Responsibility And Evidence In Oral Discourse:

Responsibility and Evidence in Oral Discourse Jane H. Hill, 1993-06-03 In Responsibility and evidence in oral discourse twelve prominent linguists and linguistic anthropologists examine responsibility authority and knowledge central but problematic concepts in contemporary anthropology Their detailed case studies analyze diverse forms of oral discourse everyday conversation conversational narrative song oratory divination and ritual poetry in societies in the Americas Africa Asia and the Pacific The studies show how speakers attribute responsibility for acts and states of affairs how particular forms of language and discourse relate to claims and disclaimers of responsibility and how verbal acts are themselves social acts subject to such attributions The volume challenges those cognitive theorists who locate responsibility for the meaning of verbal acts solely in the intentions of individual speakers Instead the contributors focus on the production of meaning between speakers and audiences in particular social and cultural contexts through dialogue and interaction which mediate between linguistic forms and their interpretations This landmark volume will serve for years to come as a point of reference in the study not only of responsibility and evidence but of reported speech authorship and other phenomena in the social life of language Besides linguistic and cultural anthropologists linguistics and folklorists it will interest also readers from pragmatics legal studies sociology religion and social psychology

Dramatic Discourse Vimala Herman, 2005-06-20 Whilst poetry and fiction have been subjected to extensive linguistic analysis drama has long remained a neglected field for detailed study Vimala Herman argues that drama should be of particular interest to linguists because of its form dialogue and subsequent translation into performance The subsequent interaction that occurs on stage is a rich and fruitful source of analysis and can be studied by using discourse methods that linguists employ for real life interaction Shakespeare Pinter Osborne Beckett Chekhov and Shaw are just some of the dramatists whose material is drawn upon Each chapter contains a theoretical section in which major concepts of each framework are explained before the relevance of the framework to dramatic discourse is analyzed and explored using textual examples This book will be of interest to undergraduates and postgraduates studying in the areas of literary linguistics and stylistics or anyone specialising in the relationship between the text and performance

Evidentiality in Interaction Janis Nuckolls, Lev Michael, 2014-06-15 In recent decades linguists have significantly advanced our understanding of the grammatical properties of evidentials but their social and interactional properties and uses have received less attention This volume originally published as a special issue of Pragmatics and Society issue 3 2 2012 draws together complementary perspectives on the social and interactional life of evidentiality drawing on data from diverse languages including Albanian English Garrwa Pama Nyungan Australia Huamal es Quechua Quechuan Peru Nanti Arawak Peru and Pastaza Quichua Quechuan Ecuador The language specific studies in this volume are all based on the close analysis of discourse or communicative interaction and examine both evidential systems of varying degrees of grammaticalization and evidential strategies present in languages without grammaticalized evidentials The analyses presented draw on conversational analysis ethnography of communication ethnopoetics pragmatics and theories of deixis and indexicality and will be of interest to students of evidentiality in a variety of analytical traditions The Power of Discourse in Ritual Performance Ulrich Demmer, 2007 This volume focuses on the ways discourse is used in ritual performances as an important medium of power enabling speakers actors to construct redefine and transform interpersonal relationships cultural concepts and worldviews The various case studies gathered here from South Asia South East Asia Africa and South America show that recent developments in linguistic anthropology ritual theory and performance studies provide new conceptual tools to take a fresh look at these issues Foregrounding pragmatic approaches to language and discourse they explore the social dynamics of rhetorical discourse text and context normativity and creativity the poetics of dialogue and speech as well as the manifold interactions of speakers addressees and audience The volume thus embraces both the micro level of speech activities as well as the macro level of social and political relationships and brings out the subtle workings of control authority and power in situations marked as ritual The contributions all based on extensive fieldwork include many concrete samples of speech and discourse which give an authentic impression of the different voices and make for vivid reading

