Preparation Of Professional Evaluators Issues Perspectives And Programs

Thomas Schwandt

Preparation Of Professional Evaluators Issues Perspectives And Programs:

The Preparation of Professional Evaluators James W. Altschuld, Molly Engle, 1994 The skills and knowledge that evaluators need are wide and varied some are specific to evaluation others have been borrowed from other disciplines The certification of evaluators is a thorny issue to which there is no definitive answer but two possible approaches are discussed here A model for training programs based on the programs of professional schools is proposed for the training of evaluators Alternative approaches to a traditional full blown academic program include single course and nontraditional programs the latter often housed in government agencies

Accreditation, Certification, and Credentialing: Relevant Concerns for U.S. Evaluators James W. Altschuld, Molly Engle, 2015-03-18 This is the 145th issue in the New Directions for Evaluation series from Jossey Bass It is an official publication of the American Evaluation Association

International Handbook of Educational Evaluation T. Kellaghan, D.L. Stufflebeam, 2012-12-06 Thomas Kellaghan Educational Research Centre St Patrick's College Dublin Ireland Daniel L Stufflebeam The Evaluation Center Western Michigan University MI USA Lori A Wingate The Evaluation Center Western Michigan University MI USA Educational evaluation encompasses a wide array of activities including student assessment measurement testing program evaluation school personnel evaluation school accreditation and curriculum evaluation It occurs at all levels of education systems from the individual student evaluations carried out by class room teachers to evaluations of schools and districts to district wide program evaluations to national assessments to cross national comparisons of student achievement As in any area of scholarship and practice the field is constantly evolving as a result of advances in theory methodology and technology increasing globalization emerging needs and pressures and cross fertilization from other disciplines The beginning of a new century would seem an appropriate time to provide a portrait of the current state of the theory and practice of educational evaluation across the globe It is the purpose of this handbook to attempt to do this to sketch the international landscape of educational evaluation its conceptualizations practice methodology and background and the functions it serves The book's 43 chapters grouped in 10 sections provide detailed accounts of major components of the educational evaluation enterprise Together they provide a panoramic view of an evolving field

High Impact Internal Evaluation Richard C. Sonnichsen, 2000 Today rapidly changing organizations need the best tools for driving high performance meeting customer needs measuring outcomes and improving service delivery This book shows students and professional evaluators how to effectively use the tools of internal evaluation to determine a business or program's effectiveness efficiency economy and performance The author combines his extensive experience and theory into an indispensable resource for students novice internal evaluators experienced evaluation professionals and for managers responsible for evaluating their own programs

Evaluating Corporate Training: Models and Issues Stephen M. Brown, Constance J. Seidner, 2012-12-06 We are glad to have the opportunity to work together again in the planning and preparation of this edited volume on the evaluation of corporate training Our respective professional careers have provided us with experience in this area both as practitioners and as academicians It is from both of these perspectives that we approached the preparation of this volume Our purpose is to provide training professionals in business and industry and students of human resources development with an overview of current models and issues in educational evaluation The book is organized around three themes context models and issues The chapters in the context section are intended to provide the reader with an understanding of the social organizational and interpersonal factors that provide background and give meaning to evaluation practice The models section brings together contributions from some of the most influential thinkers and practitioners in the field The chapters in this section provide perspective on the dominant themes and emergent trends from individuals who have been and continue to be the drivers of those trends Contributions to the issues section highlight some pervasive themes as well as illuminate new areas of concern and interest that will affect how we assess learning interventions in the organizations of today and tomorrow

Evaluation of Science and Technology Education at the Dawn of a New Millennium James W. Altschuld, David D. Kumar, 2006-04-11 James Altschuld David Kumar and their chapter authors have produced an upbeat provocative visionary and useful volume on educational evaluation Of special utility is its grounding in issues and practices relating to evaluations of science and technology education The book should appeal and be useful to a wide range of persons involved in evaluations of educational policy programs and less so science teachers These persons include science and technology education experts educational policymakers officials of the National Science Foundation school administrators classroom teachers evaluation instructors evaluation methodologists practicing evaluators and test developers among others Contents reflecting international studies of curriculum evaluation of distance education and evaluation of technology utilization in Australian schools as well as evaluations in America should make the book appealing to an international audience Moreover it provides a global perspective for assessing and strengthening educational evaluation in the US Daniel L. Evaluation Foundations Revisited Thomas Schwandt, 2015-06-17 Evaluation examines policies and programs across every arena of human endeavor from efforts to stop the spread of HIV AIDS to programs that drive national science policy Relying on a vast array of methods from qualitative interviewing to econometrics it is a transdiscipline as opposed to a formal area of academic study Accounting for these challenges Evaluation Foundations Revisited offers an introduction for those seeking to better understand evaluation as a professional field While the acquisition of methods and methodologies to meet the needs of certain projects is important the foundation of evaluative practice rests on understanding complex issues to balance Evaluation Foundations Revisited is an invitation to examine the intellectual practical and philosophical nexus that lies at the heart of evaluation Thomas A Schwandt shows how to critically engage with the assumptions that underlie how evaluators define and position their work as well as how they argue for the usefulness of evaluation in society He looks at issues such as the role of theory how notions of value and valuing are understood how evidence is used how evaluation is related to politics and what comprises scientific integrity By coming to better understand the foundations of evaluation readers will develop what Schwandt terms a life of the mind of practice which enables evaluators to draw on a more holistic view to develop reasoned arguments and well fitted techniques
