Courts, 1854 Abducting a General Patrick Leigh Fermor, 2014-10-09 A daring behind enemy lines mission from the author of A Time of Gifts and The Broken Road who was once described by the BBC as a cross between Indiana Jones James Bond and Graham Greene Although a story often told this is the first time Patrick Leigh Fermor s own account of the kidnapping of General Kriepe has been published One of the greatest feats in Patrick Leigh Fermor s remarkable life was the kidnapping of General Kreipe the German commander in Crete on 26 April 1944 He and Captain Billy Moss hatched a daring plan to abduct the general while ensuring that no reprisals were taken against the Cretan population Dressed as German military police they stopped and took control of Kreipe s car drove through twenty two German checkpoints then succeeded in hiding from the German army before finally being picked up on a beach in the south of the island and transported to safety in Egypt on 14 May Abducting a General is Leigh Fermor s own account of the kidnap published for the first time Written in his inimitable prose and introduced by acclaimed Special Operations Executive historian Roderick Bailey it is a glorious first hand account of one of the great adventures of the Second World War Also included in this book are Leigh Fermor s intelligence reports sent from caves deep within Crete yet still retaining his remarkable prose skills which bring the immediacy of SOE operations vividly alive as well as the peril which the SOE and Resistance were operating under and a guide to the journey that Kreipe was taken on as seen in the 1957 film Ill Met by Moonlight starring Dirk Bogarde from the abandonment of his car to the embarkation site so that the modern visitor can relive this extraordinary event

Barton,1851 The England Coast Path Stephen Neale,2020-03-19 The opening of the England Coast Path means that anyone will be able to walk and wild camp along the entire 3 000 mile length of the English coast As well as being a remarkable national achievement in itself this new national trail is a hugely exciting prospect for all walkers campers fans of the coast and the outdoors In 2018 Stephen Neale became one of the first people to walk and wild camp along the whole of the path and in doing so has written a fantastically detailed and rich guidebook covering the route itself along with everything from the best places to swim hunt for fossils and eat seafood to hidden away beaches and canoeing spots The bulk of the book is divided up into the 16 coastal counties and features 1 000 places to see explore camp and adventure around the coast Each place has an OS map reference basic directions to it from the path and a short description Walkers can either visit specific places or link highlights together walking between them along the path The England Coast Path is a true embodiment of our national character at a time when all things English are so often seen in a negative light this is a wonderful success story Environmentalists volunteers social campaigners land owners and politicians have all come together to create a ninth wonder of the world This path represents what makes England so great a little bit mad a little bit proud but mostly a celebration of this nation s most precious asset the wild coast
