Night Fighter Aces of the Luftwaffe 1940-43 Neil Page,Jean-Louis Roba,2025-01-31 During World War II the Luftwaffe s Nachtjagd evolved from chaos to effective night fighter units in response to RAF Bomber Command raids On 10 May 1940 the Wehrmacht launched its assault on the West One element of the West s response was the dispatch of RAF Bomber Command heavy bombers at night over German industrial centers These raids had only limited effectiveness but the inability of the Luftwaffe to chase down RAF bombers at night so annoyed Wolfgang Falck that it swiftly resulted in the creation of a credible night fighter force Initial trials had been flown with Bf 110s at dusk in Denmark in April and 1 Nachtjagd Division was founded in the summer of 1940 Its first few months were chaotic with constant reorganizations of units and reassignment of aircraft but soon enough the night fighter arm was achieving steady victories and losing crews at a similarly steady rate Despite the efforts of senior leadership the Nachtjagd constantly struggled to secure sufficient personnel or aircraft and would spend most of its life playing catch up its radar systems regularly outdone by RAF Bomber Command s jamming capabilities though the development of Schr ge Musik and Wilde Sau did give the Nachtjagd an edge The first specialist Luftwaffe night fighter the Heinkel He 219 would be trialled only in 1943 Fully illustrated this is a full chronological account of the night fighter units for the first part of World War II covering major campaigns the biographies of Luftwaffe Aces in the Battle of Britain Chris Goss, 2020-12-02. An extraordinary analysis of the scores chalked up by individual fighter pilots serving in the Luftwaffe during the Battle of Britain. So much detail. Books Monthly. The term fighter ace grew in prominence with the introduction and development of aerial combat in the First World War. The actual number of aerial victories required to officially qualify as an ace has varied but is usually considered to be five or more. For the Luftwaffe, a number of its fighter pilots, many of whom had fought with the Legion Condor in Spain, had already gained their Expert or ace status in the Battle of France. However, many more would achieve that status in the hectic dogfights over southern England and the Channel during the Battle of Britain in the summer of 1940. A number would also be either killed or captured. Some of these men, individuals such as Adolf Galland, Werner Molders, and Helmut Wick, who between them had claimed 147 aerial victories by October 31st, 1940, are well known, but most are less so. In this book, the story of each of the Luftwaffe's 204 Messerschmitt Bf 109 aces from the summer of 1940 is examined, with all of the individual biographies detailing individual fates during the war being highly illustrated throughout. Original German records from the summer of 1940 have been examined, providing a definitive list of each pilot's individual claims. It also covers, to a lesser extent, those forgotten fifty-three Messerschmitt Bf 110 pilots who also achieved ace status by day and also by night between 10 July and 31 October 1940. A fascinating book, indeed. UK Historian.
