S. Hornby, 2002 Oxford Advanced Learner's Dictionary 10th Edition Oxford Editor, 2023-06-24 English monolingual learners' dictionaries John D. Battenburg, 2017-12-04 Lexicographica Series Maior features monographs and edited volumes on the topics of lexicography and meta lexicography Works from the broader domain of lexicology are also included provided they strengthen the theoretical methodological and empirical basis of lexicography and meta lexicography The almost 150 books published in the series since its founding in 1984 clearly reflect the main themes and developments of the field The publications focus on aspects of lexicography such as micro and macrostructure typology history of the discipline and application oriented lexicographical documentation Chinese Lexical Semantics Peng Jin, Qi Su, Jia-Fei Hong, 2025-03-26 The two volume set LNAI 15552 and 15553 constitutes the refereed post conference proceedings of the 25th Workshop on Chinese Lexical Semantics CLSW 2024 held in Xiamen China during May 31 June 2 2024 The 64 revised full papers presented in these proceedings were carefully reviewed and selected from 226 submissions The papers are organized in the following topical sections Part I Lexical Semantics Part II Computational Linguistics and Natural Language Processing Corpus Linguistics and Language Resources and General Linguistics Using Online Dictionaries Carolin Müller-Spitzer, 2014-08-22 Until now there has been very little research into the use of online dictionaries In contrast the market for online dictionaries is increasing both for academic lexicography and for commercial lexicography with sales figures for printed reference works in continual decline This has led to a demand for reliable empirical information on how online dictionaries are actually being used and how they could be made more user friendly The volume Using Online Dictionaries makes a substantial contribution to closing this research gap It is divided into four parts The first part contains articles on fundamental issues a research review of the empirical studies on digital dictionaries which have already been carried out and a brief methodological guideline for lexicographical researchers who are interested in conducting their own empirical research The second part contains the results of two studies that focus on general questions about the use of online dictionaries It presents empirical data on contexts of dictionary use on expectations and demands regarding online dictionaries Furthermore innovative features such as the use of multimedia elements or the option of a user adaptive interface and questions of design were assessed empirically The third part of this volume comprises more specific studies of online dictionaries an eye tracking study evaluating the new web design of the dictionary portal OWID and a log file study which tries to get to the bottom of the following question Do dictionary users look up frequent words or put differently is there a connection between how often a word is looked up and how often it appears in a corpus In the last chapter of this thematic section the question of how users judge the combination of a written paraphrase and an additional illustration in illustrated online dictionaries is addressed The last part focuses on the use of monolingual dictionaries in particular the German online dictionary eleXiko In this context two online questionnaire based studies were carried out The empirical studies were conducted in the form of online surveys combining questionnaires and experimental elements and in the form of laboratory studies using eye tracking technology as well as using observational methods such as log file analyses Regarding the comprehensive research framework this volume can be relevant to lexicographers metalexicographers and linguists who are interested in the use of online dictionaries and in the development and exploration of lexicographical data for the internet as well as linguists interested in empirical methods It addresses a broad expert audience by presenting an academic subject which is currently the focus of much discussion

Dictionary Look-up Strategies and the Bilingualised Learner's Dictionary Jenny Thumb, 2016-04-11 The research has provided insights into the area of look up behaviour in particular look up strategies A coding scheme of 51 executive cognitive and metacognitive operations has been derived from the think aloud data On the basis of the codes seven types of strategies were identified Ignoring Assuming Minimizing Checking Paraphrasing Stretching and Maximizing The results also indicated that the look up strategies preferred one part either L1 translation equivalents or L2 definitions rather than both parts L1 translation equivalents and L2 definitions of the bilingualised entries Four other factors i.e. language preference language proficiency target words and L2 definitions could also influence the use of the bilingualised entries in various degrees Learners were shown to have common as well as different patterns of strategy use Most learners attempted a variety of strategies while one learner repeatedly utilized one type of strategy The frequency of strategy use for individual learners usually fluctuated when different types of strategies were used Although a wide variety of strategies were used not every strategy was used frequently The most frequently used strategy was maximizing which was used in 112 look ups out of a total of 264 It appears that the learners repeatedly used strategies they are familiar with or they think are effective and do not spontaneously try other strategies that they may know and that may be effective

Translation and Bilingual Dictionaries Chan Sin-wai, 2013-02-06 Is the bilingual dictionary really the translator's best friend Or is it the case that all translators hate all dictionaries The truth probably lies half way It is difficult to verify anyway as the literature on the subject is limited not helped by the fact that Lexicography and Translation have stood apart for decades despite their commonality of purpose Here is a volume based on the proceedings of a successful conference at Hong Kong that may at last provide some answers

To Define and Inform Saihong Li Rasmussen, 2010-05-11 To Inform and Define An Analysis of Information Provided in Dictionaries Used by Learners of English in China and Denmark presents a masterly synthesis of lexicographical theory in relation to bilingual and learner's dictionaries and advances a radical argument about how such dictionaries are used and how they should be improved for the convenience of students By tracing the history of the terms semantic and pragmatic in linguistics and philosophy Saihong Li shows the weakness of any conceptual distinction between them She goes on to demonstrate how inappropriate these terms are for thinking about the ways in which words are defined and explained in dictionaries The theoretical argument is supported by detailed and comparative empirical research learners of English as a second language in both China and Denmark were interviewed about their experiences as users of standard learner s dictionaries The results are presented in tabular form and their interpretation is statistically informed This is a path breaking study Saihong Li makes an important contribution to lexicographical theory and advances a sophisticated methodology for the comparative study of English language leaning on an international scale and in the global marketplace of learner s dictionaries Her work will be of great value for language teachers lexicographers and students of interpretation translation and language pedagogies To Inform and Define should also attract serious attention from editors and publishers of learner s dictionaries
