Seductive Reasoning Pluralism As The Problematic Of Contemporary Literary Theory:

Seductive Reasoning Ellen Rooney, 2016-11-01 Seductive Reasoning takes a provocative look at contemporary Anglo American literary theory calling into question the critical consensus on pluralism's nature and its status in literary studies Drawing on the insights of Marxist and feminist critical theory and on the works of Althusser Derrida and Foucault Rooney reads the pluralist's invitation to join in a dialogue as a seductive gesture Critics who respond find that they must seek to persuade all of their potential readers Rooney examines pluralism as a form of logic in the work of E D Hirsch as a form of ethics for Wayne Booth as a rhetoric of persuasion in the books of Stanley Fish For Paul de Man Rooney argues pluralism was a rhetoric of tropes just as it was for Fredric Jameson a form of politics

Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll, 1995 Over the past two decades poststructuralism in its myriad forms has come to dominate literary criticism to the exclusion of virtually any other point of view Few scholars have escaped the coercive authority of its programmatic radicalism In Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll vigorously attacks the foundational principles of poststructuralism and offers in their stead a bold new theory that situates literary criticism within the matrix of evolutionary theory

Pluralism Gregor McLennan, 1995 Pluralism today is not much a particular school of thought or coherent body of theory McLennan argues that pluralism is an indispensable reference point across a spectrum of social scientific debates

Fault Lines and Controversies in the Study of Seventeenth-century English Literature Claude J. Summers, Ted-Larry Pebworth, 2002 Written by various experts in the field this volume of thirteen original essays explores some of the most significant theoretical and practical fault lines and controversies in seventeenth century English literature The turn into the twenty first century is an appropriate time to take stock of the state of the field and as part of that stocktaking the need arises to assess both where literary study of the early modern period has been and where it might desirably go Hence many of the essays in this collection look both backward and forward They chart the changes in the field over the past half century while also looking forward to more change in the future

Token Professionals and Master Critics James J. Sosnoski, 1994-03-08 This book addresses literary critics in mainstream institutions who though they vastly outnumber their colleagues in more prestigious institutions have little voice in the profession It examines the structures through which the institution of literary critical pressures its members to accept orthodoxy heterodoxy as categories to describe their work which in turn provokes theory wars This opposition produces a method application dichotomy that renders members pursuits scientific

One Earth, Many Religions Paul F. Knitter, 1995 One of the world's foremost exponents of the pluralist position as the most adequate Christian theological account of religious diversity turns to a new and urgent issue facing the community of world religions For Paul Knitter the spectre of environmental and social injustice looms over any serious discussion of humankind's future As urgent as it is to have peace among the world's believers to achieve peace among nations it is urgent that these communities unite in understanding and defending of the earth In One Earth Many Religions

Knitter looks back at his own dialogical odyssey and forward to the way that interfaith encounters and dialogue must focus attention on new challenges Nothing less than enlisting the commitment of the world's religions on the task of saving our common home will do In making that case Knitter makes clear the complex structures political economic and social as well as religious that face those who approach this task While articulating a this worldly soteriology necessary to overcome our eco human plight Knitter offers practical considerations on actions and projects that have and should have been undertaken to stem the tide of environmental and human suffering The global crisis is both at the center of One Earth Many Religions and a test case for Knitter and others engaged in the dialogue of religions Can religious differences concerning the nature of the transcendent themselves be transcended in order to promote eco human well being The issue seems basic and clear if interreligious dialogue cannot effect such a change then one must question whether religion is of any use whatsoever

Who Can Speak? Judith Roof, Robyn Wiegman, 1995 For women for lesbians and gays for African Americans for Asians Native Americans or any other self identified and identifying group who can speak Who has the authority to speak for these groups Is there genuinely such a thing as objectivity or can only members of these groups speak finally for themselves And who has the authority to decide who has the authority This collection examines how theory and criticism are complicated by multiple perspectives in an increasingly multicultural society and faces head on the difficult question of what qualifies a critic to speak from or about a particular position In different formats and from different perspectives from various disciplines the contributors to this volume analytically and innovatively work together to define the problems and capture the contradictions and tensions inherent in the issues of authority epistemology and discourse

