

The book cover features a dark purple background with a white grid pattern that creates a sense of depth, receding towards a central point. On the left side, a series of overlapping, tilted rectangular images are arranged in a perspective that follows the grid lines. These images show various scenes: a group of people, a close-up of a person's face, and other indistinct figures. In the center-right of the cover, there is a circular inset containing a close-up of a human eye, looking directly forward.
