A Parent's Guide to Cystic Fibrosis Burton L. Shapiro, 1991

After the Worst Day Ever Duane R. Bidwell, 2024-03-19 For those who care for chronically ill children a new understanding of hope that equips adults to better nurture pediatric hope among sick kids articulated by the children themselves As anyone with a chronic illness knows hope can sometimes be hard to come by For parents and caregivers of children with serious illness there can be a real struggle to move beyond one's own grief fear and suffering to see what hope means for these kids Duane Bidwell a scholar minister and former hospital chaplain who has struggled with serious illness himself spent time with 48 chronically ill children in dialysis units and transplant clinics around the United States Chronically ill kids he found don't adhere to popular or scholarly understandings of hope They experience hope as a sense of well being in the present not a promise of future improvement an ability to set goals or the absence of illness and suffering With this mindset these kids suggest a new understanding of pediatric hope saying hope becomes concrete when they realize community claim power attend to Spirit choose trust and maintain identity Offering textured portraits of children with end stage kidney disease After the Worst Day Ever illustrates in their words how sick children experience maintain and turn toward hope even when illness cannot be cured and severely limits quality of life Their insights reveal how the adults in a sick child's world parents chaplains medical professionals teachers and others can nurture hope They also shift our understanding of hope from an internal resource located inside an individual to a shared communal experience that becomes a resource for individuals Rich and moving Bidwell's work helps us imagine anew what it means to sustain hope despite inescapable suffering and the limits of chronic illness
