Picasso's Woman A Story Of Breast Cancer:

Picasso's Woman Rosalind MacPhee, Pulling, Barbara, 1994 Elijah Pauline Comeau, Rosalind MacPhee, Barbara Pulling, 1993-01-01 Picasso's Woman Rosalind MacPhee, 1996 With a lean ironic narrative style MacPhee chronicles how her diagnosis and treatment of breast cancer affected every part of her life What You Need to Know about Breast Cancer Pat Kelly, Mark Levine, 1999 Breast cancer continues to occur at the alarming rate of 1 in 8 American women and 1 in 9 Canadian women Survival rates are improving however and four out of five women diagnosed with breast cancer are alive 5 years after their cancer is discovered Written with honest and compassion this book serves to enlighten and empower women with breast cancer and those who care about them by providing knowledge about all aspects of the disease What You Need to Know About Breast Cancer shows women who have been diagnosed with breast cancer how to take an active part in better understanding their diagnosis treatment and healing A Darker Ribbon Ellen Leopold, 2000-10-17 The first cultural history of breast cancer this book examines the social attitudes and medical treatments that together defined the modern relationship between women with the disease and their doctors At the heart of the book are two unpublished correspondences one between Barbara Mueller a woman diagnosed with breast cancer eighty years ago and her surgeon William Stewart Halsted father of the radical mastectomy and the other between Rachel Carson who was writing Silent Spring as she was battling breast cancer and her personal physician George Crile Jr Reconstructing Illness Anne Hunsaker Hawkins, 1999 Serious illness and mortality those most universal unavoidable and frightening of human experiences are the focus of this pioneering study which has been hailed as a telling and provocative commentary on our times As modern medicine has become more scientific and dispassionate a new literary genre has emerged pathography the personal narrative concerning illness treatment and sometimes death Hawkins's sensitive reading of numerous pathographies highlights the assumptions attitudes and myths that people bring to the medical encounter One factor emerges again and again in these case studies the tendency in contemporary medical practice to focus primarily not on the needs of the individual who is sick but on the condition that we call disease Pathography allows the individual person a voice one that asserts the importance of the experiential side of illness and thus restores the feeling thinking experiencing human being to the center of the medical enterprise Recommended for medical practitioners the clergy caregivers students of popular culture and the general reader Reconstructing Illness demonstrates that only when we hear both the doctor's and the patient's voice will we have a medicine that is truly human Women's Health in Canada Marina Morrow, Olena Hankivsky, Colleen Varcoe, 2008-05-03 In recent years healthcare professionals have recognized the distinctly different healthcare needs and concerns of men and women Women's health in particular has come into its own in the last two decades In Canada however there has been little available in the way of a general text on women's health This volume works toward filling that gap by providing a resource for teaching and understanding women's health in this country To lay out the methodological and theoretical foundations for their study editors Olena Hankivsky Marina Morrow and Colleen Varcoe bring together an interdisciplinary group of scholars and practitioners from economics anthropology sociology nursing political studies women s studies and psychology Contributors draw on the rich history of the Canadian women s health movement providing analysis of that history and of the emergent theory policy and practice Aimed at undergraduate and graduate students as well as practitioners the collection adopts an intersectional approach looking closely at social factors such as gender race ethnicity class sexuality and gender identity and analysing how they relate both to each other and to women s health Connections between the social economic and cultural contexts of women s lives and their physical spiritual and mental well being are a primary focus Providing a much needed resource for teachers students and practitioners of women s health in Canada this comprehensive volume makes an important contribution to the literature

Pragmatic Women and Body Politics Margaret Lock, Patricia Alice Kaufert, 1998-01-29 This thought provoking volume compares the responses of women in a variety of countries and cultural settings to modern medical technologies The contributors describe how women in East Africa deal with infertility how American women respond to pre natal diagnostic screening how women in China and Japan choose to make use of reproductive technologies The essays also explore wider themes such as the emergence of the breast cancer movement and how women confront environmental hazards which threaten them and their families It is often assumed that women are passive in the face of biomedical technology but this book shows that they make pragmatic choices with responses ranging from acceptance to rejection or indifference The reception of biomedical technology is situated in its local cultural contexts and vital issues of women s health are related to political and ethnic concerns

The Wounded Breast Evelyne Accad, 2001 A moving journey through the experience of breast cancer including the different approaches and treatments

The Public Shaping of Medical Research Peter Wehling, Willy Viehöver, Sophia Koenen, 2014-11-27 Patient organizations and social health movements offer one of the most important and illuminating examples of civil society engagement and participation in scientific research and research politics Influencing the research agenda and initiating funding and accelerating the development of diagnostic tools effective therapies and appropriate health care for their area of interest they may champion alternative sometimes controversial programs or critique dominant medical paradigms Some movements and organizations advocate for medical recognition of contested illnesses as with fibromyalgia or ADHD while some attempt to de medicalize others such as obesity or autism Bringing together an international selection of leading scholars and representatives from patients organizations this comprehensive collection explores the interaction between civil society groups and biomedical science technology development and research politics It takes stock of the key findings of the research conducted in the field over the past two decades and addresses emerging problems and future challenges concerning the interrelations between health movements and patient organisations on the one hand and biomedical research and research policies on the other hand Combining empirical case studies with conceptual discussion the book discusses how public participation can contribute to as well as restrict the democratization of scientific knowledge production This volume is an important reference for academics and researchers with an interest in the sociology of health and illness science and technology studies the sociology of knowledge medical ethics or healthcare management and research as well as medical researchers and those involved with health related civil society organizations
