Brian Glenney

Seeing Doing And Knowing A Philosophical Theory Of Sense Perception:

Seeing, Doing, and Knowing Mohan Matthen, 2005 This book is a philosophical treatment of sense perception and examines the work of cognitive neuroscientists Its central theme is the task oriented specialization of sensory systems across the biological domain This text includes theories of perceptual similarity content and realism Provided by publisher The Oxford Handbook of Philosophy of Perception Mohan Matthen, 2015-07-02 The Oxford Handbook of Philosophy of Perception is a survey by leading philosophical thinkers of contemporary issues and new thinking in philosophy of perception It includes sections on the history of the subject introductions to contemporary issues in the epistemology ontology and aesthetics of perception treatments of the individual sense modalities and of the things we perceive by means of them and a consideration of how perceptual information is integrated and consolidated New analytic tools and applications to other areas of philosophy are discussed in depth Each of the forty five entries is written by a leading expert some collaborating with younger figures each seeks to introduce the reader to a broad range of issues All contain new ideas on the topics covered together they demonstrate the vigour and innovative zeal of a young field The book is accessible to anybody who has an intellectual interest in issues concerning perception The Senses and the History of Philosophy Brian Glenney, José Silva, 2019-02-21 The study of perception and the role of the senses have recently risen to prominence in philosophy and are now a major area of study and research However the philosophical history of the senses remains a relatively neglected subject Moving beyond the current philosophical canon this outstanding collection offers a wide ranging and diverse philosophical exploration of the senses from the classical period to the present day Written by a team of international contributors it is divided into six parts Perception from Non Western Perspectives Perception in the Ancient Period Perception in the Medieval Latin Arabic Period Perception in the Early Modern Period Perception in the Post Kantian Period Perception in the Contemporary Period The volume challenges conventional philosophical study of perception by covering a wide range of significant as well as hitherto overlooked topics such as perceptual judgment temporal and motion illusions mirror and picture perception animal senses and cross modal integration By investigating the history of the senses in thinkers such as Plotinus Auriol Berkeley and Cavendish and considering the history of the senses in diverse philosophical traditions including Chinese Indian Byzantine Greek and Latin it brings a fresh approach to studying the history of philosophy itself Including a thorough introduction as well as introductions to each section by the editors The Senses and the History of Philosophy is essential reading for students and researchers in the history of philosophy perception philosophy of mind philosophical psychology aesthetics and eastern and non western philosophy It will also be extremely useful for those in related disciplines such as psychology religion sociology intellectual history and cognitive sciences The Oxford Handbook of Philosophy of Cognitive Science Eric Margolis, Richard Samuels, Stephen P. Stich, 2012-02-23 This volume offers an overview of the philosophy of cognitive science that balances breadth and depth with chapters covering every aspect of the psychology and cognitive anthropology The Oxford Handbook of the Philosophy of Consciousness Uriah Kriegel, 2020-07-10 The Oxford Handbook of the Philosophy of Consciousness provides the most comprehensive overview of current philosophical research on consciousness Featuring contributions from some of the most prominent experts in the field it explores the wide range of types of consciousness there may be the many psychological phenomena with which consciousness interacts and the various views concerning the ultimate relationship between consciousness and physical reality It is an essential and authoritative resource for anyone working in philosophy of mind or interested in states of consciousness

Sensory Individuals Aleksandra Mroczko-Wąsowicz, Rick Grush, 2023 Sensory Individuals Unimodal and Multimodal Perspectives provides an interdisciplinary well balanced and comprehensive look at different aspects of unisensory and multisensory objects using both nuanced philosophical analysis and informed empirical work The research presented in this book represents the field's progression from treating neural sensory processes as primarily modality specific towards its current state of the art according to which perception and its supporting neural processes are multimodal modality independent meta modal and task dependent Even within such approaches sensory stimuli properties brain activations and corresponding perceptual phenomenology can still be characterized in a modality specific way The book examines the basic building blocks of human perception and whether they are best understood as sensory modality dependent units of different forms or multimodal perceptual objects The book combines a variety of innovative and integrative angles to explore the topic and acts as a catalyst for an increasingly diverse field of research which is in an exciting phase of growth and advancement New questions are arising as quickly as they are being answered and the collection Sensory Individuals provides an original and up to date addition to the field

