British did not. Instead two years later Lloyd George's government declared that Palestine would be for the global Jewish community. He debunks the myth that Palestine was never part of the lands guaranteed to the Sharif and details the attempts of successive British governments to prevent the truth from ever becoming public. For anyone interested in the history of the Israel-Palestine conflict this is a must read.

The Longman Companion to European Nationalism 1789-1920 Raymond Pearson, 2014-09-25 A highly topical analysis of European Nationalism from the French Revolution through to the aftermath of the First World War when the nationalist issues and problems that dominate the political landscape of our own time were already fully established. Covering an enormous range of peoples from the Icelanders to the Gypsies from Brittany to Wallachia the book presents a wealth of historical geopolitical information unavailable elsewhere. Essential as a reference work it also provides a unique opportunity to survey systematically a crucial but fragmented subject in its full European context. For historians, political scientists, departments of European studies and general readers.

Britain, 1846-1964

Martin Roberts, 2001 The aim of this book is to explain how Britain's circumstances changed between 1846-1964. Britain in 1846 was by far the richest nation in the world. In 1964 Britain was comparatively much less rich than the USA and though amongst the world's richest nations was losing ground to Japan and to Western Europe. Because of her wealth and her navy Britain in 1846 was the most powerful nation in the world. Britain in 1964 was dwarfed by the superpowers of the USA and the USSR. The British Empire of the 1840s reflected Britain's power. By 1964 the Empire was collapsing. Only one in five men and no women could vote in the Britain of the 1840s. By 1964 Britain was fully democratic with all adults entitled to vote. In a period of a little over a century these were some of the changes to which Britain had to adapt. It was a period that marked a substantial fall in Britain's comparative power and prosperity in the world.
