Roads To Success:

Roads to Success Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: Select Committee on Small and Medium Sized Enterprises, 2013-03-08 There are nearly 5 million SMEs in the UK and they have a crucial role to play if the UK is to achieve export led recovery Only a very small number of SMEs have been helped by UK Export Finance UKEF with only 21 receiving help from the agency up to August 2012 UKEF services need to be better promoted both to SMEs and banks who act as the gatekeeper to the scheme The Committee say that unless banks are prepared to take on some of the risks of lending to exporters then UKEF s programmes are dead in the water More generally the transition from loan decisions being made by local bank managers to a centralised process driven by formulae has weakened SME access to bank finance Local bank managers are much better placed to make informed decisions about loan applications from small local businesses SMEs must also do more to explore alternative sources of finance to invest in export efforts including non clearing banks equity funding and crowd sourcing and UK Trade and Industry UKTI must do more to raise awareness of these sources of alternative funding UKTI do a good job with companies they support but awareness of UKTI is low The Committee also consider the impact of the Bribery Act 2010 in deterring UK exporters They say the Act has led to confusion and uncertainty and call for detailed post legislative scrutiny of the Act ROAD TO SUCCESS Rev. The Road to Results

Linda G. Morra-Imas, Linda G. Morra, Ray C. Rist, 2009 The Road to Results Designing and Conducting Effective Development Evaluations presents concepts and procedures for evaluation in a development context. It provides procedures and examples on how to set up a monitoring and evaluation system, how to conduct participatory evaluations and do social mapping, and how to construct a rigorous quasi-experimental design to answer an impact question. The text begins with the context of development evaluation and how it arrived where it is today. It then discusses current issues driving development evaluation, such as the Millennium Development Goals and the move from simple project evaluations to the broader understandings of complex evaluations. The topics of implementing Results-based Measurement and Evaluation and constructing a Theory of Change are emphasized throughout the text. Next, the authors take the reader down the road to results, presenting procedures for evaluating projects, programs, and policies by using a Design Matrix to help map the process. This road includes determining the overall approach, formulating questions, selecting designs, developing data collection instruments, choosing a sampling strategy, and planning data analysis for qualitative, quantitative, and mixed method evaluations. The book also includes discussions on conducting complex evaluations, how to manage evaluations, how to present results, and ethical behavior, including principles, standards, and guidelines. The final chapter discusses the future of development evaluation. This comprehensive text is an essential tool for those involved in development evaluation. Two Roads to War Robin

Higham, 2012-06-15. Noted aviation historian Robin Higham has written this comparative study of the evolution of the French and British air arms from 1918 to 1940 to determine why the Armée de l'Air was defeated in June 1940 but the Royal Air Force was able to win the battle over Britain in September. After analyzing the structure, men, and matériel of the air arms and the government and economic infrastructure of both countries, he concludes that the French force was dominated by the Armée de Terre, had no suitably powerful aero engines, and suffered from the chaos of French politics. In contrast, the independent RAF evolved into a sophisticated, scientifically based force supported by consistent government practices. Higham's thorough examination, however, finds the British not without error.
