Respectable Citizens Better Catholics:

The American Catholic Historical Researches, 1904 Good Citizens James Grant Greenlee, Charles Murray Johnston, 1999 Draws on archival material to chart the complex and often contradictory reactions of leading British missionary organizations to changing imperial realities around the globe during the late 19th and early 20th centuries Explores pressures that contributed to the formation of imperial policy during a significant period of the evolution of the British empire and shows that the leadership of British missionary societies was split between those who wanted to be treated without favoritism by the British government and those who had more aggressive expectations Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Catholics and Evangelicals for the Common Good Ronald J. Sider, John Borelli, 2018-11-07 For centuries evangelical Protestants and Catholics have hurled harsh epithets at each other But that has changed dramatically in the last forty years In 1960 many prominent evangelicals opposed John Kennedy for president because he was a Catholic Today Catholics and evangelicals work together on many issues of public policy This book records one important process in this transformation In 2004 the board of The National Association of Evangelicals NAE the largest representative body of evangelicals in the US unanimously approved For the Health of the Nation as the official public policy document for its public policy efforts representing 30 million evangelicals When scholars read this new ground breaking document they quickly realized there was widespread agreement between the NAE s official public policy document and the official public policy positions of American Catholics The result was a series of annual meetings held at Georgetown University and Eastern University that brought together prominent Catholic and Evangelical scholars and public policy specialists to explore the extent of the common ground This book reports on that dialogue and its contribution to the increasing Catholic evangelical cooperation Making Good Citizens Diane Ravitch, Joseph P. Viteritti, 2008-10-01 divAmericans have reason to be concerned about the condition of American democracy at the start of the twenty first century Surveys show that civic participation has declined cynicism about government has increased and young people have a weak grasp of the principles that underlie our constitutional system Crucial questions must be answered How serious is the situation What role do schools play in shaping civic behavior Are current education reform initiatives such as multiculturalism and school choice counterproductive How can schools contribute toward reversing the trend This volume brings together leading thinkers from a variety of disciplines to probe the relation between a healthy democracy and education Their original and provocative discussions cut across a range of important topics the cultivation of democratic values the formation of social capital in schools and communities political conflict in a pluralist society the place of religion in public life the enduring problems of racial inequality Gathering together the most current research and thinking on education and civil society this is a book that deserves the attention of everyone who cares about the quality and future of American democracy DIV Hansard's Parliamentary Debates Great Britain.
