Overcrowded Barracoon And Other Articles:

The Overcrowded Barracoon, and Other Articles Vidiadhar Surajprasad Naipaul, 1972 The overcrowded barracoon and other articles V. S. Naipaul, 1969 The Mauritian Paradox Ramola Ramtohol, Hylland Eriksen, 2018-04-11 Speaking of Mauritius as an economic miracle has become a cliché and with good reason. Its development since Independence in 1968 can easily be narrated as a rags to riches story. In addition, it is a stable democracy capable of containing the conflict potential inherent in its complex ethnic and religious demography. This book brings together some of the finest scholarship, domestic as well as foreign, on contemporary Mauritius, offering perspectives from constitutional law, cultural studies, sociology, archaeology, economics, social anthropology, and more. While celebrating the indisputable and impressive achievements of the Mauritian nation on its fiftieth birthday, this book is far from toothless. Looking back inevitably implies looking ahead, and in order to do so, critical self-scrutiny is essential to be able to learn from the mistakes of the past. The contributors raise fundamental questions concerning a broad range of issues, from the dilemmas of multiculturalism to the marginal role of women in public life, from the question of constitutional reform and the continued problem of corruption to the slow destruction of Mauritius' joy and pride, namely the beauty and purity of its natural scenery. Taking stock of the first fifty years, this book also looks ahead to the next fifty years, giving some cues as to where Mauritius can and should aim in the next decades. V. S. Naipaul of Trinidad Nivedita Misra, 2024-01-09 The book is about V. S. Naipaul, who was born in Trinidad in 1932. At the age of 18, Naipaul left Trinidad on a scholarship to study literature at Oxford. He never returned to live in Trinidad. His first book was published in 1956, and by the time Trinidad achieved political independence in 1962, he had published four books and was firmly established as a writer in England. By the time Trinidad became a republic in 1976, Naipaul had written 13 books and had travelled through much of the postcolonial world. This book highlights how Trinidad and Naipaul were bound in a love-hate relationship where Naipaul continued to pass Trinidad off as a cynical island where nothing was created, while Trinidad had its share by laying back a claim on him and his writing. It is generally perceived that Naipaul shunned his place of birth, as he called his birth in Trinidad a mistake, Trinidad an unimportant, uncreative, cynical place, and the Caribbean as the Third World's Third World. His refusal to acknowledge Trinidad in his initial response to receiving the Nobel Prize added insult to injury. Yet he was deeply bound to the island of Trinidad and his roots in the Indo-Trinidadian community. This book makes Naipaul's connection to Trinidad more than evident and, as such, adds to the present body of knowledge. Gandhi's Autobiographical Construction of Selfhood Clara Neary, 2023-03-15 This book addresses the topics of autobiography, self-representation, and status as a writer in Mahatma Gandhi's autobiographical work The Story of My Experiments with Truth (1927-1929). Gandhi remains an elusive figure despite the volumes of literature written on him in the seven decades since his assassination. Scholars and biographers alike agree that no work on his life has portrayed him in totality (Desai, 2009), and although arguably the most popular figure of the first half of the twentieth century and one of the most eminent luminaries of our time Gandhi the individual remains as much an enigma as a person of endless fascination Murrell 2008 Yet there has been relatively little scholarly engagement with Gandhi s autobiography and published output has largely been concerned with mining the text for its biographical details with little concern for how Gandhi represents himself The author addresses this gap in the literature while also considering Gandhi as a writer This book provides a close reading of the linguistic structure of the text with particular focus upon Gandhi s self representation drawing on a cognitive stylistic framework for analysing linguistic representations of selfhood Emmott 2002 It will be of interest to stylisticians cognitive linguists discourse analysts and scholars in related fields such as Indian literature and postcolonial studies The Thought of Nirad C. Chaudhuri Ian Almond,2015-09-03 In this critical examination of the famous South Asian thinker Nirad C Chaudhuri 1897 1999 a notorious Anglophile and defender of Empire Ian Almond analyses the factors that played a role in the evolution of his thought Almond explores how Empire creates native informants enabling local subjects to alienate themselves from and even abhor their own cultures Through analysis of Chaudhuri s views on Islam his use of the archive moments of melancholy and loss in his writing and his opinions on empire Almond dissects the constitution of an Indian writer and locates the precise ways in which Chaudhuri was able to produce the kind of discourses he did exploring how conservative pro Western intellectuals are formed in postcolonial environments A strong comparative element places Chaudhuri s views in the context of conservative intellectuals from Latin America the Middle East and South Asia concluding with a consideration of present day native informants from these regions

