Bernard Quaritch (Firm),1912 A True Child of Papua New Guinea Maggie Wilson,2019-05-08 Maggie Wilson was born in the highlands of Papua New Guinea to Melka Amp Jara a woman of the highlands and Patrick Leahy brother of Australian explorers Michael and Daniel Leahy who were among the first Australian explorers to encounter people in the Highlands of Papua New Guinea during an expedition in search for gold Maggie s life serves as a window into the complex social and cultural transformations experienced during the early years of the Australian administration in Papua New Guinea and the first three decades after independence This ethnography started as an autobiography and completed by Rosita Henry after Maggie s death in 2009 tells Maggie s story and the stories of those whose lives she touched Their recollections of Maggie Wilson offer insights into life in Papua New Guinea today Papua New Guinea Newsletter Papua New Guinea. Office of Information,1978 Of Humans, Pigs, and Souls Jadran Mimica,2021-02-26 For the Yagwoia Angan people of Papua New Guinea womba is a malignant power with the potential to afflict any soul with cravings for pig meat and human flesh Drawing on long term research among the Yagwoia and in an analysis informed by phenomenology and psychoanalysis Jadran Mimica explores the womba complex in its local cultural existential determinations and regional permutations He attends to the lived experience of this complex in relation to the wider context of mortuary practices feasting historical cannibalism and sorcery His account of womba illuminates the moral meanings of Yagwoia selfhood and associated senses of subjectivity and agency Mimica concludes by reflecting on the recent escalation of concerns with witchcraft and sorcery in Papua New Guinea specifically in relation to a new wave of Christian evangelism occurring in partnership with the state Corporate Social Responsibility and Natural Resource Conflict Kylie McKenna,2015-10-23 This book examines the possibilities and limitations of corporate social responsibility in minimising the violent conflict often associated with natural resource exploitation Through detailed and penetrating empirical analysis the author skilfully asks why previous corporate social responsibility practices have not always achieved their aims This theme is explored though an analysis of two of the most complex and protracted conflicts linked to natural resources in the Asia Pacific region Bougainville Papua New Guinea and West Papua Indonesia Drawing on first hand accounts of corporate executives and communities affected by resource conflict this book documents the translation of global corporate social responsibility into local peace Covering topics as diverse as post colonialism law revenue distribution security the environment and customary reconciliation this ambitious text reveals how and why current corporate social responsibility initiatives may be unable to assist extractive companies avoid social conflict The study concludes that this is attributable to the failure of extractive companies to respond to the social and environmental issues of most concern to local host communities The idea is that extractive companies could actively contribute to peace building if they were to engage with the interdependencies between business activity and the root causes of conflict What sets this book apart is that it offers a holistic framework for extractive companies to engage with the complexity of resource conflict Interdependent Engagement is an integrated model of corporate social responsibility that encourages extractive companies to deal with the underlying causes of resource conflict rather than applying solutions or critiques of their symptoms Globalization and Papua New Guinea: Ancient Wilderness, Paradise, Introduced Terror and Hell Falk Huettmann, 2023-04-26 This book aims to present a reality view for Papua New Guinea based on many years of first hand field work and research accounts It further assesses sustainability in the light of 47 000 years of a self sustained type of civilization without bad global impacts This book contrasts the modern sustainable development failures from the colonial times onwards as promoted by the western world namely Australia the UK EU and the U S as well as Japan and now China in times of globalization Trump ism and royal governance Papua New Guinea is still part of the British Dominion and of the Antarctic Treaty etc This assessment and book is the first of its kind also employing modern data analysis Landscape Ecology principles patterns and processes telecoupling and Geographic Information Systems GIS with Open Access data focusing on ecological economics marxism socialism and contrasting it with current capitalism and neoliberalism that Papua New Guinea is fully exposed to Throughout the 31 book chapters various aspects are covered how a further insistence on the new Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and so called Development Aid will result in unwanted side effects and perverse outcomes for Papua New Guinea and for the world in times of wider global change and unprecedented man made crisis Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress, 1973 Beginning with 1953 entries for Motion pictures and filmstrips Music and phonorecords form separate parts of the Library of Congress catalogue Entries for Maps and atlases were issued separately 1953 1955 Name, Shame and Blame Christine Stewart, 2014-12-02 Papua New Guinea is one of the many former British Commonwealth colonies which maintain the criminalisation of the sexual activities of two groups despite the fact that the sex takes place between consenting adults in private sellers of sex and males who have sex with males The English common law system was imposed on the colonies with little regard for the social regulation and belief systems of the colonised and in most instances was retained and developed post