

PRAISE FOR SEE JANE WIN

"One of the most urgent stories of our time, about the approach, priorities, and challenges faced by new kinds of leaders aiming for new kinds of political power, with an eye toward permanently altering (and perhaps saving) our democracy. Moscatello's view is both broad and deep: she is looking at the story of women in contemporary politics from multiple angles, and understands race, age, and class—and the ideological and policy commitments of these candidates—to be just as crucial to their stories as their gender."

—REBECCA TRAISTER

New York Times bestselling author of Good and Mad
and All the Single Ladies

"A behind-the-scenes look at the most hopeful trend in American democracy, full of gripping stories and well-researched analysis. If you want to know how our politics are changing—or you want to change them yourself—See Jane Win is an indispensable guide."

—DAVID LITT

New York Times bestselling author of Thanks, Obama: My Hopesy, Changey White House Years

"If you were depressed about the 2016 election, See Jane Win is a balm—and a playbook. . . . If you want to understand where we are as a nation and what to watch for in 2020—or if you want to renew your faith in American politics, and maybe even run yourself—you must read this book."

See Jane Win Caitlin Moscatello, 2019-08-27 A NEW YORK TIMES

BOOK REVIEW Editor's Choice Pick From an award winning journalist covering gender and politics comes an inside look at the female candidates fighting back and winning elections in the crucial 2018 midterms After November 8 2016 first came the sadness then came the rage the activism and the protests and finally for thousands of women the next step was to run for office many of them for the first time More women campaigned for local or national office in the 2018 election cycle than at any other time in US history challenging accepted notions about who seeks power and who gets it Journalist Caitlin Moscatello reported on this wave of female candidates for New York magazine's The Cut Glamour and Elle And in See Jane Win she further documents this pivotal time in women's history Closely following four candidates throughout the entire process from the decision to run through Election Day See Jane Win takes readers inside their exciting winning campaigns and the sometimes thrilling sometimes brutal realities of running for office while female MEET THE CANDIDATES Abigail Spanberger a mom of three young girls and a former CIA operative running for Congress in Virginia to unseat Freedom Caucus member Dave Brat Catalina Cruz a Colombian born attorney whose state assembly bid could make her the first Dreamer elected in New York and only the third in the country Anna Eskamani an Iranian American woman running for state office in Florida with a campaign motivated by her mother's health care struggles and the Pulse Nightclub shootings London Lamar a Memphis native looking to become the youngest female representative in the Tennessee state house running in one of the only Democratic and Black majority areas of a largely conservative state Beyond the 2018 victories Moscatello speaks with researchers strategists and the leaders of organizations that helped women win What she discovers is that the candidates who triumphed in 2018 emphasized authenticity and passion instead of conforming to the stereotype of what a candidate should look or sound like a formula that will be more relevant than ever as we approach the 2020 presidential election
