Resolving The Security Dilemma In Europe The German Debate On Non Offensive Defence

Jurgen Brauer, William G. Gissy

Resolving The Security Dilemma In Europe The German Debate On Non Offensive Defence:

Resolving the Security Dilemma in Europe Bjørn Møller, 1991 For the first time since the beginning of the Cold War more than 40 years ago the political determinants of military security in Europe are changing much more quickly than the technological ones Non offensive defence is now a more acceptable strategy than it was before and this book points towards realistic solutions to the problems of excessive dependence on nuclear weapons and or self defeating offensive force structures The ideas examined are especially important for British and American audiences since the Anglo Saxon countries are the ones most wedded to NATO orthodoxy and therefore the slowest to react to the current wave of change

Non-Offensive Defence for the Twenty-First Century Bjorn Moller, 2019-03-11 This anthology constitutes an attempt to take stock of the debate on non offensive defence after the Cold War providing information on a research project that was initiated in 1985 at the Centre for Peace and Conflict Research in Copenhagen Concepts of Non-Provocative Defence G. Wiseman, 2001-12-18 This book examines the viability of non provocative defence the controversial idea that defensive military policies and practices reduce the risk of wars and provide a viable basis for defending a society should war break out Drawing on case studies from Europe the 1991 Persian Gulf War and Asia Pacific the author concludes that non provocative defence concepts remain relevant and that they can help in deterring conducting and settling wars

Resolving the Security Dilemma in the Gulf Region Bjørn Møller, 1997 Defensive Restructuring of the Armed Forces in Southern Africa Bjørn Møller, Gavin Cawthra, 2019-01-15 Published in 1997 the work explores the reorientation of security policies and the accompanying restructuring of the armed forces going on in Southern Africa under entirely new circumstances Democracy has come to South Africa the civil wars in Angola and Mozambique have ended and the region is establishing a regional framework for cooperation While covering the entire region a special focus is placed on South Africa which is predestined to play a leading role but which is struggling with the legacy of the apartheid regime and its repeated aggressions against neighbouring states A defensive restructuring of the South African of the South African military is an element in the building of mutual trust The implications of such defensive restructuring to a non offensive defence are described in detail In addition to the analytical contribution the work also contains central documents and a bibliography

Security, Arms Control and Defence Restructuring in East Asia Bjørn Møller, 2019-01-22 First published in 1998 this volume examines East Asia especially Northeast Asia which has been a region of considerable political security of importance for several key reasons It features several great and medium powers China Japan and Russia as well as North and South Korea Even though no arms race is yet discernible among these states with the partial exception of the two Koreas it is conceivable that one might commence If it did the level of militarization could become quite alarming if only because of the tremendous and rapidly growing economic potential of the regional states Even though relations among regional sates except the two Koreas are currently peaceful the region features several unresolved issues e g concerning territory and a historical legacy of enmity between several states To prevent such conflicts of interest from erupting into armed conflict is of the utmost importance A stabilizing factor is that the military potentials in the region are still predominantly defensively oriented i e most states lack the requisite power projection or invasion capabilities to inflict serious harm on each other However this might change in the not so distant future Hence the importance of confidence building measures of an institutionalization of regional relations and of a strengthening of commitments to defensive military strategies and postures

Contemporary Security Analysis and Copenhagen Peace Research Stefano Guzzini, Dietrich Jung, 2003-12-25 This book examines the development of peace research and explores its present challenges focusing on the contribution made by the Copenhagen Peace Research Institute The authors investigate how peace research relates to security studies and international relations providing a comprehensive study of conceptual innovations and a discussion of security studies

The National Security of Small States in a Changing World Efraim Inbar, Gabriel Sheffer, 2013-09-13 The first part of this book is primarily devoted to analysing the impact of the system of international relations on the fortunes of small states The second part discusses the question what changes in the national strategy of small states are necessary in view of the new international system The authors of this volume come from various parts of the world and espouse differing outlooks Nevertheless they were able to coalesce around a similar theme in an effort to contribute to the international understanding of the special challenges that confront the world's small states

Contemporary Security Studies Alan Collins, 2025

Security Expertise Trine Villumsen Berling, Christian Bueger, 2015-04-10 This volume brings together scholars from different fields to explore the power consequences and everyday practices of security expertise Expertise mediates between different forms of knowledge scientific and technological legal economic and political knowledge This book offers the first systematic study of security expertise and opens up a productive dialogue between science and technology studies and security studies to investigate the character and consequences of this expertise In security theory the study of expertise is crucial to understanding whose knowledge informs security making and to reflect on the impact and responsibility of security analysis In science and technology studies the study of security politics adds a challenging new case to the agenda of research on expertise and policy The contributors investigate cases such as academic security studies security think tanks the collaboration between science anthropology and the military transnational terrorism and the ethical consequences of security expertise Together they challenge our understanding of how expertise works and what consequences it has for security politics and international relations This book will be of particular interest to students of critical security studies sociology science and technology studies and IR security studies in general

