layers and archaeological wood The book clearly shows how collaboration between engineers physicists biologists and chemists and conservators of different types of materials can lead to new research in conservation science This book is crucial reading for conservators and conservation scientists as well as for technical art historians providing key methodological case studies of polychromy from different temporal and geographical contexts

The Green Middle Ages Claudine Chavannes-Mazel, Linda Ijpelaar, 2025-10-01 How green were people in late antiquity and the Middle Ages Unlike today the nature around them was approached with faith trust and care The population size was many times smaller than today and human impact on nature not as extreme as it is now People did not have to worry about issues like deforestation and sustainability This book is about the knowledge of plants and where that knowledge came from How did people use earth and plants in ancient times and what did they know about their nutritional or medicinal properties From which plants one could make dyes such as indigo woad and dyer's madder Is it possible to determine that through technical research today Which plants could be found in a ninth century monastery garden and what is the symbolic significance of plants in secular and religious literature The Green Middle Ages addresses these and other issues including the earliest herbarium collections with a leading role for the palaeography and beautiful illuminations from numerous medieval manuscripts kept in Dutch and other Western libraries and museums

The Social Life of Pots Judith A. Habicht-Mauche, Suzanne L. Eckert, Deborah L. Huntley, 2022-09-06 The demographic upheavals that altered the social landscape of the Southwest from the thirteenth through the seventeenth centuries forced peoples from diverse backgrounds to literally remake their worlds transformations in community identity and power that are only beginning to be understood through innovations in decorated ceramics In addition to aesthetic changes that included new color schemes new painting techniques alterations in design and a greater emphasis on iconographic imagery some of the wares reflect a new production efficiency resulting from more specialized household and community based industries Also they were traded over longer distances and were used more often in public ceremonies than earlier ceramic types Through the study of glaze painted pottery archaeologists are beginning to understand that pots had social lives in this changing world and that careful reconstruction of the social lives of pots can help us understand the social lives of Puebloan peoples In this book fifteen contributors apply a wide range of technological and stylistic analysis techniques to pottery of the Rio Grande and Western Pueblo areas to show what it reveals about inter and intra community dynamics work groups migration trade and ideology in the precontact and early postcontact Puebloan world The contributors report on research conducted throughout the glaze producing areas of the Southwest and cover the full historical range of glaze ware production Utilizing a variety of techniques continued typological analyses optical petrography instrumental neutron activation analysis X ray microprobe analysis and inductively coupled plasma mass spectroscopy they develop broader frameworks for examining the changing role of these ceramics in social dynamics By tracing the circulation and exchange of specialized knowledge raw materials and the pots themselves via social networks of varying size they show how glaze ware technology production exchange and reflected a variety of dynamic historical and social processes Through this material evidence the contributors reveal that technological and aesthetic innovations were deliberately manipulated and disseminated to actively construct communities of practice that cut across language and settlement groups The Social Life of Pots offers a wealth of new data from this crucial period of prehistory and is an important baseline for future work in this area Contributors Patricia Capone Linda S Cordell Suzanne L Eckert Thomas R Fenn Judith A Habicht Mauche Cynthia L Herhahn Maren Hopkins Deborah L Huntley Toni S Laumbach Kathryn Leonard Barbara J Mills Kit Nelson Gregson Schachner Miriam T Stark Scott Van Keuren Issues in Contemporary Oil Paint Aviva Burnstock,Matthijs de Keijzer,Jay Krueger,Tom Learner,Alberto de Tagle,Gunnar Heydenreich,Klaas Jan van den Berg,2014-11-10 This volume represents 27 peer reviewed papers presented at the ICOP 2013 symposium which will help conservators and curators recognise problems and interpret visual changes on paintings which in turn give a more solid basis for decisions on the treatment of these paintings The subject matter ranges from developments of paint technology working methods of individual artists through characterisation of paints and paint surfaces paint degradation vs long time stability to observations of issues in collections cleaning and other treatment issues as well as new conservation approaches
