

My Autobiography

I am Adrian Carl V. Dumat-ol. I am currently studying at Lanao del Norte Comprehensive High School. I'm working on an autobiographical essay about a life event that motivates me to study harder. I am writing about my experience when I found out that I have half siblings. That incident had a huge impact on me.

It all happened one summer day in 2011 when I was still 6 years old. At that time, I had no idea that I had a half sibling. One day, my father told me to go with him because we were going to visit my aunt. While we were traveling, my father told me that there was something that I needed to know, and he never told me that it was all about my half-siblings. When we arrived at my aunt's house, I noticed my big sister, and at that time, I didn't know she was my half sibling. All I knew is that we have the same mother, which is not.

While we were talking, father revealed a family secret to me that I had not known since I was born. That is, my older sister and I are not purely siblings because we had different mothers. I didn't believe them at first, but as I looked into their eyes, they seemed very serious. My half-sister spoke to me, and she confirmed everything our father had said, and she reassured me that even though we have different mothers, we are still siblings. I feel better and relieved after we talk.

Several years have passed, and my half siblings are changing the way they treat us. So I keep my distance and stop contacting them. They asked our father why I was not contacting them. Back then, I was the one who was going to chat with them first or contact them. They confronted me about why I was avoiding them, and I told them that they were the first ones who changed the way they treated us.

One day, my half siblings start making rumors that because of my mother, our father is starting to lose money, which is not true. So I was stunned by what they said. I asked them why they started to spread rumors about my mother. They made a lot of excuses and now we are still on bad terms.

Even though many problems happen, I need to stay strong and not be affected by what happened. I need to respect my elders, even if they have done bad things to me. Do not put your faith in all of their promises because there is a chance they will break them. Always choose good deeds because of all of the things you have done, God will always watch you.

Schuster, 2003-01-30 Throughout the ages philosophers have examined their own lives in an attempt both to find some meaning and to explain the roots of their philosophical perspectives This volume is an introduction to philosophical autobiography a rich but hitherto ignored literary genre that questions the self its social context and existence in general The author analyzes representative narratives from antiquity to postmodernity focusing in particular on three case studies the autobiographies of St Augustine Rousseau and Sartre Through the study of these exemplary texts philosophical reflection on the self emerges as a valid alternative to Freudian psychoanalysis and as a way of promoting self renewal and change

Telling Lies in Modern American Autobiography Timothy Dow Adams, 2017-10-10 All autobiographers are unreliable narrators Yet what a writer chooses to misrepresent is as telling perhaps even more so as what really happened Timothy Adams believes that autobiography is an attempt to reconcile one's life with one's self and he argues in this book that autobiography should not be taken as historically accurate but as metaphorically authentic Adams focuses on five modern American writers whose autobiographies are particularly complex because of apparent lies that permeate them In examining their stories Adams shows that lying in autobiography especially literary autobiography is not simply inevitable Rather it is often a deliberate highly strategic decision on the author's part Throughout his analysis Adams's standard is not literal accuracy but personal authenticity He attempts to resolve some of the paradoxes of recent autobiographical theory by looking at the classic question of design and truth in autobiography from the underside with a focus on lying rather than truth Originally published in 1990 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

Closer to the Truth Than Any Fact Jennifer Jensen Wallach, 2010-02-25 Although historians frequently use memoirs as source material too often they confine such usage to the anecdotal and there is little methodological literature regarding the genre's possibilities and limitations This study articulates an approach to using memoirs as instruments of historical understanding Jennifer Jensen Wallach applies these principles to a body of memoirs about life in the American South during Jim Crow segregation including works by Zora Neale Hurston Willie Morris Lillian Smith Henry Louis Gates Jr William Alexander Percy and Richard Wright Wallach argues that the field of autobiography studies which is currently dominated by literary critics needs a new theoretical framework that allows historians too to benefit from the interpretation of life writing Her most provocative claim is that due to the aesthetic power of literary language skilled creative writers are uniquely positioned to capture the complexities of another time and another place Through techniques such as metaphor and irony memoirists collectively give their readers an empathetic understanding of life during the era of segregation Although these reminiscences bear certain similarities it becomes clear that the South as it was remembered by each is hardly the same place
