Love And Longing:

Love's Longing Donna Goddard, 2017-11-24 Somewhere along the way there develops within the soul a yearning that can no longer be ignored a craving for the great love affair It is incomparable It is the love affair with our own true nature and the source from which it comes The desire is in all of us but more often than not it is ignored for other interests Human love is the shadow of the Great love and of all loves it is romantic love which has the most riveting effect upon our soul It is not by accident that it has such an unfailing pull on our psyche If we cannot connect with visible human love we will not be able to find the invisible Love Human love is leading us most of us unknowingly straight to Love s secret way which is no secret at all

Longing and Letting Go Holly Hillgardner, 2017 Can we love God and others without our desires eclipsing the very beauty integrity and diversity toward which we are drawn that is can we love without trying to possess Spanning centuries continents and religious traditions Longing and Letting Go looks to Christian writer Hadewijch and Hindu songstress Mirabai to explore their inextricable practices of longing and letting go and more particularly the interreligious possibilities of passionate non attachment for an interconnected pluralistic world powerful books in the English language Julian's message of God's intimate and enabling love is revealed as both beguiling and inescapable. The poetry and rhythmic structure of the original Middle English are respected and her earthy and direct style is still discernible. Julian's key ideas and her unique system of thought are expertly introduced by a brief commentary at the head of each chapter together with further informative footnotes and a detailed glossary. Julian of Norwich was born sometime in December 1342 and probably lived until around 1430. We do not know the exact dates of her birth and death or even her real name but we do know the exact date of her Revelation 8th May 1373. Julian lived as an anchorite a hermit walled up in a couple of rooms propped up against the walls of St Julian's Church in Conesford Street Norwich following a strict religious life. The tradition of English mysticism was at its height in the late fourteenth century and Julian's own writing can be seen as part of this development in spirituality. A mystic has a heightened awareness of the presence of God and through this receives direct tangible communication from Him. Julian's message is that this does not mean the mystic is an extraordinary person set apart from the rest of us rather there is a mystic in all of us if only we will attend. All our common calling in this life is to come to know God and experience the touchings of His love. There can be no doubt that Lady Julian is the greatest of the English mystics. Thomas Merton John Skinner is well known as a writer and lecturer on spirituality with a special interest in the English mystics. Formerly a journalist with The Times he was a Jesuit for thirteen years. It was while he was still a novice that he found Julian's mystical writing setting in process a lifelong relationship with Julian's mystical path. He is the author of Hear Our Silence a popular study of the English Carthusians informed by the experience of living within a Carthusian community and Sounding the Silence an exploration of ways to engage with the intense experience of silence in prayer both books are also published by Gracewing. Revelations of Divine Love Julian (of Norwich), 2015. Julian of Norwich is one of the subtlest writers and profoundest thinkers of the Middle Ages and the earliest woman writer in English. Her Revelations describe a loving and merciful God and a positive vision of humanity. This sensitive new translation conveys the poise and serenity of her style and includes the two versions of her text. Love Songs and Other Poems ... common mentor Schopenhauer are those fundamental to modernity. Bratton Polka makes use of the critical distinction that Kierkegaard draws between Christianity and Christendom. Christianity represents what Nietzsche calls the faith that is presupposed in unconditionally willing the truth in saying yes to life. Christendom in contrast represents the bad faith of nihilism in saying no to life. Polka then shows that Wagner in following Schopenhauer represents Christendom with the demonstration in his operas that life is nothing but death and death is nothing but life. In other words the purpose of the will for Wagner is to annihilate the will since it is only in and through death that human beings are liberated from life as willfully sinful. Nietzsche in contrast is consistent with the biblical concept that existence is created from nothing from nothing that is not made in the image of God that any claim that the will can will not to will is contradictory and hence false. For not to will is in truth still to will nothing. There is then Nietzsche shows no escape from the will. Either human beings will the truth in saying yes to life as created from nothing or in truly willing nothing they say no to life in worshipping the God of Christendom who is dead.

Love is a Fire Llewellyn Vaughan-Lee, 2001-07-15. Based on live talks and meetings with Llewellyn Vaughan-Lee, this is an introduction to the passion and wisdom of the Sufi path of love. The call of the heart and how it draws us back to divine union is one of mankind's greatest secrets and for the Sufi this love is a fire that burns away all traces of separation. Vaughan-Lee teaches how to live this burning and describes stages of the path of love on the soul's journey home. Love Is a Fire includes descriptions of the friends of God, early Sufi saints who burned with the fire of divine love including Rumi, Ibn Arabi and Rabi'a. It also introduces elements of the path and important tools that purify the wayfarer: tauba, the moment of the turning of the heart when the soul remembers its divine origin; dhikr, the central Sufi practice of remembrance of God through repetition of the name of God or a sacred phrase; meditation, a way of drowning thoughts in the fire of love and dreamwork, a way of listening and attuning to the mystery of what is hidden within us; the stories of our deeper selves. This book is also available as an audio recording Love is a Fire and I am Wood published by Sounds True, forged in the fire of the heart. This is a book for all those who are looking for the direct way to connection with the Eternal Now. Simply to read this
