Overcoming Obstacles In Environmental Policymaking:

Overcoming Obstacles in Environmental Policymaking John K. Gamman, 1994-12-05 This book examines why policies and laws intended to protect the environment often do not work In particular Gamman addresses the fundamental reasons why efforts to protect natural resources in the developing world generally fail He describes why environmental initiatives originating in national governments international foreign assistance agencies and environmental groups suffer from a dysfunctional decision making process And he suggests how to improve environmental policymaking by creating partnerships for sustainable development showing how to do this with a step by step negotiation process Explorations in Environmental Political Theory Joel Jay Kassiola, 2015-03-04 The contributors to this volume focus on the political and value issues that in their shared view underlie the global environmental crisis facing us today They argue that only by transforming our dominant values social institutions and way of living can we avoid ecological disaster Environmental and Natural Resources Economics Steven Hackett, Sahan T. M. Dissanayake, 2019-07-23 This new edition of Environmental and Natural Resources Economics provides an accessible yet rigorous treatment of the subject including the economics of sustainability The new edition has been updated extensively throughout A new chapter has been added on fisheries economics and policy and the chapter on global climate change has been substantially rewritten to incorporate new scientific information and evolving public policy Many new figures and tables have been added and the glossary has also been expanded Readers will appreciate the balanced and accessible coverage and the integration of economics with science and public policy Environmental and Natural Resources Economics Steven C. Hackett, 2010-12-23 Extensively revised and updated this popular text presents an accessible yet rigorous treatment of environmental and natural resources economics including climate change and the economics of sustainability Completely revised and updated the fourth edition now includes new figures and tables definitions to assist the reader and updated policy information New advances in the science economics and policy approaches to climate change have been integrated into essentially all new chapters on incentive regulation and global climate change This innovative textbook integrates economics with science and public policy in a balanced and accessible way that will be appreciated by students from disciplines ranging from economics and natural resources management to environmental studies and energy policy Debating Environmental Regimes Patrick

Hayden, 2002 A consistently high profile issue oversight of earth s resources and environment is important to all people The debate rages pitting the needs of business against the desires of environmentalists Although numerous summits have occurred to formulate international policy on this topic a solution has proven elusive This book compiles a selection of articles studying the implications of such summits and the importance of environmental regulation in general

Market-based Instruments for Environmental Policymaking in Latin America and the Caribbean Richard M. Huber, H. Jack Ruitenbeek, Ronaldo Seroa da Motta, 1998 To preserve the environment with the lowest possible cost to the social sector means that private costs should be aligned with social costs Many governments in the Latin American and Caribbean Region are doing this now using market based instruments MBIs This publication investigates the use of MBIs in the Latin America and the Caribbean LAC context The investigation covers a sample of eleven countries in the region and a cross section of environmental issues in an urban setting

Partnering for the Environment Eric C. Poncelet, 2004-02-10 Environmental policy domains are increasingly adopting strategies of cooperation over those of conflict Decision making processes founded upon collaboration and public participation are receiving more attention and favor and in turn engendering multistakeholder environmental partnerships In his thoughtful analysis Eric C Poncelet seeks to illuminate the mechanics of these partnerships especially at the level of social interaction Drawing on ethnographic research performed with four case study partnerships in the European Union and the United States Poncelet focuses on the diverging ways that stakeholders think talk and conventionally act with regard to the environmental issues at stake Also explored are the roles of environmental partnerships as sites of personal transformation where participants and their perspectives conceptualizations and expectations can and do change Partnering for the Environment concludes by examining the broader implications of multistakeholder partnerships for the future of environmental decision making and suggests ways by which these partnerships may be more effectively used and managed

Environmental Assessment for Sustainable Development Pierre André, Claude E. Delisle, Jean-Pierre Revéret, 2004 Participatory Planning in the Caribbean: Lessons from Practice Robert Potter, Jonathan Pugh, 2018-05-08 This title was first published in 2003 Until recently planning and development in the Caribbean have been top down centre out and expert led For a few years now though the region has bowed to the global trend and has experimented with participatory planning methods Participatory planning is heralded by much of the development community as the most appropriate alternative strategy to the traditional approaches In this volume a range of experts drawn from the Caribbean the United Kingdom and the United States review the current achievements and future prospects for genuinely participative planning in the Caribbean region at the beginning of the 21st Century Bringing together a wide range of case studies from both the insular Caribbean as well as mainland Central and South America the book examines issues such as protected area planning sustainable development councils gender and development inner city redevelopment and community empowerment

Staking Out the Terrain Jeanne Nienaber Clarke, Daniel McCool, 1996-07-03 This new edition provides a current and comprehensive analysis of some key federal agencies that manage natural resources the Army Corps of Engineers the U S Forest Service the National Park Service the Natural Resources Conservation Service formerly the Soil Conservation Service the U S Fish and Wildlife Service the Bureau of Reclamation and the Bureau of Land Management Although the book s framework remains unchanged the chapters have been revised and updated with over 50 percent new material and more emphasis has been placed on the centrality of the budget process for policymaking Staking Out the Terrain offers a wealth of historical detail as well as an analysis of current policy conflicts over natural resource management In addition to examining current trends in water and land management Clarke and McCool put forward an innovative proposal to reshape federal natural resource administration for the twenty first century

Reinventing Eden Carolyn Merchant, 2013 Visionary quests to return to the Garden of Eden have shaped Western culture from Columbus voyages to today s tropical island retreats Few narratives are so powerful and as Carolyn Merchant shows so misguided and destructive as the dream of recapturing a lost paradise A sweeping account of these quixotic endeavors by one of America s leading environmentalists Reinventing Eden traces the idea of rebuilding the primeval garden from its origins to its latest incarnations in shopping malls theme parks and gated communities With eloquence and insight Merchant shows how the drive to conquer nature and to explore and settle the globe springs from this utopian pastoral impulse throughout Western history Time and again human manipulation of the environment is our downfall

Eden is achieved by fencing off pristine beauty in national parks and wildlife preserves while leaving the majority of the earth in ruins Challenging both narratives Merchant argues that the green veneer of city park conservation has become a cover for the corruption of the earth and the neglect of its environment Reinventing Eden is a bold new way to think about the earth that includes green political parties sustainable development and a partnership between humans and earth that is nothing short of an ecological revolution Comparative Analyses of Canadian and American Environmental Policy ,1999