European Security Bjørn Møller, 2016-04-22 Europe has undergone quite profound changes since the end of the Cold War Having been a highly militarised conflict ridden and war ridden region the core of Europe today constitutes a security community where armed conflicts among the constituent states has become inconceivable This comprehensive book offers a theoretically founded and thoroughly documented analysis of European security with a special emphasis on the role played by the United Nations and the various regional and sub regional organisations especially the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation the Organisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe the Council of Europe and the European Union When it comes to explaining peace in Europe opinions differ widely Some argue that it was only because the West refused to give in to Soviet threats that the latter eventually gave up or that the long peace in Europe was due to the combination of a bipolar alliance structure pitting the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation NATO against the Warsaw Pact with the presence of nuclear weapons on both sides Others point instead to the extraordinarily dense network of international institutions and organisations in Europe offering a wide panoply of fora in which to handle disputes peacefully or to the web of interdependence in economic and other affairs tying together all states in Europe in relations which militate strongly against war Still others believe that the external peace between the states in Europe is simply a reflection of a convergence of cultures democracies with marked economies that are open towards the world market These questions are the focal point of this book which concentrates on security albeit not in the sense of being a treatise on military matters but security obtainable by much more indirect and non military means It will be required reading for all students and scholars of European security and the organisations which underpin it

The Economics of Conflict and Peace Jurgen Brauer, William G. Gissy, 2017-07-05 This work addresses new directions in research on the economic theory of conflict the cost of war and the benefits of peace A collection of 17 papers drawing on contributors from all continents the volume is divided into four sections The first discusses novel ways to think about the economics of conflict and peace from theory perspectives These include discussions of conflict from the perspectives of standard neoclassical analysis and economic geography An especially interesting paper in this section addresses conflict in the context of the emerging theory of international public finance A second section deals with military expenditures economic human development and economic growth in the US and developing nations of Asia and Africa The volume enters new territory in sections three and four Section three contains a set of papers on the economic cost of war and war s aftermath significantly expanding economists rather modest efforts to date Section four is concerned with how the concepts of economics might be operationalized and institutionalized to foster security

Security Barry Buzan, Ole Wæver, Jaap de Wilde, 1998 Sets out a comprehensive framework of analysis for security studies examining the distinctive character and dynamics of security in five sectors military political economic environmental and societal It rejects traditionalists case for restricting security in one sector arguing that security is a particular type of politics applicable to a wide range of issues and offers a constructivist operational method for distinguishing the process of securitization from that of politicization Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Alternative Conventional Defense Postures In The

European Theater Hans G. Brauch, Robert F. Jr. Kennedy, 2018-10-24 First published in 1993 This volume edited jointly by the American strategic expert Robert Kennedy and the German peace researcher Hans Giinter Brauch takes up conceptual ideas developed by Horst Afheldt and Carl Friedrich von Weizsacker as well as others on both sides of the Atlantic since the 1960s Our aim has been to contribute to the development of concepts that would reduce the danger of a third world war by the creation of more stable structures in the context of a defensively oriented conventional defense posture In this volume a variety of alternative approaches to European conventional defense driven for the most part by similar strategic considerations are presented by German and American experts to a larger international audience Nonoffensive Defense

Unidir United Nations Institute For Disarmament Research, 2021-01-26 This book first published in 1990 examines the theories on nonoffensive or nonprovocative defence that arose at the end of the Cold War The debate around the theories is analysed here including the claims that nonoffensive defence would lead to conventional stability security at lower levels of armaments and reduce suspicion leading to peace and stability Current Bibliographical Information Dag

Hammarsskjöld Library, 1992 Security and Environment in the Mediterranean Hans Günter Brauch, Peter H. Liotta, Antonio Marquina, Paul F. Rogers, Mohammad El-Sayed Selim, 2012-12-06 In this volume security specialists peace researchers environmental scholars demographers as well as climate desertification water food and urbanisation specialists from the Middle East and North Africa Europe and North America review security and conflict prevention in the Mediterranean They also analyse NATO s Mediterranean security dialogue and offer conceptualisations on security and perceptions of security challenges as seen in North and South The latter half of the book analyses environmental security and conflicts in the Mediterranean and environmental consequences of World War II the Gulf War the Balkan wars and the Middle East conflict It also examines factors of global environmental change population growth climate change desertification water scarcity food and urbanisation issues as well as natural disasters Furthermore it draws conceptual conclusions for a fourth phase of research on human and environmental security and peace as well as policy conclusions for cooperation and partnership in the Mediterranean in the 21st century The New Agenda for Peace Research Hon-Won Jeong, 2019-01-04 First published in 1999 this volume analyses the conditions related not only to physical violence but also to domination sustained by cultural norms development practice and environmental policies Peace research can be established as an integrative project by developing a conceptually coherent map which helps to reveal the locations and sources of violence examine strategies to deal with them and illuminate structural transitions to a non hierarchical world order The themes in various chapters of this book can be submerged under the disciplinary goal of peace research which links the management and prevention of violent conflicts to non violent structural transformations The Future of the United Nations System Chadwick F. Alger, 1998 What does the future hold for the UN In this book twenty two scholars from all continents contribute twelve chapters that cover prevention of violence creating economic and social structures that sustain human fulfilment sharing and protecting the commons and peace education The search for future potential based on experience in these twelve laboratories leads to sixty six recommendations for new institutions and programs on issues that include controlling weapons humanitarian intervention collaboration between UN peacekeepers and NGOs human rights economic policies advancement of women refugees ecological security communications and peace education These recommendations are brought together in a concluding chapter and summarized in the appendix Most of the recommendations do not require amendments to the UN Charter or to the treaties establishing the UN Specialized Agencies Instead their implementation would require creative efforts of Member States secretariats NGOs and dedicated individuals that are pointed toward attainment of multilateral capacity for coping with an array of global problems that increasingly threaten the quality of human life This is stimulating reading for anyone who wants to be challenged to think creatively about the potential for coping with a growing array of global problems
