

An aerial, sepia-toned photograph of a flooded landscape. The water is a light, hazy grey, covering most of the ground. Several dark, silhouetted trees are scattered throughout the scene. In the lower right, a cluster of houses with dark roofs is partially submerged. The overall mood is somber and desolate.

Before the first dawn ever broke the silence of creation there was Ra the self created light who rose from the primeval waters to define the boundary between existence and chaos To the ancient Egyptians each sunrise was not a metaphor but the literal rebirth of the universe a daily triumph of order over darkness This book reveals Ra as the conscious mind of the cosmos source of energy authority kingship and all that is illuminated Through his three divine forms Khepri at dawn Ra at noon and Atum at dusk he governs the eternal cycle of creation radiance and return His journey through the Duat each night fiercely battling the serpent Apophis embodies the hope that no darkness is final no death irreversible God Ra Lord of the Sun explores the theology ritual and cosmology of one of the most influential gods in human history From the sacred city of Heliopolis to the temples aligned precisely to capture his first rays Ra was the heartbeat of a civilization the structure of truth itself known as Ma at The pharaoh ruled only because the sun ruled and humanity lived only because the light returned Through vivid narrative and deep historical insight this book follows Ra s eternal voyage his emergence from the cosmic abyss his dominion over gods and kings and his promise of resurrection to every soul who dares follow the path of the morning sun
