The Control of Corporate Europe Fabrizio Barca, Marco Becht, 2001-11-15 Written by an international team of authors this book provides the first systematic account of the control of corporate Europe based on voting block data disclosed in accordance with the European Union's Large Holdings Directive 88/627/EEC The study provides detailed information on the voting control of companies listed on the official markets in Austria Belgium France Germany Italy the Netherlands Spain Sweden the United Kingdom and as a benchmark comparison the United States The authors record a high concentration of control of corporations in many European countries with single blockholders frequently controlling more than fifty per cent of corporate votes In contrast a majority of UK listed companies have no blockholder owning more than ten per cent of shares and a majority of US listed companies have no blockholder with more than six per cent of shares Those chapters devoted to individual countries illustrate how blockholders can use legal devices to leverage their voting power over their cash flow rights or how incumbents prevent outsiders from gaining voting control It is shown that the cultural and linguistic diversity of Europe is almost matched by its variety of corporate control arrangements Statutory Rules and Orders Other Than Those of a Local, Personal Or Temporary Character (varies Slightly).
