Penelope Bungles To Broome:

Penelope Bungles to Broome Tim Bowden, 2002 A follow up to Tim Bowden's Penelope Goes West this time covering the intriguing adventures of Tim Ros Penelope the car and The Manor the caravan as they travel across the grandeur and spectacle of Broome the Kimberleys and various points south and west Bowden's fascination with rarely seen Aboriginal rock art is a major theme in his continuing love affair with Australia On their journey Tim and wife Ros explore the Kimberley by land and sea where dramatic 12 metre tides guard coastal locations unchanged by time still as 17th century buccaneer William Dampier first described them For three months Tim and Ros and their trusty four wheel drive Penelope travelled from the improbably sculptured Bungle Bungles to the Pilbara and the wildflower filled Mid West

Roads, Tourism and Cultural History Rosemary Kerr, 2018-12-20 Roads and road tourism loom large in the Australian imagination as distance and mobility have shaped the nation's history and culture but roads are more than simply transport routes they embody multiple layers of history mythology and symbolism Drawing on Australian travel writing diaries and manuscripts tourism literature fiction poetry and feature films this book explores how Australians have experienced and imagined roads and road touring beyond urban settings from Aboriginal songlines to modern day road trips It also tells the stories of iconic roads including the Birdsville Track Stuart Highway and Great Ocean Road and suggests alternative approaches to heritage and tourism interpretation of these important routes The ongoing impact of the colonial past on Indigenous peoples and contemporary Australian society and culture including representations of the road and road travel is explored throughout the book The volume offers a new way of thinking about roads and road tourism as important strands in a nation's cultural fabric

Cultural and Heritage Tourism in Asia and the Pacific Bruce Prideaux, Dallen Timothy, Kaye Chon, 2013-09-13 The Asia Pacific region's enormous diversity of living cultures and preserved heritage sites has significant appeal to many tourists However tourism has grown so rapidly that many issues associated with the incorporation of cultural and heritage experiences in tourist itineraries such as authenticity versus commodification exploitation of national cultures impacts on local communities and the management of heritage resources have not been adequately addressed and must be debated This revealing book reviews recent developments in cultural and heritage tourism in the Asia Pacific region and provides a discussion on how communities have faced and overcome significant challenges to develop and market their culture and heritage resources A range of models and case studies are used to deepen the reader's understanding of heritage and cultural issues to illustrate many of the more controversial issues and to examine new evaluative and planning tools This book is a special issue of the Asia Pacific Journal of Tourism Research
