolutionized transportation agriculture communications and housework People came to rely on scientific predictability in their technology Many wondered whether God's supposed actions were consistent with scientific knowledge The twenty first century is bringing new scientific research capabilities They are revealing that scientific results are not totally predictable after all Certain types of interaction lead to outcomes that are unpredictable in principle These in turn may lead to a whole new range of potential interactions They do not rule out the reality of a dynamic God who can act in the world without breaking the known principles of science God may in fact work with the way things really are Human experience of God may accurately reflect this reality Interactive World Interactive God illustrates such new understandings in religion and science by describing recent developments in a wide range of sciences and providing theological commentary. The book is written for intelligent readers who may not be specialized in science but who are looking for ways to understand divine action in today's world.

Three Views on Christianity and Science Zondervan, 2021-01-12. When it comes to relating Christianity to modern Western culture, perhaps no topic is more controversial than the relationship between Christianity and science. Outside the church, the myth of a backwards anti-science Christianity is very common in popular culture and can poison the well before a fruitful dialogue can begin. Within the church, opposing viewpoints on the relationship between Christianity and science often lead to division. Three Views on Christianity and Science addresses both types of conflict. Featuring leading evangelical scholars, this book presents three primary options for the compatibility of Christianity and science and models constructive dialogue on the surrounding controversial issues. The highlighted contributors and their views are: Michael Ruse representing the Independence View. When functioning correctly, science and Christian theology operate independently of each other, seeking answers to different questions through different means. Alister McGrath representing the Dialogue View. Though the natural sciences and Christian philosophy and theology function differently, they can and should inform each other. Bruce L. Gordon representing the Constrained Integration View. Science, philosophy, and theology all contribute to our understanding of reality. Their interactions constrain each other and together present an optimally coherent and integrated picture of reality. By engaging with the viewpoints of the contributors, readers will come away with a deeper understanding of the compatibility of science and Christianity as well as of the positions of those who disagree with them. Scholars, students, pastors, and interested laypeople will be able to make use of this material in research, assignments, sermons, and lessons, evangelism, and apologetics. The Counterpoints series presents a comparison and critique of scholarly views on topics important to Christians that are both fair-minded and respectful of the biblical text. Each volume is a one-stop reference that allows readers to evaluate the different positions on a specific issue and form their own educated opinion.

Human Becoming in an Age of Science, Technology, and Faith Philip Hefner, 2022-08-23. What does it mean to be human in an age of science, technology, and faith? The ability to ask such a question suggests at least a partial answer in that, however we describe ourselves, we bear a major role in determining what we will become. In this book, Philip Hefner reminds us that this inescapable condition is the challenge and opportunity of Homo sapiens as the created co-creator. In four original chapters and an epilogue, Hefner frames the created co-creator as a memoirist with an ambiguous legacy, explores some of the roots of this ambiguity, emphasizes the importance of answering this ambiguity with symbols that can interpret it in wholesome ways, proposes a partial theological framework for co-creating such symbols, and applies this framework to the challenge of using technology like artificial intelligence and robotics to create other co-creators in our own image. Editors Jason P. Roberts and Mladen Turk have compiled eight responses to Hefner's work to honor his scholarly career and answer his call to help co-create a more wholesome future in an age of science, technology, and faith.

The Earth Is Our Home

Nelson Rivera,2016-11-14 This book demonstrates that Mary Midgley s philosophy of evolution points the way towards considering the earth as our only true home since we are products of this planet and its evolving and complex life along with every other organism From the knowledge of ourselves as knowing animals with a biological as well as a cultural history Midgley proposes the elaboration of an evolutionary epistemology that situates us firmly on the earth together with other creatures while at the same time helping us to build knowledge of the world from the complexity of the human experience I like to call this approach by a known theological analogy a view from below that is from the underside of the world from the realms of nature and history Such an approach does not begin by assuming conceptions of design or order in nature a view that we term from above although it does not rule out the possibility of teleological or metaphysical constructions of reality in the long run This down to earth approach I consider essential for any philosophy or theology that wants to take evolutionary theory seriously while committed to a proper and non dismissive assessment of religious views Tales of Faith V. Y.

