Representing the Dead Helen J. Swift, 2016 An examination of how the dead were memorialised in late medieval French literature Awarded a commendation in the Society for French Studies R Gapper Book Prize for the best book published in 2016 by a scholar working in French studies in Britain or Ireland Who am I when I am dead Several late medieval French writers used literary representation of the dead as a springboard for exploring the nature of human being Death is a critical moment for identity definition one is remembered forgotten or worse misremembered Works in prose and verse by authors from Alain Chartier to Jean Bouchet record characters deaths but what distinguishes them as epitaph fictions is not their commemoration of the deceased so much as their interrogation of how by whom and to what purpose posthumous identity is constituted Far from rigidly memorialising the dead they exhibit a productive messiness in the processes by which identity is composed in the moment of its decomposition as a complex interplay between body voice and text The cemeteries hospitals temples and testaments of fifteenth and early sixteenth century literature from the Belle Dame sans mercy querelle to Le Jugement poetic de l honneur femenin present a wealth of ambulant corpses disembodied voices animated effigies martyrs for love and material echoes of the past which invite readers to approach epitaphic identity as a challenging question here lies who exactly In its broadest context this study casts fresh light on ideas of selfhood in medieval culture as well as on contemporary conceptions of the capacities and purposes of literary representation itself Helen Swift is Associate Professor of Medieval French at St Hilda s College Oxford

Bloom explores the motif of the wax figure in European and American literature and art In particular she connects the myth of Pygmalion to the obsession with wax statues of women in the nineteenth century fetishization of prostitutes and female corpses and as depicted in such wax fictions as Dickens's The Old Curiosity Shop 1841 Filmmakers too have sought inspiration from wax museums and Bloom analyzes works from the silent era to such waxwork themed Hollywood horror films as Mad Love 1935 and House of Wax 1953 Bringing her discussion to the present Bloom examines the work of contemporary artists who use the medium of wax in ways never imagined by Madame Tussaud As extravagant new wax museums open in Las Vegas Times Square and Paris Waxworks offers a provocative cultural history of this enduring and disturbing art form Religion
