Shakespeare's Ocean Daniel Brayton, 2012

Study of the sea both in terms of human interaction with it and its literary representation has been largely ignored by ecocritics In Shakespeare s Ocean Dan Brayton foregrounds the maritime dimension of a writer whose plays and poems have had an enormous impact on literary notions of nature and in so doing plots a new course for ecocritical scholarship Shakespeare lived during a time of great expansion of geographical knowledge The world in which he imagined his plays was newly understood to be a sphere covered with water In vital readings of works ranging from The Comedy of Errors to the valedictory The Tempest Brayton demonstrates Shakespeare s remarkable conceptual mastery of the early modern maritime world and reveals a powerful benthic imagination at work Aquaman and the War Against Oceans Ryan Poll,2022-11

The reimagining of Aquaman in The New 52 transformed the character from a joke to an important figure of ecological justice In Aquaman and the War against Oceans Ryan Poll argues that in this twenty first century iteration Aquaman becomes an accessible figure for charting environmental violences endemic to global capitalism and for developing a progressive and popular ecological imagination Poll contends that The New 52 Aquaman should be read as an allegory that responds to the crises of the Anthropocene in which the oceans have become sites of warfare and mass death The Aquaman series which works to bridge the terrestrial and watery worlds can be understood as a form of comics activism by its visualizing and verbalizing how the oceans are beyond the projects of the human and humanism and simultaneously are all too human geographies that are inextricable from the violent structures of capitalism white supremacy and patriarchy The New 52 Aquaman Poll demonstrates proves an important form of ocean literacy in particular and ecological literacy more generally

Exploration and Science Michael Sean Reidy, Gary Kroll, Erik M. Conway, 2006-12-27 This comprehensive volume explores the intricate mutually dependent relationship between science and exploration how each has repeatedly built on the discoveries of the other and in the process opened new frontiers A simple question Which came first advances in navigation or successful voyages of discovery A complicated answer Both and neither For more than four centuries scientists and explorers have worked together sometimes intentionally and sometimes not in an ongoing symbiotic partnership When early explorers brought back exotic flora and fauna from newly discovered lands scientists were able to challenge ancient authorities for the first time As a result scientists not only invented new navigational tools to encourage exploration but also created a new approach to studying nature in which observations were more important than reason and authority The story of the relationship between science and exploration analyzed here for the first time is nothing less than the history of modern science and the expanding human universe

Wild Blue Media Melody Jue, 2020-02-28 In Wild Blue Media Melody Jue destabilizes terrestrial based ways of knowing and reorients our perception of the world by considering the ocean itself as a media environment a place where the weight and opacity of seawater transforms how information is created stored transmitted and perceived By recentring media theory on and under the sea Jue calls attention to the differences between perceptual environments and how we think within and through them as embodied observers In doing so she provides media studies with alternatives to familiar theoretical frameworks thereby challenging scholars to navigate unfamiliar oceanic conditions of orientation materiality and saturation Jue not only examines media about the ocean science fiction narratives documentary films ocean data visualizations animal communication methods and underwater art but reexamines media through the ocean submerging media theory underwater to estrange it from terrestrial habits of perception while reframing our understanding of mediation objectivity and metaphor