Mudimbe,2016-10-06 This book explores African religious practice and its relation to African identity It takes the problem of faith as its central theme emphasizing the particular existential tensions dividing yet uniting the Christian and the African Drawing on Heidegger and Sartre it analyses these tensions underlying and creating the dialogues of hybridity or metissage

Mapping the Differentiated Consensus of the Joint Declaration Jakob Karl Rinderknecht,2016-10-12 This book uses the insights of cognitive linguistics to argue for the possibility of differentiated consensus between separated churches The Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification signed by the Lutheran World Federation and the Roman Catholic Church in 1999 represents the high water mark of the twentieth century ecumenical movement It declares that the sixteenth century condemnations related to justification do not condemn the teachings of the partner church Some critics reject the agreement arguing that a consensus that is differentiated is not actually a consensus In this book Jakob Karl Rinderknecht shows that mapping the cognitive blends that structure meaning can reveal underlying agreement within apparent theological contradictions He traces Lutheran and Catholic positions on sin in the baptized especially the Lutheran simul iustus et peccator and the Catholic insistence that concupiscence in the baptized is not sin He demonstrates that the JDDJ reconciles these positions and therefore that a truly differentiated consensus is possible Christ and Context Hilary Regan,Alan J.

Torrance,2016-10-06 There is a growing awareness of cultural diversity and plurality on the one hand and shared responsibility for our planet on the other The sense of cultural identity exposes the wealth and richness of our heritage but also introduces its risks like the proliferation of often violent independence and separatist movements A sense of shared responsibility represents the hope to avoid ecological catastrophe and highlights the problems of inequality poverty and suffering Is our understanding of cultures and contexts affected or even dramatically transformed by our perception of Christ and Trinitarian theology This series of essays addresses the issues of cultural plurality and diversity poverty sexist and racist oppression and ecological crisis and aims to discuss the place of Christ in our understanding of human contextuality Authors include Gustavo Guti rrez J rgen Moltmann Johann Metz Janet Martin Soskice and John de Gruchy Mormon Identities in Transition Douglas Davies,2016-10-06 This collection of interdisciplinary essays explores the prime concern of Mormon Studies the relationship between knowledge and spirituality and how that relationship has been defined and reinterpreted over time Beginning with an examination of the international prospects for Mormonism at the turn of the century the volume s overarching theme from sociological anthropological and theological approaches is the examination of changing Mormon identities The contributors review the expansion of Mormonism the emotional and social contexts of its historic and contemporary manifestations the distinction between Utah Mormons and the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and issues in Mormon feminism concluding with a valuable review of the sources and documents available for studying Mormonism Transformed into the Same Image Paul Copan,Michael M. C. Reardon,2024-10-15 Though the doctrine of theosis has been gaining interest among scholars for some time most have focused on Roman Catholic or Orthodox traditions In this constructive account of deification biblical scholars and theologians focus on the work of major Protestant thinkers and Protestant expressions of the doctrine Creation, Christ and Culture Richard W. A. McKinney,2016-10-06 With contributions from eminent theologians from different countries confessions disciplines and interests this volume celebrates the immense breadth and influence of T F Torrance Contributors include R E Clements Matthew Black R S Barbour Alasdair Heron Dietrich Ritschl Robert W Jenson D M MacKinnon Allan D Galloway J rgen Moltmann Noel Dermot O Donoghue Stanley L Jaki Thomas A Langford J Houston Enda McDonagh John McIntyre Eberhard J ngel Richard W A McKinney S W Sykes John Heywood Thomas Lesslie Newbigin Science and Theology Murray Rae,Hilary Regan,John Stenhouse,2016-10-06 In popular culture science and theology have often been portrayed as antagonistic Some writers have described the history of the debate in terms of a surrender by theology a retreat from the field of engagement theology has abandoned the public arena leaving all creation to science and has opted instead for the safer ground of ethics morality and personal or private belief Science and Theology advocates a constructive dialogue between the two subjects and suggests the topics where they might meet The essays in this volume were commissioned from leading figures around the world experts in their own disciplines but enthusiasts for debate at the science and theology interface They include Norma Emerton Owen Gingerich Nancey Murphy John Polkinghorne John Puddefoot and Carver T Yu They discuss natural theology the methodologies of science and theology and theology in the light of scientific discovery Their themes cover scientism divine action in the world the problem of evil freedom and determinism reductionism and humanity the limits of knowledge and chaos theory Together these essays offer a significant and positive contribution to one of the most exciting areas of modern thought The One, the Many, and the Trinity Marc A. Pugliese,2011-04-15 Process metaphysics is frequently minimized or dismissed as a result of a failure to grasp its genuine significance Developments of the last several centuries in philosophy science and physics fostered a revolution in metaphysics This book surveys the reasons for process philosophy and theology its genesis and historical development It considers Alfred Whitehead's metaphysics and Charles Hartshorne's and others' treatment of process theology The One the Many and the