Saviours Graham Huggan,2013-08-22 Today s celebrity conservationists many of whom made their reputations through television and other visual media play a major role in drawing public attention to an increasingly threatened world This book one of the first to address this contribution focuses on five key figures the English naturalist David Attenborough the French marine adventurer Jacques Yves Cousteau the American primatologist Dian Fossey the Canadian scientist broadcaster activist David Suzuki and the Australian crocodile hunter Steve Irwin Some of the issues the author addresses include What is the changing relationship between western conservation and celebrity How has the spread of television helped shape and mediate this relationship To what extent can celebrity conservation be seen as part of a global system in which conservation like celebrity is big business The book critically examines the heroic status accorded to the five figures mentioned above taking in the various discourses around nature science nation gender through which they and their work have been presented to us In doing so it fills in the cultural historical and ideological background behind contemporary celebrity conservationism as a popular expression of a chronically endangered world The Distortion of Nature's Image Damian Gerber,2019-03-25 The global ecological crisis is upon us From global warming to the long term implications of ocean

acidification air and water pollution deforestation and the omnipresent dangers of nuclear technology the future of our planetary home is threatened Yet in the midst of the unfolding crisis the conventional ideologies of the twentieth century and their representations of nature remain unchallenged by both the defenders of capitalism and capitalism's most radical critics The Distortion of Nature's Image illustrates how the anti naturalism of late capitalist society in which nature is reified into the emptiness of mere matter simply a thing to be dominated is subtly complemented by the failure of the Left to go both beyond the historic limitations of Marx's nineteenth century viewpoint and beyond anarchism's blind faith in natural law However an alternative for comprehending nature and the ecological crisis as historical and social phenomena remains open in the dialectical naturalism of Western Marxism and Murray Bookchin's social ecology By examining in closer detail how Bookchin's social ecology politicizes the concept of nature as well as how precursory models in Western Marxist thought provide a foundation for this Damian Gerber illustrates how the notion of an ecological society remains a decisively political question
