Oxytocin In Maternal Sexual And Social Behaviors:

Oxytocin in Maternal, Sexual, and Social Behaviors Cort Pederson, Jack D. Caldwell, Thomas R. Insel, 1992

Endocrinology of Pregnancy Fuller W. Bazer, 2012-12-06 A comprehensive cutting edge review of the complex interactions between maternal and fetal/placental tissues that control the establishment and maintenance of pregnancy the proper development of the fetus the birth process and the behavioral aspects of bonding between mother and newborn Expert researchers review the endocrine and physiological events that culminate in the delivery of offspring and provide a solid base of comparative information on the menstrual cycle of primates including humans They also discuss the sources and functions of both steroid and protein hormones from the placenta and the details of their effects on uterine function placental development fetal growth and well being and maternal responses to pregnancy This book will become the standard reference source not only for reproductive scientists but also for those clinicians who want better to understand the complex factors that affect pregnancy and their pregnant patients

Parental Care: Evolution, Mechanisms, And Adaptive Significance, 1996-11-18 Advances in the Study of Behavior presents its first thematic volume focusing on the physiological and behavioral mechanisms underlying parental care The book discusses parental care both within and across taxa with coverage of invertebrates and early vertebrates fishes amphibians reptiles mammals birds and nonhuman primates A running theme throughout the chapters shows that parental care is anchored to the ecology reproductive physiology and embryonic development of a species Coverage also includes mechanisms of parental care including analysis of the stimuli that parents respond to and how parental care is initiated maintained and terminated Individual differences within species are also explored examining stable differences in maternal style how they arise and the consequences for both mother and infant

Aroused: The History of Hormones and How They Control Just About Everything Randi Hutter Epstein, 2018-06-26 A Science News Favorite Science Book of 2018 A sweeping glorious story of hormones threaded through with sex suffering neurology biology medicine and self discovery Siddhartha Mukherjee Metabolism behavior sleep mood swings the immune system fighting fleeing puberty and sex these are just a few of the things our bodies control with hormones Armed with a healthy dose of wit and curiosity medical journalist Randi Hutter Epstein reveals the invigorating history Nature of hormones and the age old quest to control them through the back rooms basements and labs where endocrinology began

Learning As Self-organization Karl H. Pribram, 2013-06-17 A year before his death B F Skinner wrote that There are two unavoidable gaps in any behavioral account one between the stimulating action of the environment and the response of the organism and one between consequences and the resulting change in behavior Only brain science can fill those gaps In doing so it completes the account it does not give a different account of the same thing This declaration ended the epoch of radical behaviorism to the extent that it was based on the doctrine of the empty organism the doctrine that a behavioral science must be constructed purely on its own level of investigation However Skinner was not completely correct in his assessment Brain science on its own can no more fill the gaps than can single level behavioral science It is the relation between data and formulations developed in the brain and the behavioral sciences that is needed This volume is the result of The Fourth Appalachian Conference on Behavioral Neurodynamics the first three of which were aimed at filling Skinner s first gap Taking the series in a new direction the aim of the fourth and subsequent conferences is to explore the second of the gaps in the behavioral account noted by Skinner The aim of this conference was to explore the aphorism The motivation for learning is self organization In keeping with this aim and in the spirit of previous events this conference s mission was to acquaint scientists working in one discipline with the work going on in other disciplines that is relevant to both As a result it brought together those who are making advances on the behavioral level mainly working in the tradition of operant conditioning and those working with brains mainly amygdala hippocampus and far frontal cortex
