Preschool Screening Identifying Young Children With Developmental And Educational Problems:

Preschool Screening Robert Lichtenstein, William Lichtenstein, Robert Ireton, 1984 The Psychoeducational Assessment of Preschool Children Bruce A. Bracken, 2004-09-15 First published in 2004 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Research Issues in Learning Disabilities Sharon Vaughn, Candace S. Bos, 2012-12-06 In this chapter we described issues in conducting intervention research with students with learning disabilities on the secondary level We maintained that interventions should be well grounded in theories of learning as well as characterizations of learning disabilities Pressley Scruggs that they should first be conducted in a series of highly controlled laboratory like experiments to carefully assess the potential utility of the intervention and that if the intervention is successful in highly controlled settings it should then be evaluated in classroom applications We maintained that research designs should evolve as the research questions become more applied and that the results of laboratory research should be used to support the findings of classroom applications Finally we described several research designs that we have found useful in conducting classroom intervention research There is a great deal more to conducting intervention research of course than experimental or quasi experimental design Intervention strategies likely to be effective must be identified relevant literature must be reviewed experimental materials must be developed and cooperative schools teachers parents and students must be located Nevertheless inadequate research designs can invalidate the best and most successful efforts in all of these areas while effective and practical research designs can do much to document the best practices and advance our knowledge of effective interventions with students with learning disabilities References Brigham F J Scruggs T E Mastropieri M A 1992

Developmental Screening in Early Childhood Samuel J. Meisels, 1989 Identifying and Serving Young Children at Risk for Educational Failure Paula Anne Nania, 1988 Preschool Assessment Marla R. Brassard, Ann E. Boehm, 2011-06-08 Comprehensive and user friendly this ideal professional reference and graduate text provides a developmentally informed framework for assessing 3 to 6 year olds in accordance with current best practices and IDEA 2004 guidelines The authors are leading clinician researchers who take the reader step by step through selecting appropriate measures integrating data from a variety of sources and using the results to plan and evaluate effective interventions and learning experiences Coverage encompasses screening and assessment of cognitive linguistic emotional and behavioral difficulties including mental retardation and autism Case studies illustrate key facets of assessing diverse children and families appendices offer concise reviews of over 100 instruments Subtypes of Learning Disabilities Lynne V. Feagans, Elizabeth J. Short, Lynne Vernon-Feagans, Lynn J. Meltzer, 2012-11-12 Although experts agree that various types of learning disabilities do exist few attempts have been made to classify learning disabled children into subtypes The editors of this collection feel that the lack of subcategorization has frustrated previous research efforts to obtain a generalizable body of knowledge in the field To meet this critical need for definitive information this book presents basic reviews and theoretical approaches used to subtype learning disabled children ranging from a behavior genetics approach to a dimensional approach It also demonstrates actual research methods utilizing theoretical approaches

Neurodevelopmental Disabilities

Michael Shevell, 2009-08-24 Neurodevelopmental disabilities are a common problem in child health This book takes a comprehensive approach to addressing these often challenging clinical diagnoses In particular it focuses on the two most common of childhood neurodevelopmental disabilities global developmental delay and developmental language impairment It seeks to put forward our present conceptualization of these entities as well as their proper evaluation and assessment and diagnosis from a variety of perspectives It also provides details on our current understanding of the scientific basis of these disorders and their underlying causes Issues related to medical management rehabilitation and eventual outcomes are also addressed in a detailed way The book has wide appeal to those in paediatrics developmental paediatrics child neurology and paediatric rehabilitation Its geographic appeal includes both developed and developing nations as some chapters are devoted to the particular issues faced in underdeveloped countries The book's focus on both clinical and scientific aspects is invaluable in this field It also provides extensive information in a single source relating to often overlooked areas such as medical management rehabilitation public policy and ethics

Preschool Screening Robert Lichtenstein, Harry Ireton, 1984 Testing and evaluating children to see if they're ready for reading and school

Early Identification of Children at Risk R.N. Emde, W.K. Frankenburg, J. Sullivan, 2013-12-01 This volume contains contributions that are interdisciplinary and international The editors believe this is an especially timely and promising enterprise for both sources of diversity are needed for improving our abilities to identify the young child at risk and to prevent disability In terms of disciplines the volume brings together papers by health care providers such as pediatricians and public health nurses as well as educators and psychologists Each of these groups works in dissimilar settings and faces dissimilar problems Health care providers seek simple identification procedures for use in busy primary care settings psychologists emphasize well constructed research designs and educators reflect the need for early identification and education Each of these specialist groups has something to offer the other but too often each tends to limit its publications and readings to its own discipline thus failing to capitalize on a wider scope of knowledge and practice We hope that this selection of papers will allow all readers addressing the early identification of children at risk to generate a more integrated interdisciplinary perspective We also hope this volume reflects the sense of excitement that we feel from a sharing of international perspectives There is no single approach to the early identification of children at risk that is universally applicable to all countries In addition approaches within each country vary because of availability of financial and human resources and differing expectations of local communities