Reasons and Empty Persons: Mind, Metaphysics, and Morality Christian Coseru, 2023-02-22 Best known for his groundbreaking and influential work in Buddhist philosophy Mark Siderits is the pioneer of fusion or confluence philosophy a boldly systematic approach to doing philosophy premised on the idea that rational reconstruction of positions in one tradition in light of another can sometimes help address perennial problems and often lead to new and valuable insights Exemplifying the many virtues of the confluence approach this collection of essays covers all core areas of Buddhist philosophy as well as topics and disputes in contemporary Western philosophy relevant to its study They consider in particular the ways in which questions concerning personal identity figure in debates about agency cognition causality ontological foundations foundational truths and moral cultivation Most of these essays engage Siderits work directly building on his pathbreaking ideas and interpretations Many deal with issues that have become a common staple in philosophical engagements with traditions outside the West Their variety and breadth bear testimony to the legacy of Siderits impact in shaping the contemporary conversation in Buddhist philosophy and its reverberations in mainstream philosophy giving readers a clear sense of the remarkable scope of his work

A Pluralist's Guide to Solving Molyneux's Problem Brian Glenney, 2024-12-31 This book presents a novel pluralist strategy for answering

Molyneux's 300 year old conundrum Would a person born blind but given sight identify a shape previously known only by their touch The author interweaves historical scholarship with contemporary philosophical work and empirical research on animal infant and adult human perception The author argues that we need a new approach to Molyneux's problem because we do not know what the problem is really about and it is untestable because a Molyneux subject cannot be physically realized He criticizes Molyneux's question for its simplistic taxonomy of the blind that groups significant individual differences into a singular ontology Research in the cognitive sciences confirms that various kinds of blindness can co occur such as ocular cortical and psychological blindness Therefore the author adopts an explanatory pluralism for answering Molyneux's problem which includes no yes and no answer answers according to the domain of inquiry being used This account provides a research based answer to a long standing problem using previously unheeded insights particularly from animal crossmodal perception studies to retell a more complex story of perception its levels of explanation and integration A Pluralist's Guide to Solving Molyneux's Problem will be of interest to researchers and advanced students working in comparative psychology epistemology history of philosophy philosophy of perception

Model-Based Reasoning in Science and Technology Lorenzo Magnani, Claudia Casadio, 2016-07-01 This book discusses how scientific and other types of cognition make use of models abduction and explanatory reasoning in order to produce important or creative changes in theories and concepts It includes revised contributions presented during the international conference on Model Based Reasoning MBR 015 held on June 25-27 in Sestri Levante Italy The book is divided into three main parts the first of which focuses on models reasoning and representation It highlights key theoretical concepts from an applied perspective addressing issues concerning information visualization experimental methods and design The second part goes a step further examining abduction problem solving and reasoning The respective contributions analyze different types of reasoning discussing various concepts of inference and creativity and their relationship with experimental data In turn the third part reports on a number of historical epistemological and technological issues By analyzing possible contradictions in modern research and describing representative case studies in experimental research this part aims at fostering new discussions and stimulating new ideas All in all the book provides researchers and graduate students in the field of applied philosophy epistemology cognitive science and artificial intelligence alike with an authoritative snapshot of current theories and applications of model based reasoning

Self-Experience Manuel García-Carpintero, Marie Guillot, 2023 Self Experience explores some of the questions running through the ongoing debate on the putative subjective dimension of experience surveys various domains of human experience where a sense of self might be at play and offers insights into the possible relations between the notions of subjective awareness involved

Consciousness Christopher S. Hill, 2009-10-22 This book presents a comprehensive theory of consciousness The initial chapter distinguishes six main forms of consciousness and sketches an account of each one Later chapters focus on phenomenal consciousness consciousness of and introspective consciousness In discussing phenomenal consciousness Hill develops the representational theory of mind in new directions arguing that all awareness involves representations even awareness of qualitative states like pain He then uses this view to undercut dualistic accounts of qualitative states Other topics include visual awareness visual appearances emotional qualia and meta cognitive processing This important work will interest a wide readership of students and scholars in philosophy of mind and cognitive science

