Landscapes of Memory and Experience

Jan Birksted, 2012-12-06 It has been argued that the history of landscape and of gardens has been marginalized from the mainstream of art history and visual studies because of a lack of engagement with the theories methods and concepts of these disciplines This book explores possible ways out of this impasse in such a way that landscape studies would become pivotal through its theoretical advances since landscape studies would challenge the underlying assumptions of traditional phenomenological theory Thus the history and theory of twentieth century landscape might not only once again share concepts and methods with contemporary art and design history but might in turn influence them A complementary sequel to Relating Architecture to Landscape this volume of essays explores further areas of interest and discussion in the landscape architecture debate and offers contributions from a team of well known researchers teachers and writers The choice of topics is wide ranging and features case studies of modern and contemporary schemes from the USA Far East and Australasia

One Place after Another Miwon Kwon, 2004-02-27 A critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s Site specific art emerged in the late 1960s in reaction to the growing commodification of art and the prevailing ideals of art's autonomy and universality Throughout the 1970s and 1980s as site specific art intersected with land art process art performance art conceptual art installation art institutional critique community based art and public art its creators insisted on the inseparability of the work and its context In recent years however the presumption of unrepeatability and immobility encapsulated in Richard Serra's famous dictum to remove the work is to destroy the work is being challenged by new models of site specificity and changes in institutional and market forces One Place after Another offers a critical history of site specific art since the late 1960s and a theoretical framework for examining the rhetoric of aesthetic vanguardism and political progressivism associated with its many permutations Informed by urban theory postmodernist criticism in art and architecture and debates concerning identity politics and the public sphere the book addresses the siting of art as more than an artistic problem It examines site specificity as a complex cipher of the unstable relationship between location and identity in the era of late capitalism The book addresses the work of among others John Ahearn Mark Dion Andrea Fraser Donald Judd Renee Green Suzanne Lacy Inigo Manglano Ovalle Richard Serra Mierle Laderman Ukeles and Fred Wilson

The Contingent Object of Contemporary Art Martha Buskirk, 2005-02-18 An exploration of transformations in the nature of the art object and artistic authorship in the last four decades In this book Martha Buskirk addresses the interesting fact that since the early 1960s almost anything can and has been called art Among other practices contemporary artists have employed mass produced elements impermanent materials and appropriated imagery have incorporated performance and video and have created works through instructions carried out by others Furthermore works of art that lack traditional signs of authenticity or permanence have been embraced by institutions long devoted to the original and the permanent Buskirk begins with questions of authorship raised by minimalists use of industrial materials and methods including competing claims of ownership and artistic authorship evident in conflicts over the right to fabricate artists works Examining recent examples of appropriation she finds precedents in pop art and the early twentieth century readymade and explores the intersection of contemporary artistic copying and the system of copyrights trademarks and brand names characteristic of other forms of commodity production She also investigates the ways that connections between work and context have transformed art and institutional conventions the impact of new materials on definitions of medium the role of the document as both primary and secondary object and the significance of conceptually oriented performance work for the intersection of photography and the human body in contemporary art Buskirk explores how artists active in the 1980s and 1990s have recombined strategies of the art of the 1960s and 1970s She also shows how the mechanisms through which art is presented shape not only readings of the work but the work itself She uses her discussion of the readymade and conceptual art to explore broader issues of authorship reproduction context and temporality

Hans Haacke. Ediz. Inglese Walter Grasskamp, Molly Nesbit, Jon Bird, 2004-06 An analysis of the vanguard artist's politically and formally trailblazing art Public Knowledge Michael Asher, 2019-10-15 Writings by the conceptual artist Michael Asher including notes proposals exhibition statements and letters to curators and critics most published here for the first time The California conceptual artist Michael Asher 1943 2012 was known for rigorous site specificity and pioneering institutional critique His decades of teaching at CalArts influenced generations of artists Much of Asher's artistic practice was devoted to creating works that had no lasting material presence and often responded to the material social or ideological context of a situation Because most of Asher's artworks have ceased to exist his writings about them have special significance Public Knowledge collects writings by Asher about his work including preliminary notes and ideas project proposals exhibition statements and letters to curators and critics most of which have never been previously published Asher gave few interviews didn't write art criticism and rarely published extensive accounts of his own work Yet writing was central to his artistic practice serving as a tool for working out ideas negotiating institutional parameters and describing thought processes In these texts he considers writing and documentation discusses artistic practice offers notes for gallery and museum talks presents artist statements for exhibition goers describes individual works and their situational context and reflects on teaching and art education Among other things Asher provides his definition of site specificity addresses the function of art in public space and analyzes the intersection of teaching art and institutional models of education Readers will see an artist at work formulating ethical and political strategies for making art in a situational world
