Manufacturing Tales Gary Alan Fine, 1992 The mouse in the Coke bottle the promiscuous cheerleader the exploding Pop Rocks candy the Kentucky Fried Rat If the ballad and the fairy tale were the archetypal folklore forms of an earlier age such contemporary legends constitute the preferred narrative genre of the late twentieth century In Manufacturing Tales award winning folklorist Gary Alan Fine presents a major new theory of the creation and diffusion of contemporary legends in modern society While ballad and fairy tale arose in folk communities and spread through trade and migration contemporary legends thrive in societies crosscut by varied communication channels and relatively open networks By looking at the social structural background the performance context the personality of the teller and the content of the text we gain insight into the formation dissemination and disappearance of these modern legends Fine identifies sex and money as key themes in contemporary legends reflecting the public's disguised attempts to deal with major contemporary preoccupations From the AIDS crisis to fears of food contamination in restaurants popular anxieties are reflected in folklore As dramatic moving comic and involving texts contemporary legends build relationships among acquaintances and strangers as depictions of the world that we face every day they provide perspective on potential challenges and as shared information they elaborate a consensual understanding of reality

My Keller Boyfriend bearinggreen, In my 18 years of existence I Jace Keller Jarrington High's most popular kid has everything Not only I got the looks and built that makes the girls sweep off their feet I am also the Keller's sole heir to their billions Surely I am the fantasy of the girls and envy of the boys but I only want one thing I want the most gorgeous girl I ever laid my eyes on Silverwood High's official nerd I want her Only her And I have to get her at all cost

California Folklore Quarterly, 1980 Extremely Online Taylor Lorenz, 2023-10-03 A NATIONAL BESTSELLER Acclaimed Washington Post reporter Taylor Lorenz presents an enlightening history Associated Press of the internet revealing how online influence and the creators who amass it have reshaped our world online and off For over a decade Taylor Lorenz has been the authority on internet culture documenting its far reaching effects on all corners of our lives Her reporting is serious yet entertaining and illuminates deep truths about ourselves and the lives we create online In her debut book Extremely Online she reveals how online influence came to upend the world demolishing traditional barriers and creating whole new sectors of the economy Lorenz shows this phenomenon to be one of the most disruptive changes in modern capitalism By tracing how the internet has changed what we want and how we go about getting it Lorenz unearths how social platforms power users radically altered our expectations of content connection purchasing and power Lorenz documents how moms who started blogging were among the first to monetize their personal brands online how bored teens who began posting selfie videos reinvented fame as we know it and how young creators on TikTok are leveraging opportunities to opt out of the traditional career pipeline It's the real social history of the internet Emerging seemingly out of nowhere these shifts in how we use the internet seem easy to dismiss as fads However these social and economic transformations have resulted in a digital dynamic so unappreciated and insurgent that it ultimately created new approaches to work entertainment fame and ambition in the 21st century Extremely Online is the terrific The New York Times Book Review inside untold story of what we have done to the internet and what it has done to us The Times Index ,2013-02 Indexes the Times Sunday times and magazine Times literary supplement Times educational supplement Time educational supplement Scotland and the Times higher education supplement Vampire Cheerleaders in Space...and Time?!
