surrounding systems should not be viewed in isolation and that the interplay between individual resilience community resilience and resilient societies is complex and symbiotic On this basis it illustrates that efforts to promote resilience would benefit from a systems approach capable of coping with this complexity Using the ideas of agency and the power of self determinism a development of Bronfenbrenner s bio ecological model is presented to illustrate the complexity of their interplay Existing models of resilience are developed with the book offering the Dynamic Interactive Model of Resilience DIMoR as a way to analyse and support resilience which moves beyond a reductionist descriptive and fashionable presentation of resilience Social Security Journal ,1999 Disability and the Life Course Mark Priestley,2001-07-05 Disability and the Life Course first published in 2001 explores the global experience of disability using a novel life course approach The book explores how disabling societies impact on disabled people s life experiences and highlights the ways in which disabled people have acted to take more control over their own lives It provides a unique combination of analysis policy issues and autobiography offering the reader a rare opportunity to make links between the theoretical the political and the personal in a single volume The material is set in a truly international context with contributions from thirteen different countries bringing together established and emerging writers both disabled and non disabled The book bridges some important gaps in the existing disability literature by including issues relevant to disabled people of all ages and with different kinds of impairments and also by offering a unique analysis of the relationship between disability and generation in a changing world Educating for Resilience Graeme Withers,Jean Russell,2001 Presents a framework or generalised model for the development of policy and practice in the care education and support of all young people Part 1 presents a grounded argument about principles underlying prevention and intervention and Part 2 presents a statement of the preferred model with structures and programs Juvenile Justice Chris Cunneen,Robert Douglas White,2002 This book provides an introduction to the main concepts and issues in juvenile justice in Australia and provides a consolidated overview of the dynamics of youth crime and the institutions of social control This book will be of particular interest to criminology and law students Promoting Successful Transition to Adulthood for Students with Disabilities Robert L. D. Glaister,2005 Policy developments increasingly require public services to work across traditional professional boundaries This volume draws together some Scottish case studies of collaborative activity across education health and social work which focus upon children and considers issues emerging at the interface between policy and practice from the different professional perspectives There is beginning to appear some evaluation of the policies in Scotland But while policy is national implementation is local having to take account of local constraints and opportunities and being implemented by individual practitioners Interagency Collaboration conveys a sense of the experience of what is happening on the ground and to illustrate the impact at operational practitioner level It will appeal to policy makers and students of new partnerships for the development of services for children
