Terminal Identity Scott Bukatman, 1993 Scott Bukatman s Terminal Identity referring to both the site of the termination of the conventional subject and the birth of a new subjectivity constructed at the computer terminal or television screen puts to rest any lingering doubts of the significance of science fiction in contemporary cultural studies Demonstrating a comprehensive knowledge both of the history of science fiction narrative from its earliest origins and of cultural theory and philosophy Bukatman redefines the nature of human identity in the Information Age Drawing on a wide range of contemporary theories of the postmodern including Fredric Jameson Donna Haraway and Jean Baudrillard Bukatman begins with the proposition that Western culture is suffering a crisis brought on by advanced electronic technologies Then in a series of chapters richly supported by analyses of literary texts visual arts film video television comics computer games and graphics Bukatman takes the reader on an odyssey that traces the postmodern subject from its current crisis through its close encounters with technology and finally to new self recognition This new virtual subject as Bukatman defines it situates the human and the technological as coexistent codependent and mutually defining Synthesizing the most provocative theories of postmodern culture with a truly encyclopedic treatment of the relevant media this volume sets a new standard in the study of science fiction a category that itself may be redefined in light of this work Bukatman not only offers the most detailed map to date of the intellectual terrain of postmodern technology studies he arrives at new frontiers providing a propitious launching point for further inquiries into the relationship of electronic technology and culture

An Informal History of the Hugos Jo Walton, 2018-08-07 Engaged passionate and consistently entertaining An Informal History of the Hugos is a book about the renowned science fiction award for the many who enjoyed Jo Walton's previous collection of writing from Tor.com the Locus Award winning What Makes This Book So Great The Hugo Awards named after pioneer science fiction publisher Hugo Gernsback and voted on by members of the World Science Fiction Society have been presented since 1953 They are widely considered the most prestigious awards in science fiction Between 2010 and 2013 Jo Walton wrote a series of posts for Tor.com surveying the Hugo finalists and winners from the award's inception up to the year 2000 Her contention was that each year's full set of finalists generally tells a meaningful story about the state of science fiction at that time Walton's cheerfully opinionated and vastly well informed posts provoked valuable conversation among the field's historians Now these posts lightly revised have been gathered into this book along with a small selection of the comments posted by SF luminaries such as Rich Horton Gardner Dozois and David G Hartwell A remarkable guided tour through the field a kind of nonfiction companion to Among Others It's very good It's great New York Times bestselling author Cory Doctorow Boing Boing on What Makes This Book So Great

Psience Fiction Damien Broderick, 2018-05-12 Science fiction has often been considered the literature of futuristic technology fantastic warfare among the stars or ruinous apocalypses on Earth The last century however saw through John W Campbell the introduction of psience fiction which explores such themes of mental powers as telepathy precognition of the future teleportation etc and symbolic machines that react to such forces The author surveys this long ignored literary shift through a series of influential novels and short stories published between the 1930s and the present This discussion is framed by the sudden surge of interest in parapsychology and its absorption not only into the SF genre but also into the real world through military experiments such as the Star Gate Program

The Worst We Can Find Dale Sherman, 2023-06-15 Had you tuned in to the small television station KTMA on Thanksgiving Day 1988 you would have been one of the few witnesses to pop culture history being made On that day viewers in and around St Paul Minnesota were treated to a genuine oddity in which a man and his robots trapped within a defiantly DIY sci fi set cracked jokes while watching a terrible movie It was a cockeyed twist on the local TV programs of the past in which a host would introduce old cheaply licensed films And though its origins may have been inauspicious Mystery Science Theater 3000 captured the spirit of what had been a beloved pastime for generations of wags wisecracks and smartalecks and would soon go on to inspire countless more The Worst We Can Find is a comprehensive history of and guide to MST3K and its various offshoots including Rifftrax Cinematic Titanic and The Mads Are Back whose lean crew of writers performers and puppeteers have now been making fun of movies for over thirty years It investigates how riffing of films evolved recounts the history of these programs and considers how a practice guaranteed to annoy real life fellow moviegoers grew into such a beloved long lasting franchise As author Dale Sherman explains creative heckling has been around forever but MST3K and its progeny managed to redirect that art into a style that was both affectionate and cutting winning the devotion of countless fans and aspiring riffers

How to Live Forever Stephen R L Clark, 2008-01-28 Immortality is a subject which has long been explored and imagined by science fiction writers In his intriguing new study Stephen R L Clark argues that the genre of science fiction writing allows investigation of philosophical questions about immortality without the constraints of academic philosophy He reveals how fantasy accounts of issues such as resurrection disembodied survival reincarnation and devices or drugs for preserving life can be used as an important resource for philosophical inquiry and examines how a society of immortals might function through a reading of the vampire myth How to Live Forever is a compelling study which introduces students and professional philosophers to the possibilities of using science fiction in their work It includes extensive suggestions for further reading both fictional and philosophical and examines the work of such major science fiction authors as Arthur C Clarke Frank Herbert Larry Niven William Gibson and Colin Wilson

The Routledge Companion to Cyberpunk Culture Anna McFarlane, Lars Schmeink, Graham Murphy, 2019-11-28 In this companion an international range of contributors examine the cultural formation of cyberpunk from micro level analyses of example texts to macro level debates of movements providing readers with snapshots of cyberpunk culture and also cyberpunk as culture With technology seamlessly integrated into our lives and our selves and social systems veering towards globalization and corporatization cyberpunk has become a ubiquitous cultural formation that dominates our twenty first century techno digital landscapes The Routledge Companion to Cyberpunk Culture traces cyberpunk through its historical developments as a literary science fiction form to its spread into other media such as comics film television and video games Moreover seeing cyberpunk as a general cultural practice the Companion provides insights into photography music fashion and activism Cyberpunk as the chapters presented here argue is integrated with other critical theoretical tenets of our times such as posthumanism the Anthropocene animality and empire And lastly cyberpunk is a vehicle that lends itself to the rise of new futurisms occupying a variety of positions in our regionally diverse reality and thus linking as much as differentiating our perspectives on a globalized technoscientific world With original entries that engage cyberpunk's diverse angles and its proliferation in our life worlds this critical reference will be of significant interest to humanities students and scholars of media cultural studies literature and beyond