Nothing Mat(t)ers Somer Brodribb, 1993 Nothing Mat t ers is a feminist critique of the theories of Foucault Derrida and Lacan among others Somer Brodribb analyzes the texts and the arguments that post structuralism has nominated as central in the process exposing the misogyny at their core Brodribb provides a history of definitions of structuralism post structuralism deconstruction and postmodernism She considers feminist encounters with structuralism and existentialism She evaluates the originality of Foucault s contributions and discusses feminist responses to his work Turning to Derrida she considers his fixation with dissemination and demeaning versus conception and new embodiment She contrasts the work of Lacan and Irigaray on ethics before turning to the work of de Beauvoir O Brien and other feminists as an authentic alternative to postmodern critical theory

Modernism and the Crisis of Sovereignty Andrew John Miller, 2020-09-19 This book describes how three of the most significant Anglophone writers of the first half of the twentieth century Yeats Eliot and Woolf wrestled with a geopolitical situation in which national boundaries had come to seem increasingly permeable at the same time as war among and within individual nation states had come to seem virtually inescapable Drawing on Jean Fran ois Lyotard s analysis of the elements of performativity in J L Austin s speech act theory and making critical use of Carl Schmitt s writings on sovereignty and world order Miller situates the writings of Yeats Eliot and Woolf in the context of what Lyotard describes as a civil war of language By virtue of its dissolution of any clear boundary between interiority and exteriority as well as by virtue of its resistance to any decisive form of resolution or regulation this civil war of language takes on dimensions that are ultimately global in scope Miller examines the emergence of modernism as bound up with a crisis of personal political and aesthetic sovereignty that undermined traditional distinctions between the public and private In the process he directly engages with the theoretical discourse surrounding the geopolitical impact of globalization and biopolitics a discourse that is central to the influential and widely debated work of such varied figures as Carl Schmitt Hardt and Negri Giorgio Agamben and Jean Luc Nancy This book will be of interest to anyone concerned not only with twentieth century literature but also with questions of nationalism and globalization

Queer Race Ian Barnard, 2004 One of the first extended and theoretically informed investigations of queer theory's racial inscription Queer Race understands race as inextricably sexualized as sexuality is always racially marked The book critically and playfully explores intellectual and political deployments of the term queer gay pornographic videos about South Africa contemporary literary representations of interracial gay desire the writings of Gloria Anzaldá and Jeffrey Dahmer's criminal trial Through these explorations Queer Race charts a framework for understanding the race of queer theory that both tests queer theory's limits and suggests its future interrelations with anti-racist work

Materialist Feminism and the Politics of Discourse Rosemary Hennessy, 2012-10-11 Materialist Feminism and the Politics of Discourse confronts the impasses in materialist feminist work on rethinking woman as a discursively constructed subject The book looks at the problem of examining critically the social dimensions on which theories of discourse are premised how such theories understand materiality the relation between women's experience and feminist politics and that between history and discourse Rosemary Hennessy considers the work of Kristeva Foucault Laclau and Mouffe and argues for a materialist feminist re-articulation of discourse as ideology Concerns over identity and difference are incorporated into a rewriting of materialist feminism's analysis of women's oppression across capitalist and patriarchal structures In adapting postmodernist theories in this way Hennessy develops a project of social change where feminism while maintaining its specificity is necessarily aligned with other emancipatory movements

Amy Tan Harold Bloom, 2014-05-14 Presents a collection of critical essays about the works of Amy Tan

Truth and Consequences Reed Way Dasenbrock, 2010-11-01 Contemporary literary theory takes truth and meaning to be dependent on shared conventions in a community of discourse and views authors' intentions as irrelevant to interpretation This view argues Reed Way Dasenbrock owes much to Anglo-American analytic philosophy as developed in the 1950s and 1960s by such thinkers as Austin and Kuhn but it ignores more recent work by philosophers like Davidson and Putnam who have mounted a counterattack on this earlier conventionalism This book draws on current analytic philosophy to resuscitate the notion of objective truth and intentionalist models of meaning and interpretation thereby moving beyond the antifoundationalism of postmodern theory It addresses the work of Rorty and Fish as representative of literary conventionalism discusses the futility of Derrida's anti-intentionalism and shows how poststructuralist thinkers like Althusser and Foucault have contributed to the new thematics of race class gender and sexual orientation that dominates literary theory today Examining the counterarguments of conventionalists to have their theory judged by its consequences Dasenbrock shows how damaging this anti-objectivism and anti-intentionalism have been for literary studies
