honeymoon in Kenya's Happy Valley but murder crashes the party in this all new installment in the New York Times bestselling series I was so excited when Darcy announced out of the blue that we were flying to Kenya for our extended honeymoon Now that we are here I suspect he has actually been sent to fulfill another secret mission I am trying very hard not to pick a fight about it because after all we are in paradise Darcy finally confides that there have been robberies in London and Paris It seems the thief was a member of the aristocracy and may have fled to Kenya Since we are staying in the Happy Valley the center of upper class English life we are well positioned to hunt for clues and ferret out possible suspects Now that I am a sophisticated married woman I am doing my best to sound like one But crikey These aristocrats are a thoroughly loathsome sort enjoying a completely decadent lifestyle filled with wild parties and rampant infidelity And one of the leading lights in the community Lord Cheriton has the nerve to make a play for me While I am on my honeymoon Of course I put an end to that right off When he is found bloodied and lifeless along a lonely stretch of road it appears he fell victim to a lion But it seems that the Happy Valley community wants to close the case a bit too quickly Darcy and I soon discover that there is much more than a simple robbery and an animal attack to contend with here in Kenya Nearly everyone has a motive to want Lord Cheriton dead and some will go to great lengths to silence anyone who asks too many questions The hunt is on I just hope I can survive my honeymoon long enough to catch a killer

A Walk with Love and Death Hans Koning,2012-01-01 During the plague year of 1358 Heron a French student decides to walk to the sea and then to seek passage to England His journey symbolizes freedom as he turns his back on both the ruling oligarchy and the peasant armies forming all over Europe He travels through a chaotic wasteland where armies clash for unknown reasons where the barren countryside is plagued by robbers and warlords He meets death destruction and famine before finally finding Claudia the daughter of a medieval lord Heron s quest stemming from a desire to create an ideal world out of a violently cruel one leads him through despair and danger before delivering him to love Originally published in 1961 A Walk with Love and Death was the third novel by Hans Koning Koningsberger and was directed as a film by John Huston in 1969 Hawaiian idylls of Love and Death Herbert Henry Gowen,2020-09-28 Kaneakama was as handsome a young fellow as you could have found on the eight islands neither unknown to war nor unskilled in divination and the learning of the priests But he had one vice he was an inveterate gambler And here he sat in his grass hut on the slopes of the Olukui feeling as miserable as any wretch of to day who had squandered his patrimony at Monte Carlo for he had been playing maika the whole day long and luck had been against him at every throw The devil he thought must have been in the smooth black stones throw as he might they would not go straight Yes they were certainly bewitched And now he had nothing to call his own but one little pig everything was lost Why did he not stake the pig you ask Ah Kaneakama had asked himself that question many a time that evening but had each time repelled the very thought as a temptation For he had dedicated this pig to his Aumakua or tutelary divinity and with all his faults he was too pious to break his vows to the gods So although happy thus far in the possession of a good conscience he nursed his grief until the kind divinities sent their messenger sleep welcome to all men everywhere And as Kaneakama slept he had a wonderful vision The song of a bird broke upon his ear then the sweet sounds transformed themselves into an aura of radial light and in the light he beheld the loveliest form he had ever seen It was that of a young girl but Kaneakama s first impression was that it was some glorious bird for he wanted to get up and throw a mat across the door lest she should fly away Her black hair fell in a great shadow behind her like a pair of wings no chief arrayed for battle had feather cloak so rich in orange and scarlet as that which clung to her perfect form from throat to shapely knee Her eyes too even in the bright aura which encircled her shone like stars in the night Kaneakama gazed he knew not how long and when he came to himself he was only conscious of having received a command from the goddess for such indeed was his adorable visitant to take his dedicated pig and stake it as he had done the rest You see the gods and goddesses of ancient Hawaii had rather backward ideas regarding the morality of gambling However Kaneakama is not to be blamed for this He did as his divinity had told him and now if the ill luck of his former experience had been surprising still more so was the turn of fortune which seemed to pour riches into his lap He went home from that day s maika playing a rich man but remembering the source of his wealth he determined to dedicate one half of it to the service of the goddess and to build a temple where she might dwell and receive his worship This he did and no sooner was the temple so far completed that it only lacked its central idol than once more the vision of the Aumakua broke in upon his sleep This time there was no doubt about the voice It was as sweet to hear as the vision was to see Go to the king O Kaneakama it said tell him that the akua wish to dwell in the temple made by man in the shadow of his court Power shall be his if he will shelter them Let him send warriors with their axes and knives to the top of Maunaloa Out of the wood let them hew me an image and this shall be my shrine in the heiau you have built and you O Kaneakama shall be my high priest worshipper and lover of Kalaipahoa terrible to mortals When Kaneakama awoke he hastened to obey the command and the king was pleased to hear of the honours in store Three hundred men were chosen and these carrying besides their weapons great folds of kapa for the venom of the poison goddess was a thing to be dreaded set out on their march Kaneakama commissioned by the king went before them as a guide to the spot designated in his sleep As they marched they recalled all they had heard of the poison goddess how she had come from an unknown land to Molokai and had made her home on Maunaloa There so it was said the earth was burnt and blackened and the birds fell dead as they flew over it It was moreover the dwelling place of Laamaomao the god of the winds and at any moment a strong spirit of the air might break loose from the calabash of the god and hurl the intruders afar into the Paiolo Channel