Independence regardless of the infringements of human rights involved Now the HIV pandemic has thrown a spotlight not altogether welcome on the sexual activities of these two groups In Papua New Guinea a growing body of behavioural research has focused on such matters as individual sexual partnering condom use and awareness of HIV My work however has a different purpose I chose the terms in the title to highlight a nexus which I believe exists between the criminal law and negative attitudes of society At an international level the argument has been put that decriminalising sex work and sodomy will facilitate HIV epidemic management reducing the stigma and discrimination these groups encounter and making them easier to reach I undertook my research therefore with the aim of gaining deeper understanding of the effects the current situation of criminalisation might have on the social lives of these criminalised people today in the country generally and in Port Moresby the capital in particular and whether these effects might provide evidence to support the argument for law reform This is a rich and well researched study of the legal social and moral issues surrounding the criminalisation of two forms of consensual sex A very impressive piece of work it is extensively documented relies on a wide range of material and makes a clear and coherent argument about the place of law in producing identities and exclusions The attention to change over time and the complexity of the ways in which sexual behaviour is enacted and punished is a particular strength of the book Professor Sally Engle Merry Anthropology Law and Society New York University This book is an exceptional contribution to our knowledge of the nexus between the criminal law and negative attitudes of society and what effects criminalization has on the social lives of prostitutes and males who have sex with males and whether these effects might provide evidence to support the argument for law reform The author s experience of Papua New Guinea allows her to comment in depth on such matters as the United Nations human rights approach to the HIV epidemic and their call to decriminalize all sexual acts between consenting adults She shows that criminal laws with the help of the normative discourse of religion and media underpin and legitimize high levels of stigma discrimination and abuse of prostitutes and males who have sex with males The quality of the writing and general presentation are exceptional Laura Zimmer Tamakoshi Truman State University retired National Geographic Image Collection National Geographic,2012 Behind National Geographic lies one of the most extensive valuable and unique graphic resources on Earth the National Geographic Image Collection The book by the same name now in small format lets readers plumb the fascinating depths of this immense archive

Living Kinship in the Pacific Christina Toren, Simonne Pauwels,2015-04-01 Unaisi Nabobo Baba observed that for the various peoples of the Pacific kinship is generally understood as knowledge that counts It is with this observation that this volume begins and it continues with a straightforward objective to provide case studies of Pacific kinship In doing so contributors share an understanding of kinship as a lived and living dimension of contemporary human lives in an area where deep historical links provide for close and useful comparison The ethnographic focus is on transformation and continuity over time in Fiji Tonga and Samoa with the addition of three instructive cases from Tokelau Papua New Guinea and Taiwan The book ends with an account of how kinship is constituted in day to day ritual and ritualized behavior American Universities and Colleges ,2014-10-08 No detailed description available for American Universities and Colleges The New Port Moresby Ceridwen Spark,2020-07-31 The New Port Moresby Gender Space and Belonging in Urban Papua New Guinea explores the ways in which educated professional women experience living in Port Moresby the burgeoning capital of Papua New Guinea Drawing on postcolonial and feminist scholarship the book adds to an emerging literature on cities in the Global South as sites of oppression but also resistance aspiration and activism Taking an intersectional feminist approach the book draws on a decade of research conducted among the educated professional women of Port Moresby offering unique insight into class transitions and the perspectives of this small but significant cohort The New Port Moresby expands the scope of research and writing about gendered experiences in Port Moresby moving beyond the idea that the city is an exclusively hostile place for women Without discounting the problems of uneven development the author argues that the city's new places offer women a degree of freedom and autonomy in a city predominantly characterized by fear and restriction In doing so it offers an ethnographically rich perspective on the interaction between the global and the local and what this might mean for feminism and the advancement of equity in the Pacific and beyond The New Port Moresby will find an audience among anthropologists particularly those interested in the urban Pacific feminist geographers committed to expanding research to include cities in the Global South and development theorists interested in understanding the roles played by educated elites in less economically developed contexts There have been few ethnographic monographs about Port Moresby and those that do exist have tended to marginalize or ignore gender Yet as feminist geographers make clear women and men are positioned differently in the world and their relationship to the places in which they live is also different The book has no predecessors and stands alone in the Pacific as an account of this kind As such The New Port Moresby should be read by scholars and students of diverse disciplines interested in urbanization gender and the Pacific
