Hogsette, 2019-11-05 The second edition of Writing That Makes Sense takes students through the fundamentals of the writing process and explores the basic steps of critical thinking Drawing upon over twenty years of experience teaching college composition and professional writing David S Hogsette combines relevant writing pedagogy and practical assignments with the basics of critical thinking to provide students with step by step guides for successful academic writing in a variety of rhetorical modes New in the second edition Expanded discussion of how to write effective thesis statements for informative persuasive evaluative and synthesis essays including helpful thesis statement templates Extensive templates introducing students to conventions of academic discourse including integrating outside sources interacting with other writers ideas and dialoguing with multiple perspectives Examples of academic writing from different disciplines illustrating essay titles abstracts thesis statements introductions conclusions and voice Expanded discussion of voice in academic writing including an exploration of active and passive voice constructions in different disciplines and tips on how to edit for clarity A new chapter on writing in the disciplines Updated sample student papers New readings with examples of opposing views and multiple perspectives Early Modern Women's Writing and the Rhetoric of Modesty P. propose a new rhetoric for new media work Author Jeff Rice returns to critical moments during the rebirth of composition studies when the discipline chose not to emphasize technology cultural studies and visual writing which are now fundamental to composition studies Rice redefines these moments in order to invent a new electronic practice The Rhetoric of Cool addresses the disciplinary claim that composition studies underwent a rebirth in 1963 At that time three writers reviewed technology cultural studies and visual writing outside composition studies and independently used the word cool to describe each position Starting from these three positions Rice focuses on chora appropriation commutation juxtaposition nonlinearity and imagery rhetorical gestures conducive to new media work to construct the rhetoric of cool An innovative work that approaches computers and writing issues from historical critical theoretical and practical perspectives The Rhetoric of Cool challenges current understandings of writing and new media and proposes a rhetorical rather than an instrumental response for teaching writing in new media contexts
