

The background is a painting of a dry, hilly landscape. A dirt road with visible tire tracks winds through the center of the scene. On either side of the road is a rustic wooden fence made of vertical posts and horizontal rails. The landscape is dotted with small, dark, rounded trees, likely acacias, and some low-lying shrubs. In the distance, a flat plain stretches to the horizon under a pale, clear sky. The overall color palette is dominated by warm, earthy tones like ochre, sienna, and terracotta, with some darker greens and browns for the vegetation and shadows.

Over the Sliprails Henry Lawson, 2004-06 The Oracle and I were camped together The Oracle was a bricklayer by trade and had two or three small contracts on hand I was doing a bit of house painting There were a plasterer a carpenter and a plumber we were all T othersiders and old mates and we worked things together It was in Westralia the Land of T othersiders and therefore we were not surprised when Mitchell turned up early one morning with his swag and an atmosphere of salt water about him Over the Sliprails Henry Archibald Hertzberg Lawson, 1903 Over the Sliprails

Henry Lawson, 1914 On the Track Henry Lawson, 1900 Over the Sliprails Henry Lawson, 2021-03-22 It is a collection of short stories by the Australian poet and writer Henry Lawson It contains 16 stories most of which have been reprinted from various newspapers some of which are published here for the first time Over the Sliprails Henry Lawson, 2020-07-02 There were about a dozen of us jammed into the coach on the box seat and hanging on to the roof and tailboard as best we could We were shearers bagmen agents a squatter a cockatoo the usual joker and one or two professional spielers perhaps We were tired and stiff and nearly frozen too cold to talk and too irritable to risk the inevitable argument which an interchange of ideas would have led up to We had been looking forward for hours it seemed to the pub where we were to change horses For the last hour or two all that our united efforts had been able to get out of the driver was a grunt to the effect that it was bout a couple o miles Then he said or grunted Tain t fur now a couple of times and refused to commit himself any further he seemed grumpy about having committed himself that far He was one of those men who take everything in dead earnest who regard any expression of ideas outside their own sphere of life as trivial or indeed if addressed directly to them as offensive who in fact are darkly suspicious of anything in the shape of a joke or laugh on the part of an outsider in their own particular dust hole He seemed to be always thinking and thinking a lot when his hands were not both engaged he would tilt his hat forward and scratch the base of his skull with his little finger and let his jaw hang But his intellectual powers were mostly concentrated on a doubtful swingle tree a misfitting collar or that there bay or piebald on the off or near side with the sore shoulder Casual letters or papers to be delivered on the road were matters which troubled him vaguely but constantly like the abstract ideas of his passengers The joker of our party was a humourist of the dry order and had been slyly taking rises out of the driver for the last two or three stages But the driver only brooded He wasn't the one to tell you straight if you offended him or if he fancied you offended him and thus gain your respect or prevent a misunderstanding which would result in life long enmity He might meet you in after years when you had forgotten all about your trespass if indeed you had ever been conscious of it and stoush you unexpectedly on the ear Also you might regard him as your friend on occasion and yet he would stand by and hear a perfect stranger tell you the most outrageous lies to your hurt and know that the stranger was telling lies and never put you up to it It would never enter his head to do so It wouldn't be any affair of his only an abstract question It grew darker and colder The rain came as if the frozen south were spitting at your face and neck and hands and our feet grew as big as camel's and went dead and we might as well have stamped the footboards with wooden legs for all the feeling we got into ours But they were more comfortable that way for the toes didn't curl up and pain so much nor did our corns stick out so hard against the leather and shoot We looked out eagerly for some clearing or fence or light some sign of the shanty where we were to change horses but there was nothing save blackness all round The long straight cleared road was no longer relieved by the ghostly patch of light far ahead where the bordering tree walls came together in perspective and framed the ether We were down in the bed of the bush We pictured a haven of rest with a suspended lamp burning in the frosty air outside and a big log fire in a cosy parlour off the bar and a long table set for supper But this is a land of contradictions wayside shanties turn up unexpectedly and in the most unreasonable places and are as likely as not prepared for a banquet when you are not hungry and can't wait and as cold and dark as a bushman's grave when you are and can
