The Study of Children in Religions Susan B. Ridgely, 2011-09 Research in religious studies has traditionally focused on adult subjects since working with children presents significantly more challenges to the researcher such as getting the research protocol passed by the Internal Review Board obtaining permission from parents and schools and figuring out how to make sense of young worldviews The Study of Children in Religions provides scholars with a comprehensive source to assist them in addressing many of the issues that often stop researchers from pursuing projects involving children This handbook offers a broad range of methodological and conceptual models for scholars interested in conducting work with children It not only illuminates some of the legal and ethical issues involved in working with youth and provides guidance in getting IRB approval but also presents specific case studies from scholars who have engaged in child centred research and here offer the fruits of their experience Cases include those that use interviews and drawings to work with children in contemporary settings as well as more historically focused endeavours to use material culture such as Sunday school projects or religious board games to study children's religious lives in past eras The Study of Children in Religions offers concrete help to those who wish to conduct research on children and religion but are unsure of how to get started or how to frame their research Contributors Priscilla Alderson Sally Anderson Jennifer Beste Chris Boyatzis Ann Braude Pia Christensen Cindy Dell Clark Amy Holmes Tagchungdarpa Moira Hinderer Zohreh Kermani Ruqayya Khan Phillipa Koch Kristy Nabhan Warren Rebecca Sachs Norris Sarah Pike Susan B Ridgely E Burke Rochford Jr and Diane Wolf Susan B Ridgely is Assistant Professor at University of Wisconsin at Oshkosh and the author of When I Was a Child Children's Interpretations of First Communion

T&T Clark Handbook of Children in the Bible and the Biblical World Sharon Betsworth, Julie Faith Parker, 2019-05-16 This ground breaking volume examines the presentation and role of children in the ancient world and specifically in ancient Jewish and Christian texts With carefully commissioned chapters that follow chronological and canonical progression a sequential reading of this book enables deeper appreciation of how understandings of children change over time Divided into four sections this handbook first offers an overview of key methodological approaches employed in the study of children in the biblical world and the texts at hand Three further sections examine crucial texts in which children or discussions of childhood are featured presented along chronological lines with sections on the Old Testament Hebrew Bible the Intertestamental Literature and the New Testament and Early Christian Apocrypha Relevant not only to biblical studies but also cross disciplinary scholars interested in children in antiquity Creating Religious Childhoods in Anglo-World and British Colonial Contexts, 1800-1950 Hugh Morrison, Mary Clare Martin, 2017-01-20 Drawing on examples from British world expressions of Christianity this collection further greater understanding of religion as a critical element of modern children s and young people s history It builds on emerging scholarship that challenges the view that religion had a solely negative impact on nineteenth and twentieth century children or that secularization is the only lens to apply to childhood and religion Putting forth the argument that religion was an abiding influence among British world children throughout the nineteenth and most of the twentieth centuries this volume places religion at the center of analysis and discussion At the same time it positions the religious factor within a broader social and cultural framework The essays focus on the historical contexts in which religion was formative for children in various British settings denoted as Anglo or colonial during the nineteenth and early to mid twentieth centuries These contexts include mission fields churches families Sunday schools camps schools and youth movements Together they are treated as sites in which religion contributed to identity formation albeit in different ways relating to such factors as gender race disability and denomination The contributors develop this subject for childhoods that were experienced largely but not exclusively outside the metropole in a diversity of geographical settings By extending the geographic range even within the British world it provides a more rounded perspective on children s global engagement with religion Protestant missionary children's lives, c.1870-1950 Hugh Morrison, 2024-03-05 Protestant missionary children were uniquely empire citizens through their experiences of living in empire and in religiously formed contexts This book examines their lives through the related lenses of parental institutional and child narratives To do so it draws on histories of childhood and of emotions using a range of sources including oral history It argues that missionary children were doubly shaped by parents concerns and institutional policy responses At the same time children saw their own lives as both ordinary and complicated Literary representations boosted adult narratives Empire provided a complex space in which these children navigated their way between the expectations of two if not three different cultures The focus is on a range of settings and on the early twentieth century Therefore the book offers a complex and comparative picture of missionary children s lives Teaching Humanities in Primary Schools Pat Hoodless, Elaine McCreery, Paul Bowen, Sue Bermingham, 2009-09-10 This book supports primary trainees in their learning and teaching approach to the core humanities subjects geography history and religion It promotes an integrated approach to these subject areas and encourages trainees to reflect on the links between subjects across the curriculum from the Early Years Foundation Stage through to Key Stage 2 This edition has been updated to incorporate the revised Professional Standards for the Award of QTS and addresses key initiatives such as Excellence and Enjoyment Every Child Matters and the Primary National Strategy for Literacy and Mathematics Sourcebook of the World's Religions Joel
