Involvements of TRP Channels and Oxidative Stress in Pain Jose A. Pariente, Cristina Carrasco, Mustafa Naziroglu, Laszlo Pecze, 2018-10-05 Undoubtedly pain conditions the quality of life of millions of people worldwide suffering a wide range of diseases Major research efforts are being made by the international scientific community to determine the mechanisms underlying nociception Growing evidence points out a complex network including oxidative and nitrosative stress inflammatory response and cation signaling In this sense transient receptor potential TRP channels have attracted researchers attention Expression levels are very different in tissues and cells mediating a myriad of processes in our organism At the neurological level it has been observed that the expression levels of four TRP channels TRPA1 TRPM2 TRPV1 and TRPV4 are high in neurons related to nociception including dorsal root ganglion and trigeminal ganglia neurons For this reason this research field promises to shed light on this intricate matrix linking oxidative stress calcium signaling via TRP channels and inflammatory signals in different pain modalities including neuropathic pain and chemotherapy induced peripheral pain In such a way all this intense research activity will enable us to design individual and rational treatment strategies for pain relief such as the use of molecular neurosurgery

Rethinking Pain in Person-Centred Health Care Stephen Buetow, 2020-12-30 This book explores how person centred health care could be refined to help persons alleviate pain related distress and construct pain as a potentially positive experience Rethinking Pain in Person Centred Health Care is a fascinating contribution to the multidisciplinary literature on person centred health care pain and ethics Traditionally Western intellectual culture has downplayed the intuitive and emotional promoting instead rational natural scientific perspectives Applied to pain an instrumental approach promotes the immediate and effective relief of pain due to the widespread suffering and expense it can cause However different persons experience pain in different ways and Buetow moves beyond a commitment to eliminate pain to exploring how benefits of pain could include creating and managing meaning from pain Rather than always looking to put pain behind them persons may flourish by moving around pain through pain into pain and above pain Buetow argues that this model depends on adopting a person centred approach to health care focusing less on the condition of pain and more on mobilizing the persons who present with and manage pain This book will be of interest to professionals and academics researchers in the fields of psychology and psychiatry who have a special interest in people with persistent pain conditions It will also be an invaluable resource for physiotherapists chronic pain consultants in secondary care and GPs
