Oxford Scene ,2017      The Architecture of James Stirling and His Partners James Gowan and Michael Wilford
Geoffrey Howard Baker,2011 Sir James Stirling was one of the greatest British architects of the twentieth century This book provides a comprehensive critical survey of Stirling s work charting the development of his ideas over four turbulent architectural decades Using archival material analytical examination of key buildings and extensive interviews with Stirling s partners the book sheds new light on Stirling s philosophy working method and design strategy and the atelier structure of his office      Oxford Scene ,1994      Oxford Scene Chris Andrews,David Huelin,2020-02-10      Catalogue of Books Relating to Architecture Boston Public Library,1914      Street Scenes Esther Romeyn,2008 Street Scenes focuses on the intersection of modern city life and stage performance From street life and slumming to vaudeville and early cinema to Yiddish theatre and blackface comedy Romeyn discloses racial comedy passing and masquerade as gestures of cultural translation      The City and the Moving Image R. Koeck,L. Roberts,2015-12-30 This edited collection explores the relationship between urban space architecture and the moving image Drawing on interdisciplinary approaches to film and moving image practices the book explores the recent developments in research on film and urban landscapes pointing towards new theoretical and methodological frameworks for discussion      Subject Index of the Modern Works Added to the Library of the British Museum in the Years 1881-1900 British Museum. Department of Printed Books,1903      The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, Science, and Art ,1866      Modernism, Space and the City Andrew Thacker,2019-01-22 This innovative text examines the development of modernist writing in four European cities London Paris Berlin and Vienna      Scott's Monthly Magazine ,1866      Scenes from the Suburbs Timotheus Vermeulen,2014-04-08 This book looks again at the filmic and televised spaces we think we know so well How are these spaces built up What is it that makes us recognize them as suburbs How do they function Vermeulen uses Desperate Housewives The Simpsons King of the Hill Happiness Pleasantville Brick and Chumscrubber to explore these questions      The Centennial Anniversary of the City of Hamilton, Ohio, September 17-19, 1891 David Waddle McClung,1892      Maria Spilsbury (1776?820) Charlotte Yeldham,2017-07-05 Maria Spilsbury Taylor 1776 1820 lived and worked in London and Ireland and was patronized by the Prince Regent A painter of portraits genre scenes biblical subjects and large crowd compositions an unusual feature in women s art of this period she is represented in major museums and art galleries as well as in numerous private collections Her work hitherto considered on a purely decorative level merits closer attention For the first time this volume argues the relevance of Spilsbury s religious background and in particular her evangelical and Moravian connections to the interpretation of her art and examines her pervasive and often inovert references to the Bible hymnody and religious writing The art that emerges is distinctly Protestant and evangelical offering a vivid illustration of the mood of patriotic Protestant fervour that characterized the quarter century succeeding the French revolution This focus may be situated in the general context of increasing interest in the religious faith of historical actors men and women in the eighteenth century and in the related contexts of growing acknowledgement of a religious aspect to enlightenment art as well as investigations into Protestant culture in Ireland The book is extensively illustrated and contains a list of all of Spilsbury's known works TRAC 2015 Matthew J. Mandich, Sergio Gonzalez Sanchez, Giacommo Savani, Eleonora Zampieri, Thomas J. Derrick, 2016-05-16 The 2015 TRAC proceedings feature a selection of 14 papers summing up some of the key sessions presented at the conference held at the University of Leicester in March 2015 which drew over 180 delegates of 17 nationalities from a variety of universities museums and research institutions in the UK Europe and North America As this conference marked the 25th anniversary of TRAC the volume opens with a preface commemorating the last 25 years with an eye toward the future direction of both conference and community The proceedings begin with Dr Andrew Gardner's keynote paper on the topic of Debating Roman Imperialism Critique Construct Repeat This is followed by an array of papers with topics ranging in geographic scope and period from small finds in early Roman Britain to bathing practices Late Antique North Africa and from the investigation of deviant burials to the application of urban scaling theory in Roman contexts Because of this diversity the volume is not broken into specific sections however papers with similar themes are grouped accordingly allowing the text to flow and be read as a whole The range of contributing authors is also of note as papers were submitted by PhD students post doctoral researchers and university faculty all helping to make the 25th anniversary of this series one that continues to emphasis and reflect the aims of TRAC both as a conference and as a conduit for exploring more theory driven approaches to the Roman past Catalog of the Avery Memorial Architectural Library of Columbia University. 2d Ed., Enl Avery Library, 1968 The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman, Angela Hull, 2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data driven cross disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies     The Eclectic Magazine John Holmes Agnew, Walter Hilliard Bidwell, 1866

Conceiving the City Nicholas Freeman, 2007-09-20 Conceiving the City is an innovative study of the ways in which a generation of late Victorian novelists poets painters and theoreticians attempted to represent London in literature and art Breaking away from the language and style of Dickens and the static panorama paintings of William Powell Frith major figures such as Henry James and J M Whistler and crucially less celebrated authors such as Arthur Machen Edwin Pugh and George Egerton bent realism into exciting new shapes In the naturalism of George Gissing and Arthur Morrison the fragmentary impressions of Ford Madox Ford and the brooding mystery of Alvin Langdon Coburn s photogravures London emerged as a focus for dynamic explicitly modern art Although many of these insights would be dismissed or at least downplayed by subsequent generations the ideas evolved during the period from 1870 to 1914 anticipate not only the work of high modernists such as Eliot and Woolf but also that of later urban theorists such as Foucault and de Certeau and the novels and travelogues of contemporary London writers Peter Ackroyd and Iain Sinclair Nicholas Freeman recovers a sense of late Victorian London as a subject for dynamic theoretical and aesthetic experiments and shows in stimulating analyses of Conan Doyle H G Wells Arthur Symons and others how much of our understanding of urban space we owe to eminent and not so eminent Victorian figures Written in a clear and accessible style the book restores a much needed historical perspective to our engagement with the metropolis     Imitation and Contamination of the Classics in the Comedies of Ben Jonson Tom Harrison, 2022-10-12 This book focuses on the influence of classical authors on Ben Jonson s dramaturgy with particular emphasis on the Greek and Roman playwrights and satirists It illuminates the interdependence of the aspects of Jonson s creative personality by considering how classical performance elements including the Aristophanic Great Idea chorus Terentian Plautine performative strategies and performative elements from literary satire manifest themselves in the structuring and staging of his plays This fascinating exploration contributes to the performative turn in early modern studies by reframing Jonson s classicism as essential to his dramaturgy as well as his erudition The book is also a case study for how the early modern education system s emphasis on imitative contaminative practices prepared its students many of whom became professional playwrights for writing for a theatre that had a similar emphasis on recycling and recombining performative tropes and structures