Methods of Desire Aurora Donzelli, 2019-08-31 Since the Asian financial crisis of the late 1990s Indonesia has undergone a radical program of administrative decentralization and neoliberal reforms In Methods of Desire author Aurora Donzelli explores these changes through an innovative perspective one that locates the production of neoliberalism in novel patterns of language use and new styles of affect display Building on almost two decades of fieldwork Donzelli describes how the growing influence of transnational lending agencies is transforming the ways in which people desire and voice their expectations intentions and entitlements within the emergent participatory democracy and restructuring of Indonesia's political economy She argues that a largely overlooked aspect of the Era Reformasi concerns the transition from a moral regime centered on the expectation that desires should remain hidden to a new emphasis on the public expression of individuals aspirations The book examines how the large scale institutional transformations that followed the collapse of the Suharto regime have impacted people's lives and imaginations in the relatively remote and primarily rural Toraja highlands of Sulawesi A novel concept of the individual as a bundle of audible and measurable desires has emerged one that contrasts with the deep rooted reticence toward the expression of personal preferences The spreading of foreign discursive genres such as customer satisfaction surveys training sessions electoral mission statements and fundraising auctions and the diffusion of new textual artifacts such as checklists flowcharts and workflow diagrams are producing forms of citizenship political participation and moral agency that contrast with the longstanding epistemologies of secrecy typical of local styles of knowledge and power Donzelli's long term ethnographic study examines how these foreign protocols are being received absorbed and readapted in a peripheral community of the Indonesian archipelago Combining a telescopic perspective on our contemporary moment with a microscopic analysis of conversational practices the author argues that the managerial forms of political rationality and the entrepreneurial morality underwriting neoliberal apparatuses proliferate through the working of small cogs that is acts of speech By examining these concrete communicative exchanges she sheds light on both the coherence and inconsistency underlying the worldwide diffusion of market logic to all domains of life Talking Like Children Elise Berman, 2019 Children in the Marshall Islands do many things that adults do not They walk around half naked They carry and eat food in public without offering it to others They talk about things they see rather than hiding uncomfortable truths They explicitly refuse to give Why do they do these things Many think these behaviors are a natural result of children's innate immaturity But Elise Berman argues that children are actually taught to do things that adults avoid to be rude inappropriate and immature Before children learn to be adults they learn to be different from them Berman's main theoretical claim therefore is also a novel one age emerges through interaction and is a social production In Talking Like Children Berman analyzes a variety of interactions in the Marshall Islands all broadly based around exchange adoption negotiations efforts to ask for or avoid giving away food contentious debates about supposed child abuse In these dramas both large and small age differences emerge through the decisions people make the emotions they feel and the power they gain Berman's research includes a range of methods participant observation video and audio recordings interviews children's drawings that yield a significant corpus of data including over 80 hours of recorded naturalistic social interaction Presented as a series of captivating stories Talking Like Children is an intimate analysis of speech and interaction that shows what age means Like gender and race age differences are both culturally produced and socially important The differences between Marshallese children and adults give both groups the ability to manipulate social life in distinct but often complementary ways These differences produce culture itself Talking Like Children establishes age as a foundational social variable and a central concern of anthropological and linguistic research Poetry in Speech Egbert J. Bakker, 2018-03-15 No detailed description available for Poetry in Speech The Handbook of Intercultural Discourse and Communication Christina Bratt Paulston, Scott F. Kiesling, Elizabeth S. Rangel, 2014-09-15 The Handbook of Intercultural Discourse and Communication Intercultural discourse and communication is emerging as an important area of research in a highly globalized and connected world where language and culture contact is frequent and cultural misunderstandings and misconceptions abound The handbook contains contributions from established scholars and up and coming researchers from a range of subfields to survey the theoretical perspectives and applied work in this burgeoning area of linguistics This timely volume features first a part that introduces the background detailing the scope and topics of the field followed by one that describes four different theoretical approaches and their basic research questions from Ethnography of Speaking and John Gumperz's Interactional Sociolinguistics to Critical Approaches and Postmodernism The third part Interactional Discourse Features describes and explains the features of talk that are frequently studied in cross cultural research such as turn taking and politeness The volume also includes a section on Interactional Discourse sites examining cross cultural communication such as Greek

Turkish discourse The final part considers a variety of domains in which interaction takes place such as Translation Business Law Medicine Education and Religion

Gender and Discourse Ruth Wodak, 1997 Discourse and Gender demonstrates the considerable contribution of feminist linguistics and critical discourse analysis to the understanding of gender and sex making clear the relevance of theoretical insights for social research in general

Law in Action Max Travers, John F. Manzo, 2016-12-05 Ethnomethodologists and Conversation Analysts have always been interested in the study of law and legal institutions and there is now a large body of empirical studies representing a range of analytic traditions in each field This collection introduces this literature and the research questions pursued by ethnomethodologists and conversation analysts in an accessible form to a general audience in the interdisciplinary field of law and society studies

Voices in the Media Gaëlle Planchenault, 2015-10-22 Verbal performances are often encountered in the media where they are used to embody characters or social archetypes Performed voices define the norm as well as the linguistic Others and by doing so circulate associated values and linguistic ideologies This book explores the idea that far from simply being exercises in verbal skill and flair performances of social ethnic or gendered voices in the media not only have the power to accomplish ideological work they are also sites of linguistic tension and negotiation Critically examining performances of French voices in the media this book raises the following questions How are repertoires of voices constructed and subsequently perpetuated in the media How do the stereotypic personae these voices contribute to build become familiar to national as well as transnational audiences How do such performed voices reproduce hegemonic ideologies of standard and non standard languages and participate in the perpetuation of social discriminations How are these performed voices commodified into cultural products of otherness that may later be reclaimed by stigmatized communities Following an innovative framework which allows for analysis of performances of varied voices and their impact in the media sphere Voices in the Media offers a new approach to the linguistics of media performance

Represented Discourse, Resonance and Stance in Joking Interaction in Mexican Spanish Minerva Oropeza Escobar, 2011 The book provides a new angle for the study of otherwise amply discussed discourse and interactional phenomena The new perspective consists in addressing the interconnections between resonance stance represented discourse and joking in Mexican conversational discourse In so doing it contributes to a better understanding of the interplay between collaboration intersubjectivity and emergence among other relevant issues Scholars and advanced students concerned with dialogic syntax theory stance theory and Spanish will find the present analysis interesting and innovative However the writing and methodology based on clearly discussed and presented examples from selected conversational excerpts including graphic representations of linguistic and discourse data makes the analysis easy to follow also to non specialists The book is thus interesting to a broad circle of readers whether they are concerned with any of the issues dealt with or with their mutual connections whether they are specialists or not
