Cultural Exchange in German Literature Eleoma Joshua, Robert Vilain, 2007 The influence of foreign cultures on German literature and other cultural productions since the 18th century The Edinburgh German Yearbook is devoted to German Studies in an international context It publishes original English and German language contributions on a wide range of topics from scholars around the world Each volume is based on a single broad theme the first includes papers from the highly successful conference Kennst du das Land Cultural Exchange in German Literature held in Edinburgh in December 2006 supplemented by additional essays The conviction that German culture and the German spirit are triumphantly unique has played a notorious role in Germany's history It is nonetheless acknowledged that German literature has been significantly influenced by non German sources and the search for what is unique about Germany and German literature must incorporate an awareness of these This volume provides a wide ranging investigation into how German literature from the 18th century to the present day reflects interactions between German and non German cultures Alongside theoretical and historical reflections on the nature of cultural exchange contributions explore literary reception the boundaries of and movement between cultures and Germany's literary political cultural and religious relations with both near neighbors and far flung cultural interlocutors Contributors Christian Moser Birgit Tautz Silvia Horsch Eleoma Joshua Gauthi Kristmannsson Sabine Wilke Daniela Krümer Jon Hughes Thomas Martinec Margaret Litter Lyn Marven Dirk Göttsche Susanne Kord Eleoma Joshua is Lecturer in German at Edinburgh University Robert Vilain is Professor of German and Comparative Literature at Royal Holloway University of London The journal's General Editor is Sarah Colvin Professor of German at Edinburgh University

Generational Shifts in Contemporary German Culture Laurel Cohen-Pfister, Susanne Vees-Gulani, 2010 The concept of the generation in today's German culture and literature and its role in German identity In the debates since 1945 on German history and culture the concept of generations has become ever more prominent Recent and ongoing shifts in how the various generations are seen and see themselves in relation to history and to each other have taken on key importance in contemporary German cultural studies The seismic events of twentieth century German history are no longer solely first generational lived experiences but are also historical moments seen through the eyes of successor generations The generation seen as a category of memory thus holds a key to major shifts in German identity The changing generational perspectives of German writers and filmmakers not only reflect but also influence these trends exposing both the expected differences between generational views and unexpected continuities Moreover as younger artists reframe recent history older generations like the 1968ers are also contributing to these shifts by reassessing their own experiences and cultural contributions This volume of new essays applies current discourse on generations in German culture to contemporary works dealing with major sociohistorical events since the Nazi period Contributors Svea Br unert Laurel Cohen Pfister Friederike Eigler Thomas C Fox Katharina Gerstenberger Erin McGlothlin Brad Prager Ilka Rasch Susanne Rinner Caroline Schaumann Maria Stehle Reinhild Steingr ver Susanne Vees Gulani Laurel Cohen Pfister is Associate Professor of German at Gettysburg College and Susanne Vees Gulani is Assistant Professor of German and Comparative Literature at Case Western Reserve University Berlin - The Symphony Continues Carol Anne Costabile-Heming, Rachel J. Halverson, Kristie A. Foell, 2013-02-18 The sudden fall of the Berlin Wall is one of the defining images of the late twentieth century The subsequent unification of Germany and the decision to return Berlin to its status as capital has made the constant changes within the city a matter of public interest It also offered Berlin the opportunity to create a new image for itself one that can serve as a counterbalance to the politically charged recent history of Berlin as the capital of Nazi Germany and former East Berlin as the capital of the German Democratic Republic Poised between capitalist Western Europe and the former communist powers in Eastern Europe Berlin occupies a fascinating geopolitical space This anthology presents a unique glimpse into the various constituencies that make up Berlin and that impact the city s challenges and promises The Cambridge Companion to the Literature of Berlin Andrew Webber, 2017-03-09 This book provides an informative overview of literary developments in Berlin since 1750 with more detailed readings of exemplary key texts Turkish Guest Workers in Germany Jennifer A. Miller, 2018-01-01 Turkish Guest Workers in Germany tells the post war story of Turkish guest workers whom West German employers recruited to fill their depleted ranks Jennifer A Miller s unique approach starts in the country of departure rather than the country of arrival and is heavily informed by Turkish language sources and perspectives Miller argues that the guest worker program far from creating a parallel society involved constant interaction between foreign nationals and Germans These categories were as fluid as the Cold War borders they crossed Miller s extensive use of archival research in Germany Turkey and the Netherlands examines the recruitment of workers their travel initial housing and work engagements social lives and involvement in labour and religious movements She reveals how contrary to popular misconceptions the West German government attempted to maintain a humane foreign labour system and the workers themselves made crucial often defiant decisions Turkish Guest Workers in Germany identifies the Turkish guest worker program as a postwar phenomenon that has much to tell us about the development of Muslim minorities in Europe and Turkey s ever evolving relationship with the European Union Imagining Europe: Memory, Visions, and Counter-Narratives Lars Klein, Martin Tamcke, 2015 In the course of the so called economic and financial crisis from 2008 onwards there has been a fierce debate about the role and purpose of the European Union It was led in politics and the media just as in academia The economic usefulness of the Euro has been discussed and the political implications of a fostered European unification Most often the state of Europeanization has been presented as being without alternatives no Europe without Greece no Euro without Greece no way back to the nation state in its old form As a result the debate on Europe was largely narrowed down to the very questions of the immediate crisis namely economics and finance Only a few voices held that the crisis in fact was one of politics not of economics And only late did politicians mention again that Europe is more than the EU Alternative views of Europe however were scarce and often presented full of consequences It thus came without much surprise that the lacking imaginative power of politicians as well as intellectuals was criticized The idea for this volume sprang from that situation The editors invited scholars from various disciplines to present them with ways of imagining Europe that go beyond the rather limited view of EU institutions How was how is Europe imagined Which memories are evoked which visions explicated Which counter narratives to prominent discourses are there