Crossovers John Szwed,2005 Crossovers brings together four decades of popular and academic writings by folklorist anthropologist and jazz scholar John Szwed V. S. Naipaul and World Literature Vijay Mishra,2024-02-08 This book engages with Naipaul s literary corpus and reconceptualizes what it means to be a writer of world literature The Nutmeg's Curse Amitav Ghosh,2021-10-14 The author of The Great Derangement finds the origins of our climate crisis in Western colonialism s violent exploitation of human life and the environment A powerful work of history essay testimony and polemic Amitav Ghosh s new book traces our contemporary planetary crisis back to the discovery of the New World and the sea route to the Indian Ocean The Nutmeg s Curse argues that the dynamics of climate change today are rooted in a centuries old geopolitical order constructed by Western colonialism At the center of Ghosh s narrative is the now ubiquitous spice nutmeg The history of the nutmeg is one of conquest and exploitation of both human life and the natural environment In Ghosh s hands the story of the nutmeg becomes a parable for our environmental crisis revealing the ways human history has always been entangled with earthly materials such as spices tea sugarcane opium and fossil fuels Our crisis he shows is ultimately the result of a mechanistic view of the earth where nature exists only as a resource for humans to use for our own ends rather than a force of its own full of agency and meaning Writing against the backdrop of the global pandemic and the Black Lives Matter protests Ghosh frames these historical stories in a way that connects our shared colonial histories with the deep inequality we see around us today By interweaving discussions on everything from the global history of the oil trade to the migrant crisis and the animist spirituality of Indigenous communities around the world The Nutmeg's Curse offers a sharp critique of Western society and speaks to the profoundly remarkable ways in which human history is shaped by non human forces Twentieth Century Fiction George Woodcock,1983-04-01 Finding a Place Kris Rampersad,2002 Kris Rampersad's book takes an intimate look at the blossoming of Trinidad's literary consciousness Through the eyes and the words of the writers she maps their contribution to Indo Trinidadian literature from those evolutionary years in 1850 to its flowering in the 1950s It also represents a close look at the exciting oral culture of these people as depicted by their music dance and storytelling and examines the biographies of the main figures who contributed to social cultural economic and political development throughout this period While the main focus of the work is on language and literary development other aspects of Trinidad's development are also explored cross curation politics race relations social mobility and women's issues in relation to their influence and impact on the writings Further the raw material of Finding A Place 12 little known and rare publications between 1850 and 1950 introduces a new set of data through which the evolution of Trinidad and Tobago can be examined by others Vidiadhar Surajprasad Naipaul Fawzia Mustafa,1995-09-07 This introductory study offers a critical overview of the major works of V S Naipaul from 1950 to the present day Professor Mustafa's main concern is with literary issues but historical political and cultural questions are also addressed with comparative references to other postcolonial works Paradoxically a major segment of Naipaul's non western pro decolonisation readership seized on negative elements in his thinking while Western reaction to his ideas and themes led to set notions about Third World society Thus his work has always been the object of radically divergent views dependent on the perspective of the reader In examining this issue Mustafa introduces general debates about postcolonial literary production and its contemporary interrogation of narrative techniques language gender race and canon formulation Shifting Continents/colliding Cultures Ralph J. Crane,Radhika Mohanram,2000 This book explores the aftermath of British colonialism on the Indian subcontinent and Sri Lanka including the resulting Diaspora The essays also examine zones of intersection between theories of postcolonial writing and models of Diaspora and the nation Shifting Continents / Colliding Cultures ,2021-10-18 In the wake of the steady expansion and more recent explosion of Anglo Indian and Indo Anglian writing and following the success of Salman Rushdie's Midnight's Children the literature of the Indian diaspora has become the object of close attention As a body of literature it simultaneously represents an important multicultural perspective within individual national literatures such as those of Canada or Australia as well as a more global perspective taking in the phenomena of transculturalism and diaspora However while readers may share an interest in the writing of the Indian diaspora they do not always interpret the notion of Indian diaspora in the same way Indeed there has been much debate in recent years about the appropriateness of terms such as diaspora and exile Should these terms be reserved for the specifically historical nature of problems encountered in the process of acquiring new nationality and citizenship or can they be extended to the writing of literature itself or used to describe economic migration arising out of privilege As a response to these debates Shifting Continents Colliding Cultures explores the aftermath of British colonialism on the Indian subcontinent and Sri Lanka including the resulting diaspora The essays also examine zones of intersection between theories of postcolonial writing and models of diaspora and the nation Particular lines of investigation include how South Asian identity is negotiated in Western spaces and its reverse how Western identity is negotiated in South Asian space reading identity by privileging history the role of diasporic women in the Western nation how diaspora affects the literary canon and how diaspora is used in the production of alternative identities in films such as Gurinder Chadha's Bhaji on the Beach