Love and Death in the American Novel

Leslie A. Fiedler,1997 No other study of the American novel has such fascinating and on the whole right things to say

Washington Post Love Valley Conrad Eugene Ostwalt,1998 Love Valley is a small town in rural North Carolina Its genesis in 1954 marked the fulfillment of a dream for founder Andy Barker. Barker cultivated two visions as a young man: he wanted to build a Christian community and he wanted to be a cowboy. The result of his vision is Barker's utopian experiment. The town boasts a saloon, general store, hitching posts, and rodeos. Yet above all of this stands a little church, the heart of what Barker conceived as his Christian utopia. This unique combination has led to more than forty years of philanthropic ventures, controversial events such as the Love Valley Rock Festival, stories and legends, and political ambition. Love Valley, An American Utopia captures the history of this town in narrative form while arguing that Love Valley's founders were motivated by utopian goals.

Communication, Love, and Death in Homer and Virgil Stephen Ridd, 2017-08-24. Homer's Iliad and Odyssey and Virgil's Aeneid are three of the most important and influential works of Western classical literature. Although they differ in subject matter and authorship, these epic poems share a common purpose: to tell the deeds both of men and of the gods. Written in an accessible style and ideally suited for classroom use, Communication, Love, and Death in Homer and Virgil offers a unique comparative analysis of these classic works. As author Stephen Ridd explains, the common themes of communication, love, and death respond to deeply ingrained human needs and are therefore of perennial interest. Presenting select passages from the original Greek and Latin texts translated here into modern English, Ridd explores in detail how the characters within the poems communicate on these subjects with one another as well as with the reader. Individual chapters focus on subjects such as the traditions of singing and storytelling, relationships between sons and mothers, the role of Helen of Troy, and her ties to the men in her life and communication with the dead. Throughout his analysis, Ridd treats the three poems on an equal basis, revealing similarities and differences in their handling of prevalent themes. By introducing readers to a new way of reading these abiding classics, Communication, Love, and Death in Homer and Virgil enhances our appreciation of the imaginative world of ancient Greek and Roman epic poetry.

In a city blasted by a civil war that many fear will cross borders and engulf Europe, a conflict one writer will call the decisive thing of the century, six people meet and find their lives changed forever. Ernest Hemingway's career stalled, his marriage sour, hopes that this war will give him fresh material and new romance. Martha Gellhorn, an ambitious novice journalist hungry for love and experience, thinks she will find both with Hemingway in Spain. Robert Capa and Gerda Taro, idealistic young photographers based in Paris, want to capture history in the making and are inventing modern photojournalism in the process. And Arturo Barea, chief of Madrid's loyalist foreign press office and Ilsa Kulcsar his Austrian deputy are struggling to balance truth telling with loyalty to their sometimes compromised cause a struggle that places both of them in peril Hotel Florida traces the tangled wartime destinies of these three couples against the backdrop of a critical moment in history As Hemingway put it You could learn as much at the Hotel Florida in those years as you could anywhere in the world From the raw material of unpublished letters and diaries official documents and recovered reels of film Amanda Vaill has created a narrative of love and reinvention that is finally a story about truth finding it out telling it and living it whatever the cost Poems of Love and Death Lady Caroline Blanche Elizabeth Fitzroy Lindsay, Lady Lindsay (Caroline Blanche Elizabeth), 1907
