Caselli, Jacques Vallin, Guillaume Wunsch, 2006-01-03 This four volume collection of over 140 original chapters covers virtually everything of interest to demographers sociologists and others Over 100 authors present population subjects in ways that provoke thinking and lead to the creation of new perspectives not just facts and equations to be memorized The articles follow a theory methods applications approach and so offer a kind of one stop shop that is well suited for students and professors who need non technical summaries such as political scientists public affairs specialists and others Unlike shorter handbooks Demography Analysis and Synthesis offers a long overdue thorough treatment of the field Choosing the analytical method that fits the data and the situation requires insights that the authors and editors of Demography Analysis and Synthesis have explored and developed This extended examination of demographic tools not only seeks to explain the analytical tools themselves but also the relationships between general population dynamics and their natural economic social political and cultural environments Limiting themselves to human populations only the authors and editors cover subjects that range from the core building blocks of population change fertility mortality and migration to the consequences of demographic changes in the biological and health fields population theories and doctrines observation systems and the teaching of demography The international perspectives brought to these subjects is vital for those who want an unbiased rounded overview of these complex multifaceted subjects Topics to be covered Population Dynamics and the Relationship Between Population Growth and Structure The Determinants of Fertility The Determinants of Mortality The Determinants of Migration Historical and Geographical Determinants of Population The Effects of Population on Health Economics Culture and the Environment Population Policies Data Collection Methods and Teaching about Population Studies All chapters share a common format Each chapter features several cross references to other chapters Tables charts and other non text features are widespread Each chapter contains at least 30 bibliographic citations Menopause Lynnette Leidy Sievert, 2006 Menopause is a biological reality for all women in their forties and fifties Yet the way we think about the cessation of menstruation is influenced by a variety of factors Cultural and technological influences combine with biology to transform this universal phenomenon into an experience that varies considerably between cultures and individuals In this concise book Lynnette Leidy Sievert draws on her own case studies from Puebla Mexico and western Massachusetts as well as on comparative data from other studies in places such as Slovenia Paraguay and Hawaii to explore the different ways that women experience menopause around the world Sievert suggests that attempts by medical professionals to define the normal occurrence of menopause including its typical onset and symptoms may not be realistic when considering how lifestyle nutrition and workload can contribute to diverging realities She explores how women feel about hysterectomies chemotherapy and other medical procedures and treatments that stop menstruation prematurely She also considers recent advances in technology including post menopausal birth which have turned what was previously an unavoidable end of fertility into something that can be postponed A unique comparative look at women s experiences this text brings new perspectives to the mainstream literature on the subject and invites readers to consider compelling questions about menopause its meanings and its future Wildlife Review ,1990 Drugs and Behavior Fred Leavitt, 1995 What are the effects of psychoactive drugs on aspects of human behaviour such as creativity memory and sexuality How effective are such drugs in treating mental disorders How are new drugs tested and licensed An intriguing introduction to the study of psychopharmacology this fully revised and updated edition of Drugs and Behavior presents a unique analysis of the ways in which human behaviour is affected by drugs rather than simply by categories of drugs The text covers the principles of neurotransmission pharmacokinetics and drug classification Issues of new drug development including drug dangers and benefits legalization and the prevention and treatment of drug abuse are also discussed Advances in the Study of Behavior ,1992-05-14 Advances in the Study of Behavior remains one of the most turned to sources for penetrating insight on the latest findings in behavior research This serial has kept pace with the vigorous multidisciplinary growth of the field and covers all major aspects from ecology to endocrinology in both human and animal subjects Critical reviews presentations of major research programs and communication of significant new concepts provide readers with an up to date overview of the latest developments in this field The series does not focus narrowly on one or a few fields but features articles covering the best behavioral work from a wide spectrum The skill and concepts of scientists in such diverse fields necessarily differ making the task of developing cooperation and communication among them a difficult one But it is one that is of great importance and one to which the editors and publisher of Advances in the Study of Behavior are committed Each volume of Advances in the Study of Behavior contains an index and each chapter includes references The Evolving Female Mary

Ellen Morbeck, Alison Galloway, Adrienne Zihlman, 1996-12-09 A human female is born lives her life and dies within the space of a few decades but the shape of her life has been strongly influenced by 50 million years of primate evolution and more than 100 million years of mammalian evolution How the individual female plays out the stages of her life from infancy through the reproductive period to old age and how these stages have been formed by a long evolutionary process is the theme of this collection Written by leading scholars in fields ranging from evolutionary biology to cultural anthropology these essays together examine what it means to be female integrating the life histories of marine mammals monkeys apes and humans The result is a fascinating inquiry into the similarities among the ways females of different species balance the need for survival with their role in reproduction and mothering The Evolving Female offers an outlook integrating life history with an intimate examination of female life paths Behavior anatomy and physiology growth and development cultural identity of women the individual and the society are among the topics investigated In addition to the editors the contributors are Linda Fedigan Kathryn Ono Joanne Reiter Barbara Smuts Mariko Hiraiwa Hasegawa Mary McDonald Pavelka Caroline Pond Robin McFarland Silvana Borgognini Tarli and Elena Repetto Gilda Morelli Patricia Draper Catherine Panter Brick Virginia J Vitzthum Alison Jolly and Beverly McLeod

Chemical Signals in Vertebrates 9 Anna Marchlewska-Koj, John J. Lepri, Dietland Müller-Schwarze, 2012-12-06 It is generally accepted that the recent progress in molecular and cellular biology would not have been possible without an understanding of the mechanisms and signaling pathways of communication inside the cell and between various cells of the animal organism In fact a similar progress occurred in the field of chemical communication between individual organisms of vertebrate species and this volume is aimed at presenting the current state of the art on this subject The reader can find here both original results obtained in the laboratory or field studies and comprehensive reviews summarizing many years of research The presentations of over 60 scientists have been grouped according to their approach into nine parts covering such fields as ecological and evolutionary aspects of chemical communication structure and neuronal mechanisms of chemosensory systems chemical structure of pheromones and binding proteins kin individual and sexual recognition predator prey relationships purpose and consequences of marking behavior scent signals and reproductive processes Expanding on former volumes of this series entirely new chapters have been added on prenatal chemical communication describing specific effects of the intrauterine environment In many cases a truly multidisciplinary approach was required such as with the population analysis of polymorphic variants of the mouse s major urinary proteins that function in carrying pheromones

Transgenic Fish Choy Leong Hew, Garth L Fletcher, 1992-06-16 Studies on transgenic fish in contrast to mammals are still in their infancy However it is evident that such fish will not only be of considerable economic benefit to aquaculture but will enable scientists to make quantum leaps in their understanding of the physiological and biochemical mechanisms unique to fish and of the developmental biology of vertebrates in general The potential of transgenic fish for research and industrial development is beginning to be widely recognized This timely volume encompasses the full spectrum of current research on transgenic fish It will be valuable to many scientists who intend to explore the merits of the technology for the first time