Baltic Peripeties Eckhard Schumacher, Cordelia Heß, 2025-07-14 In Aristotle's Poetics the well constructed turning point peripeteia makes a story by unfolding its tragic or more broadly literary potential But neither narrative nor historical turning points occur in empty spaces Given the power of the peripety for plot making this volume inquires about its agency in the shaping of specific regions Narration matters for the constitution of events and regions alike space matters as a key element for the construction of plots and their dynamics The Baltic Sea region with its rich literary and cultural traditions and multiple overlapping layers of historical ruptures is a particularly fruitful area for exploring transformation processes from a narratological point of view

Studies on Cinematography and Narrative in Film: Sequels, Serials, and Trilogies Seçmen, Emre Ahmet, 2024-07-18 Visual continuity in sequels poses a daunting challenge for filmmakers as they strive to maintain coherence while expanding upon established narratives and visual aesthetics With cinema's evolution audiences expectations have grown more sophisticated demanding seamless transitions and immersive experiences across film series However achieving this continuity requires a delicate balance between honoring the original work and introducing innovative elements to captivate viewers Addressing this complication is the book Studies on Cinematography and Narrative in Film Sequels Serials and Trilogies which emerges with a comprehensive approach By delving into the interplay between cinematography and narrative structure this book offers invaluable insights for filmmakers seeking to navigate the complexities of sequel production Through meticulous analysis of prominent film series and theoretical frameworks it provides a roadmap for achieving visual coherence while pushing creative boundaries

The Persistence of Racialization Luz Angélica Kirschner, 2024-10-18 The Persistence of Racialization Literature Gender and Ethnicity represents an attempt at unpacking the legacy of modern ideas of race initiated and established during the conquest of the Americas and their current relevance for literary criticism of ethnic writing also known as minority writing The book challenges ideas of a post racial globalized world to question the tendency to devalue ethnic literary writing in general and ethnic women's productions in particular by questioning reductive literary criticism of ethnic writing that perpetuates bias against ethnic writing and its authors By advocating for a decolonial literary imagination the book urges literary critics of ethnic writing to consider the complexities of modern race and its enduring impact on contemporary social and cultural narratives Updated literary analyses of Jewish Argentine Turkish German and Chinese American women writers encourage literary critics of ethnic writing to explore alternative transnational frameworks that prioritize equity diversity and social justice

The Novel in German since 1990 Stuart Taberner, 2011-09-01 Diversity is one of the defining characteristics of contemporary German language literature not just in terms of the variety of authors writing in German today but also in relation to theme form technique and style However common themes emerge the Nazi past transnationalism globalisation migration religion and ethnicity gender and sexuality and identity This book presents the novel in German since 1990 through a set of close readings both of international bestsellers including Daniel Kehlmann's Measuring the World and W G Sebald's Austerlitz and of less familiar but important texts such as Yad Kara's Selam Berlin Each novel discussed in the volume has been chosen on account of its aesthetic quality its impact and its representativeness the authors featured among them Nobel Prize winners G nter Grass Elfriede Jelinek and Herta M ller demonstrate the energy and quality of contemporary writing in German

Modern European Borders in Fiction Andrew Hammond, 2025-09-18 There are few features of the contemporary world more significant than national and regional borders In modern Europe the practices of human division have defined the continent from the early years of the Cold War to the present barriers of Fortress Europe whose exposure of irregular migrants to trafficking discrimination and deportation is rarely absent from the daily news Modern European Borders in Fiction offers a comprehensive study of literary responses to the topic Through reference to over 600 novels and short stories Andrew Hammond analyses the wide ranging engagement of post 1945 novelists with the ideologies processes and effects of territorialisation as well as the related issues of military conflict migration populism nationalism and regionalism Among the topics under study are the ideological divisions of the Cold War the closed societies of totalitarian communism the labour migrations of the 1950s and 1960s the tightening of border controls from the 1970s the twenty first century war on migration the official restrictions on borderland communities the conflicts in Bosnia Georgia and Ukraine and the patterns of social segregation that have marked the continent from the Second World War to the present Drawing on theoretical work in the social sciences and the humanities this is a ground breaking contribution to European literary studies establishing the importance of continental border writing and opening up fresh avenues for decolonised teaching and research

