Women's Memory D. Fatma Türe, Fatma Türe, 2011-07-12 Women's archives appear to have been largely disregarded until the last couple of decades. Most countries lack well documented archives and the question of methodology has become a common concern and ever more significant for researchers. Aiming to contribute to the growing efforts of developing women's archives, the present book brings together the works of numerous researchers from various disciplines. The researchers contributed to this volume in order to share information and experiences about the problems of sources and archives in women's studies. The articles in the book not only analyse the problems encountered by researchers in the field of women's studies but also examine perceptions of women in collective memories. The book comprises five parts: Women's Archives and Women's Libraries, Art, Literature and Journal, Letters and Petitions, Oral History and Cinema. All the articles present fresh ideas on the collective memory, perceptions, experiences and the collection of documents on women. The aim is to present discussions about the works of oral, written and visual culture that constitute the collective memory and to form accessible archives on an international level, thereby opening up new areas of research on this subject.