Spending Other People's Money Hannes H. Gissurarson, 2018-12-01 Even if both Rawls and Piketty seem to advocate extensive redistribution from the rich to the poor their concerns are different Rawls worries about the poor Piketty about the rich Rawls theory of justice is really about prudence and its emphasis on a worst case scenario alone is implausible It is Georgism in persons However capitalism may be the only known system which fulfils the Rawlsian proviso of maximising the conditions and expectations of the worst off There seem to be many logical and empirical flaws in Piketty's case for global confiscatory taxes and the novels from the 19th century he quotes show not the relentless accumulation of capital but rather its precariousness

World Literature Decentered Ian Almond, 2021-07-13 What would world literature look like if we stopped referring to the West Starting with the provocative premise that the West is ten percent of the planet World Literature Decentered is the first book to decenter Eurocentric discourses of global literature and global history not just by deconstructing or historicizing them but by actively providing an alternative Looking at a series of themes across three literatures Mexico Turkey and Bengal the book examines hotels melancholy orientalism femicide and the ghost story in a series of literary traditions outside the West The non West the book argues is no fringe group or token minority in need of attention on the contrary it constitutes the overwhelming majority of this world

Memory and Myth

Fiona Darroch, 2009 This book investigates the problematical historical location of the term religion and examines how this location has affected the analytical reading of postcolonial fiction and poetry The adoption of the term religion outside of a Western Enlightenment and Christian context should therefore be treated with caution Within postcolonial literary criticism there has been either a silencing of the category as a result of this caution or an uncritical and essentializing adoption of the term religion It is argued in the present study that a vital aspect of how writers articulate their histories of colonial contact migration slavery and the re forging of identities in the wake of these histories is illuminated by the classificatory term religion Aspects of postcolonial theory and Religious Studies theory are combined to provide fresh insights into the literature thereby expanding the field of postcolonial literary criticism The way in which writers remember history through writing is central to the way in which religion is theorized and articulated the act of remembrance can be persuasively interpreted in terms of religion The title Memory and Myth therefore refers to both the syncretic mythology of Guyana and the key themes in a new critical understanding of religion Particular attention is devoted to Wilson Harris s novel Jonestown alongside theoretical and historical material on the actual Jonestown tragedy to the mesmerizing effect of the Anancy tales on contemporary writers particularly the poet John Agard and to the work of the Indo Guyanese writer David Dabydeen and his elusive character Manu

Postcolonial Audiences Bethan Benwell, James Procter, Gemma Robinson, 2012-03-12 Without readers and audiences viewers and consumers the postcolonial would be literally unthinkable And yet postcolonial critics have historically neglected the modes of reception and consumption that make up the politics and pleasures of meaning making during and after empire Thus while recent criticism and theory has made large claims for reading as an ethical act as a means of establishing collective quasi political consciousness as identification with difference as a mode of resistance and as an impulsion to the public imagination the reader in postcolonial literary studies persists as a shadowy figure This collection answers the now pressing need for a distinctively postcolonial take on the rapidly expanding area of reader and reception studies Written by some of the top scholars in the field these essays reveal readers and reception to be varied and profoundly unstable subjects that challenge many of our assumptions and preconceptions of the postcolonial from the notion of reading as national fellowship to the demands of an ethics of reading
