Restructuring Military Education and Training: Lessons from Rand Research, 1997 This report aims to identify promising directions for restructuring programs of military education and training to make them more effective affordable and efficient The document is motivated in part by the Department of Defense s Quadrennial Defense Review which is examining ways to modernize and improve all DoD programs in light of the sweeping changes that have occurred in the past several years The report summarizes results and insights from a number of RAND studies that assessed alternative concepts for restructuring military training programs within and across the military services Most of the research discussed within comes from work conducted in RAND s Arroyo Center the Army s federally funded research and development center FFRDC for studies and analysis However where appropriate the report draws upon research conducted in RAND s two other military FFRDCs the National Defense Research Institute NDRI which serves the Office of the Secretary of Defense OSD the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the defense agencies and Project AIR FORCE which serves the Air Force

Military Education Cynthia A. Watson, 2007-02-28 Professional Military Education PME is broader and more rigorous than is widely understood in the United States Improving educational programs within the military service branches is at the very center of ongoing force transformation efforts and advanced educational opportunities occur at various set levels of military experience Military education increasingly conforms to standards imposed by outside civilian accrediting bodies and is mandated and monitored to an extent by Congress Military Education explores this often overlooked area of education within the context of the modern military force structure In this unique work Watson chronicles the evolution of professional military education during the last sixty years Careful to draw distinctions between training and education she briefly traces the history of PME and examines some of the major personalities involved in shaping it as well as the evolution of the curriculum stressed in PME programs Her narrative combined with key documents a glossary and a timeline of important events dispels popular notions of an uneducated military force a Teacher Too... Brent M Barry, 2005-03 All too often in our great nation's history there seems to be some sort of a separation between the great expectations of the American Education system the greatness of our masses and the awesomeness of the Department of Defense Some have said No American Educator wants a soldier sailor or airman telling them how to teach in the average American classroom Department of Defense Appropriations for 2007 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Dept. of Defense, 2007 Vocational and Occupational Education United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary, and Vocational Education, 1975 Security, Reconstruction, and Reconciliation Muna Ndulo, 2007-01-24 This key text brings together a team of leading contributors to address the complex issues of security reconciliation and reconstruction in post conflict societies Security Reconstruction and Reconciliation is organized into four main sections the social political and economic dimensions of conflict the impact of conflict on women and children reconstruction and past human rights violations disarmament demobilization reintegration post war reconstruction and the building of a capable state and the role of the international community in the peace process The chapters offer a detailed and succinct exposition of the challenges facing post conflict societies by articulating the vision of a new society With a foreword by Francis Deng the UN Secretary General's Special Representative on Internally Displaced Persons the authors discuss the issues in the context of possible solutions and lessons learnt in the field This new book is a valuable resource for researchers policy makers and students in the fields of conflict resolution security studies law and development Transforming for stabilization and reconstruction operations , The DISAM Journal of International Security Assistance Management , 2003 Defense White Paper , 1992 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, 2011 The Cumulative Book Index , 1998 A world list of books in the English language The Military Academy of Malaysia Compared with West Point Jowati Juhary, 2013-10 This dissertation compares the learning environment of elite military academies in the U S and Malaysia namely the United States Military Academy New York West Point and the Military Academy of Malaysia Kuala Lumpur MAM The dissertation began as an investigation of the place of e learning and simulation technologies in educating future military officers It was assumed that as modern technologies for war and defence have changed so too must the military academies accommodate to that especially in producing the right kind of officers who will lead the defence of the nation Research in West Point and the MAM however revealed much more significant and deeper differences between the two learning environments These are also analysed in this dissertation on the basis of in depth interviews with staff at both academies and responses to some 241 questionnaires returned by the cadets One of the most important findings in this study is that the learning environment at West Point is informed by the Thayer System which in turn is based on principles strongly reminiscent of the constructivist school of pedagogical inquiry The impact of the Thayer System on the learning environment is analysed as are the essential features of constructivism In Malaysia by contrast the learning environment in the academy is driven by teacher oriented practices that are not sensitive to the needs of students Moreover the broader authoritarian tendencies in Malaysia have encouraged the entrenchment of didactic modes of teacher student exchanges in the classroom These were found not to be conducive to creative student centred learning processes capable of producing the kind of officers who can lead the Malaysian military at a time of growing regional insecurity in the Asia Pacific