Deep Mediations Karen Redrobe, Jeff Scheible, 2021-03-09 The preoccupation with depth and its relevance to cinema and media studies For decades the concept of depth has been central to critical thinking in numerous humanities based disciplines legitimizing certain modes of inquiry over others Deep Mediations examines why and how this is as scholars today navigate the legacy of depth models of thought and vision particularly in light of the surface turn and as these models impinge on the realms of cinema and media studies The collection s eighteen essays seek to understand the decisive but evolving fixation on depth by considering the term s use across a range of conversations as well as its status in relation to critical methodologies and the current mediascape Engaging contemporary debates about new computing technologies the environment history identity affect audio visual culture and the limits and politics of human perception Deep Mediations is a timely interrogation of depth s ongoing importance within the humanities Contributors Laurel Ahnert Taylor Arnold U of Richmond Erika Balsom King s College London Brooke Belisle Stony Brook University Jinhee Choi King s College London Jennifer Fay Vanderbilt U Lisa Han UC Santa Barbara Jean Ma Stanford U Shaka McGlotten Purchase College SUNY Susanna Paasonen U of Turku Finland Jussi Parikka U of Southampton Alessandra Raengo Georgia State U Pooja Rangan Amherst College Katherine Rochester VIA Art Fund in Boston Karl Schoonover University of Warwick UK Jordan Schonig Michigan State U John Paul Stadler North Carolina State U Nicole Starosielski New York U Lauren Tilton U of Richmond

anyone studying psychology and its related disciplines Empiricisms Barry Allen, 2021 Empiricisms is about the value of experience and experiments Why do we esteem them and what is their contribution to knowledge The work is unique in the detail with which it explains empiricism from its beginning in ancient medicine to its emergence as a philosophy of modern science It elucidates the ideas of the so called radical empiricists clarifying their relation to historical empiricism and explaining what is radical about them and develops a comparison between European empiricism and ideas and practice in traditional China Bringing China into the argument is an unexpected innovation and makes the work a model for comparative philosophy Immortal Souls Edward Feser, 2024-09-04 Immortal Souls provides as ambitious and complete a defense of Aristotelian Thomistic philosophical anthropology as is currently in print Among the many topics covered are the reality and unity of the self the immateriality of the intellect the freedom of the will the immortality of the soul the critique of artificial intelligence and the refutation of both Cartesian and materialist conceptions of human nature Along the way the main rival positions in contemporary philosophy and science are thoroughly engaged with and rebutted Reviews Edward Feser's book is a Summa of the nature of the human person it is therefore both a rather long but brilliant monograph and a valuable work for consultation Each of the human faculties discussed is treated comprehensively with a broad range of theories considered for and against and although Feser's conclusions are firmly Thomistic one can derive great benefit from his discussions even if one is not a convinced hylomorphist Every philosopher of mind would benefit from having this book within easy reach Howard Robinson Professor Emeritus of Philosophy Central European University Feser defends the Aristotelian and Thomistic system effectively bringing it into dialogue with recent debates and drawing on some of the best of both analytic Kripke Searle Bonjour Fodor and phenomenological Heidegger Merleau Ponty Dreyfus philosophy He deftly rebuts objections to Thomism both ancient and modern Anyone working today on personal identity the unity of the self the semantics of cognition free will or qualia will need to engage with the analysis and arguments presented here Robert C Koons Professor of Philosophy University of Texas at Austin The Innocent Eye Nico Orlandi, 2014-07-01 Why does the world look to us as it does Generally speaking this question has received two types of answers in the cognitive sciences in the past fifty or so years According to the first the world looks to us the way it does because we construct it to look as it does According to the second the world looks as it does primarily because of how the world is In The Innocent Eye Nico Orlandi defends a position that aligns with this second world centered tradition but that also respects some of the insights of constructivism Orlandi develops an embedded understanding of visual processing according to which while visual percepts are representational states the states and structures that precede the production of percepts are not representations If we study the environmental contingencies in which vision occurs and we properly distinguish functional states and features of the visual apparatus from representational states and features we obtain an empirically more plausible world centered account Orlandi shows that this account accords well with models of vision in perceptual psychology such as Natural Scene Statistics and Bayesian approaches to perception and outlines some of the ways in which it differs from recent enactive approaches to vision. The main difference is that although the embedded account recognizes the importance of movement for perception it does not appeal to action to uncover the richness of visual stimulation. The upshot is that constructive models of vision ascribe mental representations too liberally, ultimately misunderstanding the notion. Orlandi offers a proposal for what mental representations are that following insights from Brentano, James and a number of contemporary cognitive scientists appeals to the notions of de coupleability and absence to distinguish representations from mere tracking states.

