, The History of Blacks in Canada George H. Junne, 2003-03-30 This fascinating bibliography of source materials clearly demonstrates the significant roles blacks have played in the history and culture of Canada from its beginnings as well as their 400 year fight for equity and justice Organized by area of endeavor and by province the source materials detailed here reveal that blacks in Canada have created a rich diverse and complex legacy This volume lists resources that point to blacks history as soldiers prospectors educators cowboys homesteaders entertainers legislators athletes artists servants and writers The most comprehensive bibliography about blacks in Canada that has been published it is well organized to facilitate locating specific topics or people spanning black history Also included are newspapers and videos that add their own unique contribution Academicians researchers students and interested lay people will find an organized compilation of a vast number of primary and secondary sources about blacks in Canada Odysseys Home George Elliott Clarke, 2017-06-22 Odysseys Home Mapping African Canadian Literature is a pioneering study of African Canadian literary creativity laying the groundwork for future scholarly work in the field Based on extensive excavations of archives and texts this challenging passage through twelve essays presents a history of the literature and examines its debt to and synthesis with oral cultures George Elliott Clarke identifies African Canadian literature s distinguishing characteristics argues for its relevance to both African Diasporic Black and Canadian Studies and critiques several of its key creators and texts Scholarly and sophisticated the survey cites and interprets the works of several major African Canadian writers including Andr Alexis Dionne Brand Austin Clarke Claire Harris and M Nourbese Philip In so doing Clarke demonstrates that African Canadian writers and critics explore the tensions that exist between notions of universalism and black nationalism liberalism and conservatism These tensions are revealed in the literature in what Clarke argues to be paradoxically uniquely Canadian and proudly apart from a mainstream national identity Clarke has unearthed vital but previously unconsidered authors and charted the relationship between African Canadian literature and that of Africa African America and the Caribbean In addition to the essays Clarke has assembled a seminal and expansive bibliography of texts literature and criticism from both English and French Canada This important resource will inevitably challenge and change future academic consideration of African Canadian literature and its place in the international literary map of the African Diaspora Contemporary French Poetics Michael Bishop, Christopher Elson, 2002 This book finds its origin partly in the International Colloquium on French and Francophone Literature in the 1990 s at Dalhousie University September 1998 number of the papers since reworked take their place here alongside other studies subsequently invited They form a broad and varying focused set of cogent and pertinent appraisals of very recent French and francophone poetic practice and its shifting becoming conceptual underpinnings The Imaginary: Word and Image, 2015-05-19 The imaginary as a critical concept originated in the twentieth century and has been theorized in diverse ways It can be understood as a register of thought the way we interpret the world the universe of images signs texts and objects of thought In this volume it is explored as it manifests itself in encounters between the verbal and the visual A number of the essays brought together here explore the transposition of the imaginary in illustrations of texts and verbal renditions of images as well as in comic books based on paintings or on verbal narratives Others analyze ways in which books deal with film or television and investigate the imaginary in digital media Special attention is paid to the imaginary of places and the relationship of the imaginary with memory Written in English and French these contributions by European and American scholars demonstrate the various concerns and approaches characteristic of contemporary scholarship in word and image studies Politics, Culture and the Lebanese Diaspora Nathalie Nahas,Paul

Tabar,2010-07-12 This book is a collection of essays that were originally presented at a conference at the Lebanese American University in late May 2007 entitled Politics Culture and the Lebanese Diaspora It looks at various facets of the Lebanese Diaspora and examines the politics and culture of Lebanese migrants and their descendants in different parts of the world while detailing the communal national and transnational elements of these practices and exploring the changing characteristics of politics and culture in respect to migration Diaspora and globalization The essays raise questions about the in compatible and interpenetrating relationships between these dynamics and analyze processes of identity formation as cultural manifestations of migratory politics The book is divided into three main sections The first section deals with issues of identity and multiculturalism among Lebanese emigrants concluding that identities are continuously molded and negotiated in the diaspora It examines the formation of identities among second and third generation migrants and the changing conceptions of the meaning of roots and homelands The second section deals with politics and activism in the Diaspora It looks at how diasporas relate to the political processes in their homelands during post conflict resolution and explores the role of Lebanese migrants abroad in the process of peace building back home The third part deals with the Diaspora in literature and media through the assessment of key writings on the explorations of self of the Lebanese abroad drawing on how symbols of identification and conventions of representation become sites of conflict over time The wide variety of perspectives presented in these papers invite us to challenge the notion of a fixed bounded and rigid homeland and identity and move towards one that is more nomadic and fluid They call us to pay attention to the symbols used in the cultural construction of both homelands and identities in the country of immigration and to think of the complex ways in which transnational politics affect the homeland and are in turn affected by it The Reception of Laurence Sterne in Europe

Peter de Voogd,John Neubauer,2008-12-22 A comprehensive volume of international research on the European reception of Laurence Sterne Michaël Ferrier, Transnational Novelist: French Without Borders Akane Kawakami,2023-11-15

Michaël Ferrier is a prize winning novelist essayist and academic whose cosmopolitan life he grew up in Chad and France has Mauritian roots and lives in Japan has inspired him to write some fascinating novels that cross generic and geographical boundaries This book is the first ever monograph dedicated to his works which explore themes as various as an African childhood notions of Frenchness inter identities and post Fukushima life in Japan Hybridity is key to his themes forms and genres which include as befits a twenty first century author a website called Tokyo Time Table and discussed in this study Kawakami uses an eclectic range of frameworks to analyse Ferrier s output ranging from translingualism to Environmental Humanities and Ferrier s own vision of his oeuvre which he discloses for the first time in this book in the interview that he grants Kawakami This interview first published in this volume is rich in insights into Ferrier s views on dreams Japan the internet and collaborating with other artists This book is an indispensable guide to an author who is one of the rising stars of contemporary French and Francophone literature and a unique voice that crosses all kinds of borders across the globe
