National Practitioner Data Bank Guidebook, 1994 Islands of Agreement Gabriella Blum, 2007 We are culturally conditioned to think of war and peace in binary terms of strict opposition Correspondingly we tend to focus our attention on conflict prevention or conflict resolution But as Islands of Agreement demonstrates peace and war are seldom polar totalities but increasingly can and do coexist within the confines of a single scenario Consequently Gabriella Blum suggests that even where conflict exists we regard it as only one dimension of an ongoing multifaceted interstate relationship The result is a shift in perspective away from the constricting notions of prevention or resolution toward a more holistic approach of relationship management This approach is especially pertinent because conflicts cannot always be prevented or resolved Through case studies of long enduring rivalries India and Pakistan Greece and Turkey Israel and Lebanon Blum shows how international law and politics can function in the battlefield and in everyday life forming a hybrid international relationship Through a strategy she calls islands of agreement Blum argues that within the most entrenched and bitter struggles adversaries can carve out limited areas that remain safe or even prosperous amid a tide of war These havens effectively reduce suffering and loss and allow mutually beneficial exchanges to take place offering hope for broader accords

Arbitration, 2012 The importance of the free movement of persons and the proper functioning of the internal market in particular concerning the availability of mediation services in cross border disputes was an important point on the agenda of the European Directive 2008/52/EC of 21 May 2008 on certain aspects of mediation in civil and commercial matters The European Mediation Training for Practitioners of Justice EMTPJ is an initiative of the Association for International Arbitration AIA and supported by the European Commission It is an intensive mediation training that purports to create mediators specialized in cross border mediation This handbook is specially developed for European Mediators dealing with cross border mediations in civil and commercial matters Functional Coexistence in Socio-Political Conflict Tatsushi

Arai, Margarita Tadevosyan, 2025-01-31 This book introduces the concept of functional coexistence as a context for building practical strategies for long term conflict intervention and social change Functional coexistence is a pragmatic relationship of mutual non recognition sustained in the absence of physical violence In this volume a team of internationally recognized scholar practitioners of peacebuilding presents seven in depth case studies of functional coexistence expanding its potential for practical conflict intervention Bridging theory to evidence and vision to practice the book offers guideposts for sustained conflict intervention presents compelling examples of peace potential within the context of functional coexistence and identifies common pathways for change among them It also proposes a customized framework for program evaluation and highlights the merit of long term policymaking and funding Instead of losing hope based on traditional expectations of conflict resolution and reconciliation this pioneering study of conflict non resolution demonstrates the power of tenacious pragmatism strategically guided by a decades long historical view of social change This book will be of interest to students of conflict resolution peacebuilding international relations foreign policy and security studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license Shifting Protracted Conflict Systems Through Local Interactions

Tamra Pearson d'Estrée, 2023-12-29 This volume explores the evolution of theoretical and practical approaches to intervening in protracted conflicts following the work of Herb Kelman Interactive problem solving as developed by Kelman and others sought to increase understanding about the microprocesses of international relations Kelman early on emphasised the centrality of an interactive approach for constructing new identities new narratives and new ways forward Transforming conflict systems requires strategic attention to the interactions between agents of change that provide stability or induce shift This volume on interactive conflict approaches includes both critical reflections and new ideas from scholar practitioners who have developed revised and expanded these approaches Contributors take up important issues from the shape and likelihood of solutions in intractable conflicts to how individuals can exist in realities with seemingly irresolvable inner and outer conflicts The volume represents the best of current thinking about how the mechanisms theoretical framework and application of interactive problem solving should be moved into the twenty first century context of increasing complexity increasing uncertainty and increasing polarisation This book will be of interest to students of peace studies conflict resolution and international relations Local Peacebuilding and National Peace Christopher R. Mitchell, Landon E. Hancock, 2012-05-03 Local Peacebuilding and National Peace is a collection of essays that examines the effects of local peacebuilding efforts on national peace initiatives The book looks at violent and protracted struggles in which local people have sought to make their own peace with local combatants in a variety of ways and how such initiatives have affected and have been affected by national level strategies Chapters on theories of local and national peacemaking are combined with chapters on recent efforts to carry out such processes in war torn societies such as Africa Asia and South America with essays contributed by experts who were actually actively involved in the peacemaking process With its unique focus on the interaction of peacemaking at local and national levels the book will fill a gap in the literature It will be of interest to students and researchers in such fields as peace studies conflict resolution international relations postwar recovery and development