Trinity analyzes perhaps the most ambitious and robust system of process thought developed from a Roman Catholic perspective that of Joseph A Bracken S J Bracken brings together traditional Christian Trinitarian theism with process thought while integrating into a fundamentally Whiteheadian metaphysics a litany of diverse sources including Aristotelianism Thomism German Idealism Anglo American Idealism social theory existentialism postmodern thought and contemporary philosophy of science The book goes on to examine Bracken's process response to the problem of the one and many from a more traditional Catholic philosophical and theological perspective ABOUT THE AUTHOR Marc A Pugliese is assistant professor of theology at Brescia University PRAISE FOR THE BOOK Pugliese offers an extremely well informed careful and accurate reading of the philosophy of Joseph Bracken certainly the greatest Catholic advocate of process theology in the second half of the twentieth century With this book Pugliese has provided the most extensive reconstruction and critique of Bracken's thought yet available Philip Clayton Ingraham Professor of Theology Claremont School of Theology Theology and Conversation Jacques Haers, P. De Mey, 2003 This collection of articles presents the main contributions to the third LEST Louvain Encounters in Systematic Theology conference held at the K U Leuven's Faculty of Theology November 2001 Its theme Theology and Conversation Towards a Relational Theology continues the explorations in contemporary theology as set out in the 1997 LEST I conference on The Myriad Christ BETL 152 and in the 1999 LEST II conference on Sacramental Presence in Postmodern Context BETL 160 In LEST III also the plurality and diversity of theological approaches play a major role and the question is raised whether the contemporary theological endeavour in a global world contains in itself the tools to respectfully and constructively approach this diversity The ideas of relation and conversation as found in the theologies of the Trinity and of creation as presupposed in ecclesial praxis and as articulated in reflections that take their bearings from spiritual experience provide a powerful means for renewed theological reflection capable of confronting plurality and diversity Thinking Through Myths Kevin Schilbrack, 2003-09-02 Embracing a radical balance between myths illusory and functional status these eight outstanding essays from leading academics deconstruct problems of rationality imagination and narrative to trace the influence of myth in our own beliefs The Salt of the Earth Martyn Percy, 2016-10-06 This is a sparkling collection of essays by one of Britain's best known and acute commentators of the church scene and of contemporary religious life Martyn Percy explores new liberalism the churches and human rights in the European Union football and religion pilgrimage demonology common spirituality religious attitudes to nudity and the relationship between religion and advertising The argument running throughout this book is that despite claims and the appearance of increasing secularity the influence of religious themes and values on our everyday life remains pervasive Pope Pius XII and the Holocaust Carol Rittner, John K. Roth, 2016-10-06 This collaborative effort by a number of the world's leading experts on the Holocaust examines the question how should Vatican policies during World War II be understood Specifically could Pope Pius XII have curbed the Holocaust by vigorously condemning the Nazi killing of Jews Was Pius XII really Hitler s Pope as John Cornwell suggested Or has he unfairly become a scapegoat when he is really deserving of canonization as a saint In Pope Pius XII and the Holocaust scholars including Michael Marrus Michael Phayer Richard L Rubenstein and Susan Zuccotti wrestle with these questions The book has four main themes 1 Pope Pius XII must be understood in his particular historical context 2 Pope Pius XII put the well being of the Roman Catholic Church as he understood it first and foremost 3 In retrospect Pope Pius XII s priorities understandable though they are not only make him a problematic Christian leader but also raise important questions about post Holocaust Christian identity 4 Jewish and Christian memories of the Holocaust will remain different but reconciliation can continue to grow On all sides relations between Christians and Jews can be improved by an honest engagement with history and by continuing reflection on what post Holocaust Christian and Jewish identities ought and ought not to mean

When God Becomes Goddess Richard Grigg, 2016-10-06 In this closely argued philosophical study theologian Richard Grigg claims that faith in the United States is changing as traditional religious ideas struggle to survive in a dynamic environment Whereas a large percentage of Americans still report that they believe in God Grigg shows that this belief can no longer mean what it used to mean modern science has taken over much of the cognitive territory that used to belong to religion and uniquely contemporary problems of theodicy threaten the believer s sense that God is in fact in his heaven while all is right with the world Increasingly American religion survives only if relegated to the private sphere And yet a God that is relegated to the private sphere cannot be the God that has formed the centrepiece of the major religions of the West When God Becomes Goddess suggests that one way in which Americans may keep the traditional Western idea of God alive paradoxically is to embrace the Goddess of feminist theology Collecting a variety of feminist theologies under the rubric of enactment theology Grigg demonstrates how these theologies offer much more than a critique of patriarchy indeed her gender aside Grigg suggests that the Goddess may create an avenue through which the concept of God might be rescued from the pressing forces of secularization

How Do We Know? Dirk Evers, Antje Jackelen, Taede Smedes, 2010-04-15 A study on the relationship between science and theology with respect to epistemological differences between religious belief and scientific knowledge
