Edward Albee Barbara L. Horn, 2003-12-30 This volume documents the life and works of the acclaimed playwright Edward Albee. His first four plays were all produced Off Broadway from 1960-1961, creating buzz that he was an up and coming avant garde playwright. But his most notable accomplishment came a year later with his first full length play Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? His plays were linked with the philosophies of the European absurdists Beckett and Ionesco and the American traditional social criticism of Arthur Miller, Tennessee Williams, and Eugene O'Neill. Intended to serve as a quick reference guide and an exhaustive resource, this collection includes play synopses and critical overviews, production histories and credits, and locator suggestions on unpublished archival material and lists of texts/anthologies that have published Albee's material. The two secondary bibliographies contained within are fully annotated chronologically and alphabetically with the year of publication, presenting a fuller sense of Albee's playwriting career.

Among the Angels William L. Brown, 2013-05-14 At the age of 63, in August 2008, the author withdrew from the practice of law to go back to Kindergarten and observe his wife Karen commence her 33rd consecutive year teaching Kindergarten in Room 1 at Grover Beach Elementary School, and where, over the next three years until her retirement in June of 2011, he confirmed her beatific nature, the majesty of her teaching, and the beauty of the angels in her care. The one hundred and eighty-four stories in this book are a tribute to a magnificent teacher and her little angels.

WHERE ABRAHAM LINCOLN DIED In the week of and before Abraham Lincoln's birthday, Karen gave the angels a brief synopsis of the life and importance of Abraham Lincoln to help explain why he is so revered in American life and forever remembered by the glorious Lincoln Memorial and the national day of celebration to honor his birth. She told them about his childhood in a log cabin, his love of learning, reading by the flickering light of a candle, his prowess as a rail splitter, his exceptional ability as a lawyer, how he became president of the United States, how his leadership won the Civil War, how he freed the slaves, his indelible speeches at Gettysburg and at the second inaugural, and how he was killed just after the war had ended, shot by John Wilkes Booth at Ford's Theatre in Washington, DC. Immediately after Karen finished, an inattentive angel asked, "Is he still alive?" Another angel spontaneously responded, "He died at the movies."

Honor Bound is the result of a fruitful collaboration between Stuart I. Rochester and Frederick Kiley. In examining the lives of the prisoners in captivity, it presents a vivid, sensitive, sometimes excruciating account of how men sought to cope with the physical and psychological torment of imprisonment under wretched and shameful conditions. It includes insightful analyses of the circumstances and conditions of captivity and its varying effects on the prisoners, the strategies and tactics of captors, and captives, the differences between captivity in North and South Vietnam and between Laos and Vietnam, and analysis of