The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Colour Derek H. Brown, Fiona Macpherson, 2020-09-27

From David Hume's famous puzzle about the missing shade of blue to current research into the science of colour, the topic of colour is an incredibly fertile region of study and debate cutting across philosophy of mind, epistemology, metaphysics and aesthetics as well as psychology. Debates about the nature of our experience of colour and the nature of colour itself are central to contemporary discussion and argument in philosophy of mind and psychology and philosophy of perception. This outstanding Handbook contains 29 specially commissioned contributions by leading philosophers and examines the most important aspects of philosophy of colour. It is organized into six parts: The Importance of Colour to Philosophy, The Science and Spaces of Colour, Colour Phenomena, Colour Ontology, Colour Experience and Epistemology, Language, Categories and Thought.

The Routledge Handbook of Philosophy of Colour is essential reading for students and researchers in philosophy of mind and psychology, epistemology, metaphysics and aesthetics as well as for those interested in conceptual issues in the psychology of colour.

The Social Science of Hayek's The Sensory Order William N. Butos, 2010-03-04

Examines the relevance and significance of Hayek's cognitive psychology for economics and social science.

Theories of Consciousness William Seager, 2016-02-12

Despite recent strides in neuroscience and psychology that have deepened understanding of the brain, consciousness remains one of the greatest philosophical and scientific puzzles. The second edition of Theories of Consciousness: An Introduction and Assessment provides a fresh and up to date introduction to a variety of approaches to consciousness and contributes to the current lively debate about the nature of consciousness and whether a scientific understanding of it is possible. After an initial overview of the status and prospects of physicalism in the face of the problem of consciousness, William Seager explores key themes from Descartes, the founder of the modern problem of consciousness. He then turns to the most important theories of consciousness: identity theories and the generation problem, higher order thought theories of consciousness, self-representational theories of consciousness, Daniel Dennett's theory of consciousness, attention-based theories of consciousness, representational theories of consciousness, conscious intentionality, panpsychism, neutral monism. Thoroughly revised and expanded throughout, this second edition includes new chapters on animal consciousness, reflexive consciousness, combinatorial forms of panpsychism and neutral monism as well as a significant new chapter on physicalism, emergence and consciousness. The book's broad scope, depth of coverage and focus on key philosophical positions and arguments make it an indispensable text for those teaching or studying philosophy of mind and psychology. It is also an excellent resource for those working in related fields such as cognitive science and the neuroscience of consciousness.

Colour Studies Wendy Anderson, Carole P. Biggam, Carole Hough, Christian Kay, 2014-11-15. This volume presents some of the latest research in colour studies by specialists across a wide range of academic disciplines. Many are represented here including anthropology, archaeology, the fine arts, linguistics, onomastics, philosophy, psychology, and vision science. The chapters have been developed from papers and posters presented at the Progress in Colour Studies PICS12 conference held at the University of Glasgow. Papers from the earlier PICS04 and PICS08 conferences were published by John Benjamins as Progress in Colour Studies 2 volumes 2006 and New Directions in Colour Studies 2011 respectively. The opening chapter of this new volume stems from the conference keynote talk on prehistoric colour semantics by Carole P. Biggam. The remaining chapters are grouped into three sections: colour and linguistics, colour categorization, naming and preference, and colour and the world. Each section is preceded by a short preface drawing together the themes of the chapters within it. There are thirty-one colour illustrations.