Germany in Transit Deniz Göktürk, David Gramling, Anton Kaes, 2007-04-03 Publisher description

Remembering 1989 Anke Pinkert, 2024-10-07 This account of the laboratory of radical democracy in the months before East Germany's absorption in the West challenges memories of Germany's reunification For many 1989 is an iconic date one we associate with the fall of the Berlin Wall and the end of the Cold War The year prompts some to rue the defeat of socialism in the East while others celebrate a victory for democracy and capitalism in the reunified Germany Remembering 1989 focuses on a largely forgotten interregnum the months between the outbreak of protests in the German Democratic Republic in 1989 and its absorption by the West in 1990 Anke Pinkert who herself participated in those protests recalls these months as a volatile but joyous laboratory of radical democracy and tells the story of how and why this time out of joint has been erased from Germany's national memory Remembering 1989 argues that in order to truly understand Germany's historic transformation we must revisit protesters' actions across a wide range of minor vernacular and often transient sources Drawing on rich archives including videotapes of untelevised protests illegally printed petitions by Church leaders audio recordings of dissident meetings and interview footage with military troops Pinkert opens the discarded history of East European social uprisings to new interpretations and imagines alternatives to Germany's neoliberal status quo The result is a vivid unexpected contribution to memory studies and European history The New German Jewry and the European Context Y. Bodemann, 2008-06-30 Departing from the recent critical literature on the emergence of a new German Jewry this volume proposes a new perspective on the post 1980s phenomenon of re-emerging Jewish culture in Germany as a case study for wider developments in Europe and the international context Domestic Disputes Necia Chronister, 2021-02-08 Domestic Disputes is the first monograph in German studies to offer a critical examination of the home ownership crisis in the former East Germany that resulted from unification policy taking as its focus news media made for television movies cinematic releases and prose fiction that depict property disputes between former East and West Germans In the cultural productions discussed in this book anxieties about social disenfranchisement through unification policy are dramatized in narratives in which Westerners acquire or attempt to acquire property in the former East Germany Each chapter addresses a different type of narrative that has emerged to frame those anxieties including those of neocolonial Western takeover the engagement with difficult family histories masculinity crises in the West and the corporatization of home Domestic Disputes is the first book length study to outline the way in which homes were awarded to individuals and families as the former East Germany privatized and to offer in depth examinations of the narratives that emerged from that social phenomenon New Perspectives on Imagology, 2022-11-14 With this volume the editors Katharina Edtstadler Sandra Folie and Gianna Zocco propose an extension of the traditional conception of imagology as a theory and method for studying the cultural construction and literary representation of national usually European characters Consisting of an instructive introduction and 21 articles the book relates this sub field of comparative literature to contemporary political developments and enriches it with new interdisciplinary transnational intersectional and intermedial perspectives The contributions offer 1 a reconsideration and update of the field's methods genres and theoretical frames 2 trans post national migratory and marginalized perspectives beyond the European nation state 3 insights into geopolitical dichotomies such as Orient Occident 4 intersectional approaches considering the entanglements of national images with notions of age class gender sexuality and ethnicity race 5 investigations of the role of national images in visual narratives and music Polish Countryside in Transition Wioletta Knapik, Tomasz Masłyk, Katarzyna Zajda, Łukasz Trembaczowski, 2025-07-14 Today's quality of life in the Polish countryside is intertwined with residents' social capital resources. To describe the matter comprehensively and suggest potential trends, the authors examine in four chapters critical socioeconomic issues that have shaped selected dimensions of the rural quality of life in Poland. In addition to the description of Polish rural areas before and after accession to the European Union: 1 the level and standards of living in the countryside identified in the study is presented; 2 The social capital of the Polish rural population; 3 and the changes in the quality of life in the Polish countryside from the perspective as perceived by local leaders are also described in detail; 4 Transitions, 2016-08-29 This volume introduces ten emerging voices in German language literature by women. Their texts speak to the diverse modalities of transition that characterise society and culture in the twenty-first century, such as the adaptation to evolving political and social conditions in a newly united Germany, globalisation, the dissolution of borders, and the changing face of Europe. Dramatic shifts in the meaning of national, ethnic, sexual, gender, religious, and class identities, rapid technological advancement, and the revolutionary power of new media, which in turn have radically altered the connections between public and private, personal and political. In their literature, the authors presented here reflect on the notion of transition and offer some unique interventions on its meaning in the contemporary era. Contemporary Migration Literature in German and English Sandra Vlasta, 2015-10-14 Up until now, migration literature has primarily been defined as texts written by migrant authors, a definition that has been discussed, criticised, and even rejected by critics and authors alike. Very rarely has migration literature been understood as literature on the topic of migration, which is an approach this book adopts by presenting a comparative analysis of contemporary texts on experiences of migration. By focusing on specific themes and motifs in selected texts, this study suggests that migration literature is a sub-genre that exists in both various bodies of literature as well as various languages. This book analyses English and German texts by authors such as Monica Ali, Dimitr Dinev, Anna Kim, Timothy Mo, Preethi Nair, Caryl Phillips, Hamid Sadr, and Vladimir Vertlib, among others.
