Zealand and in the island Pacific including Tonga Fiji Samoa and the Cook Islands Of Love and War aims to illuminate the impact of global war on these women their families and Pacific societies Wanhalla argues that Pacific war brides are an important though largely neglected cohort whose experiences of U S military occupation expand our understanding of global war By examining the effects of American law on the marital opportunities of couples their ability to reunite in the immediate postwar years and the citizenship status of any children born of wartime relationships Wanhalla makes a significant contribution to a flourishing scholarship concerned with the intersections between race gender sexuality and militarization in the World War II era

In Love and War: Kiwi soldiers' romantic encounters Susan Jacobs,2012-04-26 When New Zealand forces arrived in Italy following the 1943 Armistice with the Allied forces it was inevitable they would mingle with the local population The Italians opened their homes and hearts to the New Zealand soldiers who delighted in finding young Italian signorinas everywhere In Love and War tells of the liaisons and love affairs of New Zealand soldiers and their Italian sweethearts during World War Two For some the result was marriage leading to a new and often strained life for the Italian war brides on the other side of the world For others their wartime romance ended in heartbreaking separation when the Kiwi soldiers were posted elsewhere or returned home Unknowingly some left behind children who would grow up without ever meeting their natural fathers While the New Zealand commanding officers did their very best to curtail fraternisation between Kiwi soldiers and the civilian population for servicemen starved of female company relationships were easy to fall into These touching stories of their romantic wartime encounters reveal the human side of war
