women were urged to take over jobs in factories munitions plants and agricultural work sectors traditionally dominated by men This marked a dramatic shift in the social fabric as women demonstrated their ability to contribute to national efforts in ways previously thought impossible In Britain the United States and other Allied nations women worked long hours producing munitions and supplies ensuring that the war machine continued to function The iconic image of Rosie the Riveter in the United States though it emerged during World War II had its roots in the earlier efforts of women in World War I
